New Solutions for House Museums Donna Ann Harris,2007 A generational shift is occurring at historic house museums as board members and volunteers retire while few young people step forward to take their place These landmarks are also plagued by serious deferred maintenance and many have no endowment funds What will happen to these sites in the next ten years and what can be done to assure their continued preservation for generations to come In New Solutions for House Museums Harris examines possible options and provides a decision making methodology as well as a dozen case studies of house museums that have made a successful transition to a new owner or user Indication of Houses of Historical Interest in London London County Council,1928

House Histories for Beginners Colin Style,O-lan Style,2022-09-15 Popular television programmes highlight the satisfaction that can be gained from investigating the history of houses and there is always plenty of interest in the subject with archives becoming ever more accessible with access to the internet As the subject covers a broad field the authors have set out to include advice on those aspects that usually apply to a project and others that will be of particular use for beginners The reader is guided through every stage of research from the first exploration of the archives to the completion of the task Suggestions are also included on how to present the findings a house history makes a very attractive gift The authors describe how to deduce the age of a property it is very seldom directly recorded when a house was built and characteristics of research on particular types of property such as cottages manor houses inns mills former church properties and farms are discussed In one example research demonstrated that a farm was likely to have been a Domesday manor a fascinating discovery achieved using records accessible to any beginner Tracing Your House History Gill

Blanchard,2013-04-19 With its practical slant and focus on demystifying unfamiliar property documents this is the perfect introduction to tracing a house history Family Tree Magazine Anyone who wants to find out about the history of their house of their home needs to read this compact practical handbook Whether you live in a manor house or on a planned estate in a laborer s cottage a tied house a Victorian terrace a twentieth century council house or a converted warehouse this is the book for you In a series of concise information filled chapters Gill Blanchard shows you how to trace the history of your house or flat how to gain an insight into the lives of the people who lived in it before you and how to fit it into the wider history of your neighborhood A wealth of historical evidence is available in libraries archives and record offices in books and online and this is the ideal introduction to it Gill Blanchard explores these resources in depth explains their significance and directs the researcher to the most relevant and revealing aspects of them She makes the research process understandable accessible and fun and in the process she demystifies the sometimes obscure language and layout of the documents that researchers will come up against This book is more than a guide to researching the history of your house or a house of interest It is a font of interest if you are seeking to research and understand the social and domestic lives of people and their communities from early times Federation of Family History Societies Tracing the History of Houses Bill Breckon,1991 Historic Houses of Philadelphia Roger W. Moss,1998-05-29 Historic Houses of Philadelphia brings the region s most impressive museum homes to life with maps touring information and historical notes on 50 distinctive homes 160 photos 150 in color Natchez Hugh Howard,Roger Straus,2003 Two hundred stunning photographs complement a beautiful celebration of architecture lifestyle history and interior design in a study of some of the great antebellum houses that mark the architectural heritage of Natchez Mississippi 12 000 first printing The Houses of History Anna Green, Kathleen Troup, 2016 An updated edition of this accessible critical reader with additional chapters including an introduction that contextualises the rise of each theoretical perspective and draw links between them Building The Dream Gwendolyn Wright, 2012-05-09 For Gwendolyn Wright the houses of America are the diaries of the American people They create a fascinating chronicle of the way we have lived and a reflection of every political economic or social issue we have been concerned with Why did plantation owners build uniform cabins for their slaves Why were all the walls in nineteenth century tenements painted white Why did the parlor suddenly disappear from middle class houses at the turn of the century How did the federal highway system change the way millions of Americans raised their families Building the Dream introduces the parade of people policies and ideologies that have shaped the course of our daily lives by shaping the rooms we have grown up in In the row houses of colonial Philadelphia the luxury apartments of New York City the prefab houses of Levittown and the public housing towers of Chicago Wright discovers revealing clues to our past and a new way of looking at such contemporary issues as integration sustainable energy the needs of the elderly and how we define family Historic Houses of New York State A.
