Housing Ourselves:

Cohousing Kathryn McCamant, Charles Durrett, Ellen Hertzman, 1994 A movement that began in Europe has taken hold in North America because it provides some real answers for the increasing number of people who stop to look at where and how they live and at their impact on the environment Cohousing is a way for a group of people to work together to develop places to live that offer both privacy and community with the values of an old fashioned neighborhood safety independence mutual concern Many of these new ventures are up and running and many more are in the planning stages Delivering more bang for the buck this innovative approach to housing is challenging the formidable housing problems we face and it is succeeding Housing Ourselves Richard Burnham, 2009 Cohousing Kathryn McCamant, Charles R. Elnabawi Mahgoub, Lindita Bande, Martin Scoppa, 2023-10-16 Social housing has been a forefront research topic especially from its economic and socio cultural factors The nature of social housing in the Arabian Gulf Countries has been distinctive in its approach with usually generous areas and urban sprawl designs Recently most of these Arabian Gulf Countries have gone through profound transformation in their social and housing paradigms influenced by their sustainability adopted agendas Still scholarly documentation and analysis of the processes and products of these transformed paradigms are largely missing or at least fragmented So there is a desperate need to boost research work in this field as related to each city country in this region with largely expected mutual effects that these experiences might have on each other and on the global debate about sustainable and resilient social housing as a whole Housing Women Rose Gilroy, Roberta Woods, 2002-09-26 First Published in 2004 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Rural Housing Act of 1977 United States. Subcommittee on Rural Housing, 1978 Self-Build Homes Michaela Benson, Iqbal Hamiduddin, 2017-11-27 Self Build Homes connects the burgeoning interdisciplinary research on self build with commentary from leading international figures in the self build and wider housing sector Through their focus on community dwelling home and identity the chapters explore the various meanings of self build housing encouraging new directions for discussions about self building and calling for the recognition of the social dimensions of this process from consideration of the structures policies and practices that shape it through to the lived experience of individuals and households Divided into four parts Discourse Rationale Meaning Values Lifestyles Imaginaries Community and Identity and Perspectives from Practice the volume comes at a time of renewed focus from policy managers and practitioners as well as prospective builders themselves on self build as a means for producing homes that are more stylised affordable and appropriate for the specific needs of households It responds to recent advances in housing and planning policy while also bringing this into conversation with interdisciplinary perspectives from across the social sciences on housing home and homemaking In this way the book seeks to update understandings of self build and to account for housing as a distinctly social process Hearings United States.
