Hours The Ages A Sequence Of Americans:

The Hours and the Ages Edward Nicholas, 1950 The Settlement of the American Continents C. Michael Barton, Geoffrey A. Clark, David R. Yesner, Georges A. Pearson, 2016-03-04 When many scholars are asked about early human settlement in the Americas they might point to a handful of archaeological sites as evidence Yet the process was not a simple one and today there is no consistent argument favoring a particular scenario for the peopling of the New World This book approaches the human settlement of the Americas from a biogeographical perspective in order to provide a better understanding of the mechanisms and consequences of this unique event It considers many of the questions that continue to surround the peopling of the Western Hemisphere focusing not on sites dates and artifacts but rather on theories and models that attempt to explain how the colonization occurred Unlike other studies this book draws on a wide range of disciplines archaeology human genetics and osteology linguistics ethnology and ecology to present the big picture of this migration Its wide ranging content considers who the Pleistocene settlers were and where they came from their likely routes of migration and the ecological role of these pioneers and the consequences of colonization Comprehensive in both geographic and topical coverage the contributions include an explanation of how the first inhabitants could have spread across North America within several centuries the most comprehensive review of new mitochondrial DNA and Y chromosome data relating to the colonization and a critique of recent linguistic theories Although the authors lean toward a conservative rather than an extreme chronology this volume goes beyond the simplistic emphasis on dating that has dominated the debate so far to a concern with late Pleistocene forager adaptations and how foragers may have coped with a wide range of environmental and ecological factors It offers researchers in this exciting field the most complete summary of current knowledge and provides non specialists and general readers with new answers to the questions surrounding the origins of the first Americans

Journal of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers American Institute of Electrical Engineers, 1920 Includes preprints of Transactions of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers ISSN 0096 3860 The Great American Carbonate Bank James Derby, Richard Fritz, Susan Longacre, William Morgan, Charles Sternbach, 2013-01-20 Hardcover plus DVD Sedimentary Cover—North American Craton: U.S. L.L. Sloss, The sedimentary cover refers to the stratified rocks of youngest Proterozoic and Phanerozoic age that rest upon the largely crystalline basement rocks of the continental interior This volume presents data and interpretations of the geophysics of the craton and summarizes the craton's tectonic evolution It also presents the stratigraphy structural history and economic geology of specific sedimentary basins e g Appalachian basin and regions e g Rocky Mountains It concludes with a discussion of the currently popular theories of cratonal tectonics unresolved questions are identified Skeletal Age Changes in Young American Males Thomas W. American Documentary Filmmaking in the Digital Age Lucia Ricciardelli, 2014-11-20 American Documentary Filmmaking in the Digital Age examines the recent challenges to the conventions of realist documentary through the lens of war documentary films by Ken Burns Michael Moore and Errol Morris During the twentieth century the invention of new technologies of audiovisual representation such as cinema television video and digital media have transformed the modes of historical narration and with it forced historians to assess the impact of new visual technologies on the construction of history This book investigates the manner in which this contemporary Western crisis in historical narrative is produced by a larger epistemological shift in visual culture Ricciardelli uses the theme of war as depicted in these directors films to focus her study and look at the model s of national identity that Burns Morris and Moore shape through their depictions of US military actions She examines how postcolonial critiques of historicism and the advent of digitization have affected the narrative structure of documentary film and the shaping of historical consciousness through cinematic representation An introduction to sociology; a behavioristic study of American

Jerome Davis, 1927 Proceedings of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers , 1920 Recent Advances in North American Paleoseismology and Neotectonics East of the Rockies Randel Tom Cox, 2012 This volume focuses on the continental intraplate region of the United States and provides an update and overview of documented Quaternary faulting and paleoseismic liquefaction east of the Rocky Mountains and of the application of these results to seismic hazard and risk assessments Contributions include papers that describe zones of newly recognized Quaternary deformation such as the East Tennessee Seismic Zone as well as reinterpretations of well known areas such as the New Madrid Seismic Zone The chapters make important contributions to the recognition of earthquake sources active during the Quaternary and assess the seismic hazards posed by these sources This volume should interest a wide range of readers from geology seismology hazard assessment and emergency management Provided by publisher
