How to Read a Moment Mathias Nilges, 2021-03-15 In How to Read a Moment Mathias Nilges shows that time is inseparable from the stories we tell about it demonstrating that the contemporary American novel offers new ways to make sense of the temporality that governs our present Time is a thing that grows scarcer every day observes one of Don DeLillo's characters The future is gone The Baffler argues Where's my hoverboard a meme demands Contemporary capitalism a system that insists that everything happen at once creates problems for social thought and narrative alike After all how does one tell the time of instantaneity In this moment of on demand service and instant trading it has become difficult to imagine the future The novel emerged as the art form of a rapidly changing modern world a way of telling time in its progress Nilges argues that this historical mission is renewed today through works that understand contemporaneity as a form of time shaping that props up our material world and cultural imagination But the contemporary American novel does not simply associate our present with a crisis of futurity Through analyses of works by authors such as DeLillo Jennifer Egan Charles Yu and Colson Whitehead Nilges illustrates that the novel presents ways to make sense of the temporality that controls our purportedly fully contemporary world In so doing the novel recovers a sense of possibility and hope forwarding a dazzling argument for its own importance today
