Little Red Dot, The: Reflections By Singapore's Diplomats Tommy Koh, Li Lin Chang, 2005-07-27 2005 was the 40th anniversary of Singapore's independence. This collection of essays by Singapore's past and present diplomats tells the remarkable story of how this small and vulnerable country has become a stable, prosperous and respected member of the international community. The essays include those from the late President Wee Kim Wee and President S R Nathan as well as seminal contributions from the four former Foreign Ministers: Mr S Rajaratnam, Mr S Dhanabalan, Mr Wong Kan Seng and Professor S Jayakumar. The current Foreign Minister, Mr George Yeo, has written the foreword. The absorbing stories about people, places and international politics make this book a highly enjoyable read for all who are interested in Singapore's history and foreign policy. In the stories contained in this book, you will find and discover The Singapore Water Story

Cecilia Tortajada, Yugal Kishore Joshi, Asit K. Biswas, 2013-03-05 Singapore's journey during the past 45 years is an outstanding example that in spite of multiple hardships, pragmatic policies, clear visions, long-term planning, forward-looking strategies and political will, as well as a relentless urge to improve, can result in strong foundations for sustainable development. This book describes the journey of Singapore's development and the fundamental role that water has had in shaping it. What makes this case so unique is that the quest for self-sufficiency in terms of water availability in a fast-changing urban context has been crucial to the way development policies and agendas have been planned throughout the years. The authors analyse plans, policies, institutions, laws and regulations, water demand and water supply strategies, water quality and water conservation considerations, partnerships and importance of the media. They assess overall how all these issues have evolved in response to the dynamic needs of the city-state. The study of Singapore shows how a dynamic society can address development without losing its focus on the environment. In the city-state, environmental concerns in general and water concerns in particular have played a major role in its transformation from a third-world to a first-world country. How and why this transformation took place is the main focus of this authoritative book Chronicle of Singapore, 1959-2009

Peter H. L. Lim, 2009 This lavishly illustrated volume captures the entire dramatic sweep of Singapore's modern history from its declaration of independence in 1959 to today. Organised in chronological order with each year's coverage starting with a succinct summary of its key events, Chronicle of Singapore covers not only the nation's defining political and economic events but also the more human side of Singapore: sports, fashion, music, the arts, architecture and culture, giving readers the broadest possible coverage. Anyone who has visited or lived in this most unique of modern city-nations will be enthralled by this pictorial and narrative history Little Red Dot, The: Reflections By Singapore's Diplomats - Volume II Tommy Koh, Li Lin Chang, 2009-07-21 This is the sequel to the bestselling book The Little Red Dot published in 2005. While the first volume consisted of a collection of essays by Singapore's first and second generation diplomats, this second volume contains essays written by the third generation of young ambassadors. The Second Minister for Foreign Affairs, Mr Raymond Lim, has contributed the Foreword Written in an entertaining and accessible manner this book is a highly enjoyable read for all who are interested in Singapore current affairs and in the art and science of diplomacy It contains many inspiring stories which have not been told before Southeast Asian Affairs 2008 Daljit Singh,Tin Maung Maung Than,2008 Since its inception in 1974 Southeast Asian Affairs SEAA has been an indispensable annual reference for generations of policy makers scholars analysts journalists and others Succinctly written by regional and international experts SEAA illuminates significant issues and events of the previous year in each of the Southeast Asian nations and the region as a whole Southeast Asian Affairs 2008 provides an informed and readable analysis of the events and developments in the region in 2007 In the regional section the first two articles provide the political and economic overview of Southeast Asia They are followed by an article on Indias geopolitics and Southeast Asia and two articles on ASEAN Eleven country reviews as well as four country specific thematic chapters follow delving into domestic political economic security and social developments during 2007 and their implications for countries in the region and beyond Nationalism and Decolonisation in Singapore Thum Ping Tjin,2023-09-29 Nationalism and Decolonisation in Singapore analyses Singapore s decolonisation movement between 1953 and 1963 and provides a framework to understand the deepest and most important unresolved conflicts in Singaporean society This book demonstrates how these conflicts stem from four unresolved schisms dating from the decolonisation period race class language and the meaning of self determination The author argues that these schisms drove the events of decolonisation the creation of Malaysia and Singapore s separation and continue to actively shape Singapore today Using contemporary English and Chinese language sources from a wide array of perspectives as well as numerous declassified official documents this book provides a new approach to the most formative period of Singapore history It explains in detail the different ideologies institutions and conflicts which shaped Singaporean politics and society during decolonisation In particular the book focuses on the leaders of the main groups which most heavily influenced Singapore s anti colonial nationalism the Chinesespeaking the working class and left wing intellectuals It looks at Singapore in the context of global movements of nationalism socialism and decolonisation and provides a framework which can offer insight into similar attempts by postcolonial governments to construct new nation states from plural societies A novel study of Singapore s independence struggle that incorporates and analyses multiple linguistic socioeconomic and political viewpoints the book will be of interest to researchers of Southeast Asian history and politics and those interested in decolonisation nationalism identity and the politics of race class and language The Singapore and Melaka Straits Peter Borschberg,2010-01-01 The Singapore and Melaka Straits are a place where regional and long distance maritime trading networks converge linking Europe the Mediterranean eastern Africa the Arabian Peninsula and the Indian subcontinent with key centres of trade in Thailand Indochina insular Southeast Asia China Korea and Japan The first half of the 17th century brought heightened political commercial and diplomatic activity to this region It had long been clear to both the Portuguese and the Dutch that whoever controlled the waters off modern Singapore gained a firm grip on regional as well as long distance intra Asian trade By the early 1600s Portuguese power and prestige were waning and the arrival of the Dutch East India Company constituted a major threat Moreover the rapid expansion and growing power of the Acehnese Empire and rivalry between Johor and Aceh was creating a new context for European trade in Asia

East Asia Imperilled Alan Dupont,2001-10-15 Security issues have traditionally been defined in military terms yet the post Cold War security landscape contains numerous non military challenges to security In this 2001 analysis Alan Dupont argues that an emerging new class of non military threats has the potential to destabilize East Asia and reverse decades of hard won economic and social development He shows that these transnational shifts must be grasped and dealt with by governments and non government organizations both regionally and internationally if conflict is to be avoided Transnational threats stem from overpopulation deforestation and pollution global warming unregulated population movements transnational crime virulent new strains of infectious diseases and other issues not previously associated with international security Collectively they represent a new agenda and pose novel challenges for foreign and defence policy This highly informative compelling and authoritative book is essential reading for East Asia specialists and makes a significant contribution to international security debates

International Terrorism and World Security David Carlton, Carlo Schaerf, 2015-04-17 This book examines violence in international affairs Originally published in 1975 the two types of violence which the book focusses on are nuclear deterrence and international terrorism The broader perspective in which the ISODARCO discussions took place was the recognition of the need for a new kind of world order and the international contributors reflect a wide variety of ideological perspectives

Goodbye My Kampong! Josephine Chia, 2023-05-30 Sequel to Josephine Chia's 2014 Singapore Literature prize winning book Kampong Spirit Gotong Royong Life in Potong Pasir 1955 to 1965 Kampong life in Singapore did not end in 1965 with her independence In Josephine Chia's new collection of non-fiction stories the phasing out of attap thatched villages the largest mass movement in Singapore is set against the backdrop of significant national events Weaving personal tribulations her teenage angst and the experiences of villagers from her kampong Josephine skilfully parallels the hopes and challenges of a toddling nation going through the throes of industrialisation and rapid changes from 1966 to 1975 These delightful real life stories sprinkled with snippets of her Peranakan culture reveal the joie de vivre of gotong royong or community spirit despite impoverished conditions in the last days of kampong life

The Fall of Singapore 1942 Timothy Hall, 2015-06-05 Singapore fell to the Japanese on 15 September 1942 but in 1941 Europeans on the island felt still untouched by war lulled into security by the belief that Singapore was impregnable from the sea However the Planning Chief of Imperial Army Headquarters in Tokyo had realised a successful invasion could come from the north down the Malay peninsula Requests from less naive members of the allied forces for more men arms and equipment were not filled Authorities were unwilling to reveal to the civilian population the true situation And so through accident or miscalculation Singapore was totally unable to repel the Japanese attack This accessible book illustrated with black and white photos charts the course of these events

The Media and Political Change in Southeast Asia Jonathan Woodier, 2009-01-01 the book is in a comprehensive readable format the book is logically organised rich in data and statistics regarding the issues that it covers as well as accessibly written such that its points would not be lost on the average upper level undergraduate student with some preparation in Asian studies and the social sciences Jane M Ferguson South East Asia Research a serious academic work that should be on the official reading list of every media studies course Chris Roberts Presenter Sky News Jonathan Woodier has written an excellent book on the politics of media control in Southeast Asia He shows how political elites in the region are using major events such as the 1997 Asian Financial Crisis and the 2001 September 11 terror attacks as well as innovations in media tools such as public relations and the internet to control information flow to their citizens This book is a must read for anyone interested in an explanation why Southeast Asian models of authoritarian models are surviving A brilliant analysis it combines media theory with a critical discussion of contemporary developments in Asia James Gomez Keio University Japan True to the old Chinese adage kill a chicken scare a monkey the few who once challenged Southeast Asia's ruling elites disappeared and the majority were silent Crude but effective Modern times however demand a more sophisticated approach

Ruling elites now strip cultures naked and micro manage people s minds Their preferred tools of penetration and manipulation are a compliant media and a money hungry PR industry Jonathan Woodier s insights will ensure that you will never read a newspaper or watch TV news in quite the same way again Trevor Watson Professional Public Relations Pty Ltd Australia This is an engaging and informative analysis of the media landscape in South East Asia It uncovers the pervasive impact of the global media on the political process and raises important academic and policy issues in the process This book is timely and will be a must read for policymakers academics and students across communications media studies politics and democratization as well as for everyone with an interest in current day developments in South East Asia Joep Cornelissen Leeds University Business School UK Jonathan Woodier s latest work considers what impact the media has upon the democratization process in Southeast Asia Has the media had a liberalizing effect or become subject to elite control in Southeast Asia and if so why What role does the global media play in this process particularly given its conglomerization and commoditization By examining the communications media and its relationship to political change in Southeast Asia this fascinating study will endeavour to provide both a regional comparative analysis and a more balanced interpretation of the mass communication media in the wake of September 11 2001 The book also investigates the durability of authoritarian regimes and the enduring capacity of the media controlled state alongside the growing sophistication of political communications particularly the use of PR consultants The author provides an insider s view with unique insights into the practice of political communication and its development throughout the strategically important region of Southeast Asia with its large Moslem states as well as much further afield to countries such as China and post industrial Europe As such the book will be warmly welcomed by academics of politics international relations media communications and PR It will also appeal to researchers interested in political change the rise of the global media giants and the influence of authoritarian states such as China Singapore Bulletin ,1990 Daily Report ,1974 The 9/11 Effect Kent Roach,2011-08-15 This book critically and comparatively examines the responses of the United Nations and a range of countries to the terror attacks on September 11 2001 It assesses the convergence between the responses of Western democracies including the United States the United Kingdom Australia and Canada with countries with more experience with terrorism including Egypt Syria Israel Singapore and Indonesia A number of common themes the use of criminal law and immigration law the regulation of speech associated with terrorism the review of the state s whole of government counter terrorism activities and the development of national security policies are discussed The book provides a critical take on how the United Nations promoted terrorism financing laws and listing processes and the regulation of speech associated with terrorism but failed to agree on a definition of terrorism or the importance of respecting human rights while combating terrorism
