Anna Deavere Smith

House Arrest And Piano Two Plays:

Notes from the Field Anna Deavere Smith, 2019-05-21 Smith's powerful style of living journalism uses the collective cathartic nature of the theater to move us from despair toward hope. The Village Voice Anna Deavere Smith's extraordinary form of documentary theater shines a light on injustices by portraying the real life people who have experienced them. One of her most ambitious and powerful works on how matters of race continue to divide and enslave the nation. Variety Smith renders a host of figures who have lived and fought the system that pushes students of color out of the classroom and into prisons. As Smith has put it, Rich kids get mischief, poor kids get pathologized and incarcerated. Using people's own words culled from interviews and speeches, Smith depicts Rev. Jamal Harrison Bryant who eulogized Freddie Gray, Niya Kenny a high school student who confronted a violent police deputy, activist Bree Newsome who took the Confederate flag down from the South Carolina State House grounds and many others. Their voices bear powerful witness to a great iniquity of our time and call us to action with their accounts of resistance and hope.

Encyclopedia of African American Women Writers

Yolanda Williams Page, 2007-01-30 African American women writers published extensively during the Harlem Renaissance and have been extraordinarily prolific since the 1970s. This book surveys the world of African American women writers. Included are alphabetically arranged entries on more than 150 novelists, poets, playwrights, short fiction writers, autobiographers, essayists, and influential scholars. The Encyclopedia covers established contemporary authors such as Toni Morrison and Gloria Naylor along with a range of neglected and emerging figures. Each entry is written by an expert contributor and provides a brief biography, a discussion of major works, a survey of the author's critical reception, and primary and secondary bibliographies. Literature students will value this book for its exploration of African American literature, while social studies students will appreciate its examination of social issues through literature. African American women writers have made an enormous contribution to our culture. Many of these authors wrote during the Harlem Renaissance, a particularly vital time in African American arts and letters, while others have been especially active since the 1970s, an era in which works by African American women are adapted into films and are widely read in book clubs. Literature by African American women is important for its aesthetic qualities and it also illuminates the social issues which these authors have confronted. This book conveniently surveys the lives and works of African American women writers. Included are alphabetically arranged entries on more than 150 African American women novelists, poets, playwrights, short fiction writers, autobiographers, essayists, and influential scholars. Some of these figures, such as Toni Morrison and Gloria Naylor, are among the most popular authors writing today, while others have been largely neglected or are recently emerging. Each entry provides a biography, a discussion of major works, a survey of the writer's critical reception, and primary and secondary bibliographies. The Encyclopedia closes with a selected general bibliography. Students and general readers will welcome this guide to the rich achievement of African American women. Literature students will value its exploration of the works of these writers while social studies students will appreciate its examination of the social issues these women confront in their works
