Rich, 2023 A study of the literature of the Second World War and its aftermath focusing on the welfare state and wartime visions of rebuilding Britain Black Agents Provocateurs: 250 Years of Black British Writing, History and the Law, 1770-2020 Helen Thomas, 2020-10-01 Black Agents Provocateurs 250 Years of Black British Writing History and the Law 1770 2020 is a comprehensive analysis the invaluable contributions that black writers in Britain have made to British society over the last 250 years This book closely examines the lives trials and works of British slaves in the eighteenth century black authors historians and medics in the nineteenth century and black poets playwrights novelists and intellectuals in the twentieth and twenty first centuries It also highlights their contributions to legal changes such as the Abolition of Slavery Act 1833 the Criminal Appeal Act 1907 and the Race Relations Act 1965 as well as the adverse effects that laws such as the Criminal Evidence Act 1984 the Asylum and Immigration Acts 1996 and the Coronavirus Act 2020 have had upon black lives in Britain

Black Success Tony Sewell, 2024-03-14 How did the Windrush generation become so prosperous Why are Nigerians achieving so highly in the education system Why does Hollywood rush to cast Black British actors And why are so many

Jamaicans winning Olympic gold And what lessons are there from these success stories for young black people in low income communities In this truthful and often surprising book Tony Sewell weaves together memoir and argument to explore the drivers of black success He traces black people's hard won achievements back to their source family religion education hard work discipline and the property market He argues in favour of rejecting victimhood and low expectations and embracing high ambitions drawing on a range of interviews and stories to offer a more exciting sometimes visionary new view of black life in Britain today Black Success is essential reading not only for black Britons who are fed up with a narrative that denies them agency and responsibility but also for anyone who wants a balanced perspective on race relations in Britain today

The Cambridge History of Black and Asian British Writing Susheila Nasta, Mark U. Stein, 2020-01-16 The Cambridge History of Black and Asian British Writing provides a comprehensive historical overview of the diverse literary traditions impacting on this field's evolution from the eighteenth century to the present Drawing on the expertise of over forty international experts this book gathers innovative scholarship to look forward to new readings and perspectives while also focusing on undervalued writers texts and research areas Creating new pathways to engage with the naming of a field that has often been contested readings of literary texts are interwoven throughout with key political social and material contexts In making visible the diverse influences constituting past and contemporary British literary culture this Cambridge History makes a unique contribution to British Commonwealth postcolonial transnational diasporic and global literary studies serving both as one of the first major reference works to cover four centuries of black and Asian British literary history and as a compass for future scholarship

Postcolonial London John McLeod, 2004 This superb study explores the imaginative transformation of the city by African Asian Caribbean and South Pacific writers since the 1950s

Lovers and Strangers Clair Wills, 2017-08-31 SHORTLISTED FOR THE ORWELL PRIZE 2018 TLS BOOKS OF THE YEAR 2017 Generous and empathetic opens up postwar migration in all its richness Sukhdev Sandhu Guardian Groundbreaking sophisticated original open minded essential reading for anyone who wants to understand not only the transformation of British society after the war but also its character today Piers Brendon Literary Review Lyrical full of wise and original observations David Goodhart The Times The battered and exhausted Britain of 1945 was desperate for workers to rebuild to fill the factories to make the new NHS work From all over the world and with many motives thousands of individuals took the plunge Most assumed they would spend just three or four years here sending most of their pay back home but instead large numbers stayed and transformed the country Drawing on an amazing array of unusual and surprising sources Clair Wills wonderful new book brings to life the incredible diversity and strangeness of the migrant experience She introduces us to lovers scroungers dancers homeowners teachers drinkers carers and many more to show the opportunities and excitement as much as the humiliation and poverty that could be part of the new arrivals experience Irish Bengalis West Indians Poles Maltese Punjabis and Cypriots battled to fit into an often shocked Britain and to their own surprise found themselves making permanent homes

As Britain picked itself up again in the 1950s migrants set about changing life in their own image through music clothing food religion but also fighting racism and casual and not so casual violence Lovers and Strangers is an extremely important book one that is full of enjoyable surprises giving a voice to a generation who had to deal with the reality of life surrounded by white strangers in their new country Caribbean Without Borders Raquel Puig, Dorsía Smith, 2008-12-18 Caribbean Studies is an emerging field As such many topics within this discipline have yet to be explored and developed This collection of essays is one of the forerunners dedicated to a comprehensive study of the literature language and culture of the Caribbean By exploring the works of such prominent literary scholars as Samuel Selvon and Lorna Goodison as well as the myriad of issues pertaining to the Caribbean experience this volume provides an engaging overview of literary language and cultural analysis Because of this wide range of essays this text meets a need to examine the Caribbean in its complexity which is rarely addressed

The Stepmother Tongue John Skinner, 1998-09-18 There are numerous twentieth century writers in English who are not technically native speakers of the language and whose relation to it is ambivalent problematic or even hostile by a simple kinship analogy one may often speak of the stepmother tongue Whilst fully aware of the current debates in postcolonial theory John Skinner is also conscious of its sometimes unhelpful complexities and contradictions The focus of this study is thus firmly on the fictional practice of the writers discussed He offers the reader an insight into the diversity and rewards of contemporary anglophone fiction whilst analysing some eighty individual texts A uniquely comprehensive guide the book will be welcomed by students and teachers of postcolonial literature

Sam Selvon's Dialectal Style and Fictional Strategy Clement H. Wyke, 2011-11-01 Sam Selvon a contemporary writer of major importance is well known to British and Caribbean readers but his work including ten novels has not attained the prominence it deserves internationally This study is a literary analysis of Selvon's use of Trinidad Creole English as an important component of his style and method of fictional composition Wyke follows the development of Selvon's writing from his early to his late career starting with his first novel A Brighter Sun 1952 continuing with The Lonely Londoners 1956 and the short stories Ways of Sunlight 1957 and devoting a large part of the book to Selvon's middle and later years focusing on such novels as I Hear Thunder 1963 The Housing Lark 1965 and Those Who Eat the Cascadura 1972 He finishes with the last two works of Selvon's trilogy Moses Ascending 1975 and Moses Migrating 1983 The book reveals Selvon as a serious pioneer in the use of dialect in narration instead of mainly in the dialogue of novels and other fiction writing Wyke's concise and penetrating analysis of individual novels and short stories including the lyrical story My Girl and the City and his demonstration of features of Trinidad Creole English as a versatile tool in the hands of a novelist will appeal to literary critics as well as to those who are interested in the relationship between linguistics and literary criticism Selvon's work often combines an interesting and humorous yet serious portrayal of the Commonwealth experience which will sound familiar to Caribbean English and Canadian audiences This book will introduce new readers to his oeuvre and will be particularly appealing to those examining the connection between the Caribbean Canada and Britain places where Selvon has lived and from where he draws the rich material he uses to create his art

Dictionary Catalog of the Research Libraries of the New York Public Library, 1911-1971 New York Public Library. Research Libraries, 1979 Vernaculars in the Classroom Shondel Nero, Dohra Ahmad, 2014-06-20 This book draws on applied linguistics and literary studies to offer concrete means of engaging with vernacular language and literature in secondary and college classrooms The authors embrace a language as resource orientation countering the popular narrative of vernaculars as problems in schools The book is divided into two parts with the first half of the book providing linguistic and pedagogical background and the second half offering literary case studies for teaching Part I examines the historical and continued devaluing of vernaculars in schools incorporating clear usable explanations of relevant theories This section also outlines the central myths and paradoxes surrounding vernacular languages and literatures includes productive ways for teachers to address those myths and paradoxes and explores challenges and possibilities for vernacular language pedagogy In Part II the authors provide pedagogical case studies using literary texts written in vernacular Englishes from around the world Each chapter examines a vernacular related topic and concludes with discussion questions and writing assignments an appendix contains the poems and short stories discussed and other teaching resources The book provides a model of interdisciplinary inquiry that can be beneficial to scholars and practitioners in composition literature and applied linguistics as well as students of all linguistic backgrounds

The Novels of Samuel Selvon Roydon Salick, 2001-04-30 The author of such works as A Brighter Sun 1952 The Lonely Londoners 1956 and The Plains of Caroni 1970 West Indian novelist Samuel Selvon is attracting growing amounts of scholarly attention Nonetheless criticism of his works has largely been imbalanced with most scholarship focusing primarily on his language This book corrects that imbalance by placing Selvon's novels within historical sociological and ideological contexts A new interpretation of Selvon's achievement as a novelist the volume looks for the first time at his works in terms of categories of novels peasant middle class and immigrant The book demonstrates that each category is different from the others and that novels within categories are similar Thus it provides a coherent vision of Selvon's canon It illustrates as well the development of Selvon's philosophy of West Indians as peasant bourgeois and immigrant In doing so it explores the significance of ethnicity in his works and discusses Selvon's imaginative apotheosis of the Indo Trinidadian peasant and the diminution of the Afro Trinidadian immigrant The volume also studies Selvon's fictional and rhetorical techniques and argues that his works range from Bildungsroman to picaresque to epic to satire

The Postcolonial Unconscious Neil Lazarus, 2011-06-30 The Postcolonial Unconscious is a major attempt to reconstruct the whole field of postcolonial studies In this magisterial and at times polemical study Neil Lazarus argues that the key critical concepts that form the very foundation of the field need to be reassessed and questioned Drawing on a vast range of literary sources Lazarus investigates works and authors from Latin America and the Caribbean Africa and the Arab world South Southeast and East Asia to reconsider them from a postcolonial perspective Alongside this he offers bold new readings of some of the most influential figures in the field Fredric Jameson Edward Said and Frantz Fanon A tour de force of postcolonial studies this book will set the agenda for the future probing how the field has come to develop in the directions it has and why and how it can grow further

The 1950s Nick Bentley, Alice Ferrebe, Nick Hubble, 2018-09-06 How did social cultural and political events in Britain during the 1950s shape modern British fiction As Britain emerged from the shadow of war into the new decade of the 1950s the seeds of profound social change were being sown Exploring the full range of fiction in the 1950s this volume surveys the ways in which these changes were reflected in British culture Chapters cover the rise of the Angry Young Men an emerging youth culture and vivid new voices from immigrant and feminist writers A major critical re evaluation of the decade the book covers such writers as Margery Allingham Kingsley Amis E R Braithwaite Rodney Garland Martyn Goff Attia Hosain George Lamming Marghanita Laski Doris Lessing Colin MacInnes Naomi Mitchison V S Naipaul Barbara Pym Mary Renault Sam Selvon Alan Sillitoe John Sommerfield Muriel Spark J R R Tolkien Angus Wilson and John Wyndham

Imagined Londons Pamela K. Gilbert, 2012-02-01 Imagined Londons explores the diverse ways that Britain's global city has been imagined and represented in literature history the arts and popular culture from the mid nineteenth century to the present day American and British contributors examine a variety of topics ranging from poetry to architecture from dance music to gay pornography from tube maps to the role of Bangladeshi communities in shaping contemporary London politics Broadly interdisciplinary and deeply attentive to London's historical diversity the book is unified by its attention to a single question How have the many imaginations and representations of London shaped and been shaped by history and culture The answers provided within this volume offer the chance to view London in surprising new ways

Derek Walcott, The Journeyman Years, Volume 1: Culture, Society, Literature, and Art Gordon Collier, 2013-12-06 During the same period in which Derek Walcott was pouring immense physical emotional and logistical resources into the foundation of a viable first rate West Indian theatre company and continuing to write his inimitable poetry he was also busy writing newspaper reviews chiefly for the Trinidad Guardian His prodigious reviewing activity extended far beyond those areas with which one might most readily associate his interests and convictions As Gordon Rohlehr once presciently observed If one wants to see a quotidian workaday Walcott one should go back to his well over five hundred articles essays and reviews on painting cinema calypso carnival drama and literature articles which reveal a rich various witty and scrupulous intelligence in which generous humour counterpoints acerbity These articles capture the vitality of Caribbean culture and shed additional light on the aesthetic preoccupations expressed in Walcott's essays published in journals The editors have examined the corpus of Walcott's journalistic activity from its beginnings in 1950 to its peak in the early 1970s and have made a generous selection of material from the Guardian along with occasional pieces from such sources as Public Opinion Kingston and The Voice of St Lucia Castries The articles in Volume 1 are organized as follows Caribbean society culture and the arts generally literature and society periodicals anglophone poetry prose fiction and non-fiction African and other literatures and the visual arts Caribbean and beyond The volume closes with a selection of Walcott's miscellaneous satirical essays The volume editor Gordon Collier has written a searching introductory essay on a central theme here a critical comparative analysis of Walcott's development as journalist against the historical background of press activity in the Caribbean coupled with an illustrative discussion drawing on Walcott's newspaper articles of his attitudes towards prose fiction and poetry
