Accountability in Missions Jonathan J. Bonk, 2011-10-21 The Korean missions movement is perhaps the most significant story of the Church in the world over the past one hundred years Today Korea can boast of being the leading sender of missionaries per head of population Yet this movement has not been well integrated into the global mission community and also this community has at times failed to understand and learn from this tremendous work of God I am excited that God has brought together a unique body of people to wrestle with these issues This work will help bring about much needed collaboration and develop each other's strengths in an environment of mutual respect MALCOLM L MCGREGOR SIM International Director Accountability in Missions is a remarkable book exploring the full range of mission accountability issues strategic financial and relational from both Korean and North American perspectives This is global missiology made practical and accessible to all missions practitioners The many articles that penetrate the mysteries of Korean and North American interaction especially make it a must read book for all Koreans and North Americans working together STEVE STRAUSS Professor of Mission and Intercultural Studies Dallas Theological Seminary This collection of essays provides a biblical and theological basis for accountability and brings voices East and West demonstrating that accountability to God and to others is a universal principle not linked to one culture or context i e Western Further the collection is eminently practical addressing matters of governance decision making finance and personal integrity To all mission leaders I say read this book Actually read it but also find colleagues with whom to discuss and digest these principles and review our mission practices GORDON T SMITH President reSource Leadership International

Location Choices of California Businesses and Households During the Nineteen-nineties Michael Kaston Reilly, 2005 Dwelling(s) in Nineteenth-Century Ireland Heather Laird, Jay R. Roszman, 2023-10-15 What did it mean to have an Irish dwelling in the nineteenth century How did Irish people write about think about visually represent or imagine what constituted home Showcasing research from scholars based in Ireland the United Kingdom and further afield this interdisciplinary volume seeks to answer these questions by exploring the physicality and symbolism of Irish dwellings and the home as a place of repose exercise and work Using a range of methodological approaches including history folklore and literature this volume offers new perspectives on the material culture of home fictionalized homes social housing schemes suburban living spaces home and social mobility institutional living migration and memories of the home house and gender and eviction Rather than focus on the Big House which has already received considerable scholarly attention this volume foregrounds dwelling spaces that were especially vulnerable to economic forces the homes of the urban and rural poor Additionally the book acknowledges the importance to nineteenth century Ireland of a class that has arguably received even less attention in Irish scholarship than the poor a rising urban suburban middle class exploring their impact on housing and on cultural and leisure activities An Open Access version of Christopher Cusack's chapter Back into the old homestead The Irish Cottage in Irish American Fiction 861 1910 will be made available on publication APAIS 1992: Australian public affairs information service , Is There a Case for a Care Corporation? Anne Davies, 1994 The German Economy E.

Owen-Smith, 2012-10-12 First book in English to provide a comprehensive account of the German economy German social and economic policies are extremely topical as they are influencing the rest of Europe Controversial in that it disputes the Thatcherite Reaganomic approach to reform Contested Public Spheres Anna Spiegel, 2010-06-07 1 1 Researching the global everyday of women activists 1 1 Researching the global everyday of women activists Experiencing and doing globalisation Going through the broad spectrum of globalisation research and literature one might be astonished at how much it assumes the force of global change and how little of this literature demonstrates this force in an empirically grounded way This study being based on six months of empirical research in Malaysia in 2004 sets out to counter this lack of thick description of globalisation processes It takes up the challenge of researching the global everyday Appadurai 2000 18 of civil society actors in Malaysia and focuses on how social activists belonging to different branches of the women's movement selectively appropriate transform and even create global meanings and materialise them in local practices The methodological endeavour of combining globalisation research and ethnography has been taken up by a diversity of authors Burawoy and his research team have developed a complex methodological framework by focusing on the experiential dimensions of globalisation They want to produce a grounded globalisation or perspectives on globalisations from below Burawoy 2000b 338 341 This perspective is very fruitful as the notion of experiencing globalisation as forces connections and imaginations Burawoy et al eds 2000 relocates the global in the local and ties both together in mutual constitution
