A History of Higher Education in Canada 1663-1960 Robin S. Harris, 1976-12-15 This book traces the development of higher education in Canada through a detailed description and analysis of what was being taught and of the research opportunities available to professors in the years from 1860 to 1960. Background is provided in the opening chapters of Part I which outline the origins of post secondary education in both French and English Canada from 1635 to 1860 and in the parallel chapters of Parts II to V which describe the establishment of new and the growth of existing institutions during the period 1861-90, 1891-1920, 1921-40 and 1941-60. The remaining chapters of each of the book's main divisions present an examination of the curricula in arts and science, professional education and graduate studies in 1860, 1890, 1920, 1940 and 1960 as well as the conditions pertaining to scholarship and research in these years. The concluding chapter identifies the characteristics which differentiate Canadian higher education from that of other countries. The book includes a full bibliography, an extensive index and statistical appendices providing data on enrolment and degrees granted. A History of Higher Education in Canada 1663-1960 will be the definitive work in its field, valuable both for the wealth of information and the historical insights it contains.

Indigenous Knowledges and Higher Education in Canada Merli Tamtik, 2025-04-30 Indigenous Knowledges and Higher Education in Canada explores the intricate relationship between Indigenous knowledges and the evolving landscape of higher education in Canada, revealing their profound influence in shaping institutional policies, practices and cultures. Grounded in decolonial perspectives, the book addresses the persistent struggle within universities to confront ongoing colonialism and achieve systemic change. Focused on shifts in institutional governance, policy, teaching, research, innovation and culture, the book draws on extensive document analysis and personal narratives of Indigenous individuals across various Canadian universities. Embracing a decolonial perspective, it underscores the resilience of Indigenous communities in challenging traditional paradigms of higher education. The book reveals how, through critical grassroots efforts, Indigenous peoples are reclaiming their rightful place in academia, reshaping institutional dynamics from the ground up. It argues that the emergence of Indigenous knowledges within academia is the result of proactive and ongoing efforts by Indigenous individuals asserting their presence in Canadian higher education. Ultimately, Indigenous Knowledges and Higher Education in Canada advocates for a path of decolonization through intentional learning and unlearning, envisioning a future where Indigenous voices and perspectives are authentically centred in the fabric of academic discourse and practice.

Globalisation, Trade Liberalisation, and Higher Education in North America C.W. Barrow, S. Didou-Aupetit, J. Mallea, 2012-12-06 Since the mid 1970s economic and educational developments in Canada Mexico and the USA have been influenced by two parallel trends 1 the resurgence of global economic competition and 2 the active promotion of knowledge intensive service based economies Both trends have been reinforced by the liberalisation of international trade under the rubric of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade GATT and the World Trade Organisation WTO The North American Free Trade Agreement NAFTA has accelerated these trends in all three countries by providing the framework for an integrated regional economy in North America designed to compete against comparable trading blocs centred in Japan and the European Union The purpose of this study is to examine the developing relationship between trade liberalisation post industrialisation and higher education in Canada Mexico and the USA The larger trends and linkages that we identify are by no means confined to these three countries We have chosen to focus on Canada Mexico and the USA because the adoption of the North American Free Trade Agreement has accelerated the development of economic policies in these countries which identify higher education as a central component of each country's new competitiveness strategy As a consequence government policy makers and higher education decision makers are responding with targeted initiatives to promote the internationalisation of higher education generally and to promote trilateral co operation among North American higher education institutions specifically

Ness, Deanna Rexe, 2023-05-12 This volume provides an overview of the state of the art of research on the politics of higher education policy in Canada the US and Western Europe Each thematic chapter combines an extensive literature review with original empirical work that further advances our understanding of policymaking dynamics in higher education The book covers five key aspects of policymaking namely the politics of governance as well as funding reforms the role of interest groups policy diffusion and policy framing These aspects are explored using a unique comparative design that combines comparisons within as well as between regions and among the five key aspects of policymaking The conceptual framework is anchored in approaches from institutional theory namely sociological and historical institutionalism This rare book coherently focuses on the same critical challenges that higher education faces in a changing global and national environment These include vital governance and finance issues and how these are framed and contested by different organizations and interest groups as well as state actors Within a broad institutionalist framework that reflects the tensions between historical university and national legacies on the one hand and regional and global influences on the other the authors focus on policymaking in Western Europe Canada and the US This is an engaging and creative endeavor a must read for scholars and policymakers alike Francisco O Ramirez Graduate School of Education Stanford University This is a real achievement that will contribute to the development of research in politics of higher education policy finance and economic development It is timely in an era when higher learning is increasingly salient to national policy interest groups and supranational bodies such as the EU The focus on Canada the US and Europe frames a comparative approach to a competitive higher educational policy arena that has not received systematic study Sheila Slaughter Louise McBee Institute of Higher Education University of Georgia This fills a gaping hole in research on the politics of higher education In bringing together research perspectives from governance studies with comparative public policy as well as scholars from Europe and Northern America this volume will serve as an important reference point for a rapidly growing research field The exceptionally high quality of editorship is documented by the fact that the chapters are convincingly subsumed under five sub themes In short A must read for any researcher and student interested in understanding the political foundations of higher education Marius R Busemeyer Department of Politics and Public Administration University of Konstanz
