Harding, 2000-03-22 The essays in this volume bring to their focuses on philosophical issues the new angles of vision created by the multicultural global and postcolonial feminisms that have been developing around us These multicultural global and postcolonial feminist concerns transform mainstream notions of experience human rights the origins of philosophic issues philosophic uses of metaphors of the family white antiracism human progress scientific progress modernity the unity of scientific method the desirability of universal knowledge claims and other ideas central to philosophy Diversifying Barbie and Mortal Kombat: Intersectional Perspectives and Inclusive Designs in Gaming Yasmin B. Kafai, Gabriela T. Richard, Brendesha M. Tynes, 2016 In Diversifying Barbie and Mortal Kombat the third edited volume in the series that includes From Barbie to Mortal Kombat and Beyond Barbie and Mortal Kombat we expand the discussions on gender race and sexuality in gaming We include intersectional perspectives on the experiences of diverse players non players and designers and promote inclusive designs for broadening access and participation in gaming design and development Contributors from media studies gender studies game studies educational design learning sciences computer science and game development examine who plays how they play where and what they play why they play or choose not to play and with whom they play This volume further explores how we can diversify access participation and design for more inclusive play and learning Feminist Community Research Gillian Creese, Wendy Frisby, 2011-10-20 Feminist community research is a collaborative policy oriented methodology that holds the promise of empowering the disadvantaged and building a more just society But in the absence of critical analysis and the responsible use of power this approach can lead to naive or even harmful practices Grounded as they are in fieldwork these interdisciplinary case studies acknowledge the real methodological and ethical issues that researchers can encounter as they negotiate contested research relationships The authors discuss the strategies successful and unsuccessful that they have employed to overcome these challenges The authors collective experiences working with diverse groups from immigrant and Aboriginal women in Vancouver to poverty reduction practitioners in Vietnam reveal that truly equitable research projects require that we question core concepts and address crucial issues such as the promises and limits of reflexivity the politics of place time and resources ethical dilemmas and emotional responses and the way issues of social justice policy and social change are embedded in research Contained Empowerment and the Liminal Nature of Feminisms and Activisms Victoria A. Newsom, 2022-12-19 Contained Empowerment and the Liminal Nature of Feminisms and Activisms examines the processes by which activist successes are limited and outlines a theoretical framing of the liminal and temporal limits to social justice efforts as contained empowerment With a focused lens on the third wave and contemporary forms of feminism the author investigates feminist activity from the early 1990s through responses and reactions to the overturning of Roe v Wade in 2022 and contrasts these efforts with anti feminist white supremacist and other structural normalizing efforts designed to limit and repress women s gendered and reproductive rights This book includes analyses of celebrity activism girl power transnational feminist NGOs digital feminisms and the feminist mimicry applied by practitioners of neo liberal and anti feminism Victoria A Newsom concludes that the contained nature of feminist empowerment illustrates how activists must engage directly with intersectional challenges and address the multiplicities of structural oppressions in order to breach containment Feminisms Sohini Chatterjee, Po-Han Lee, 2023-09-07 Drawing on different understandings of feminisms this volume archives the ways in which we engage with feminisms and imagine the mundane as a feminist site of resistance against multiple and intersectional marginalisation and oppression How individual subjects come to their feminist praxis through autoethnographic and other qualitative accounts and how they offer resistant and decolonial strategies via reflection on their lived and embodied realities Plural Feminisms spurs a discussion on how structural violence is identified and resisted and the invisible and emotional labour that goes on behind this resistance. The book documents the resistance strategies feminists employ on a daily basis to survive and to form and sustain dissident kinships that remain unread unheard overlooked and excluded from dominant discourses of being and becoming Through autoethnography feminist queer and or trans and genderqueer indigenous Black and racialised disabled and neurodivergent scholars in the academy reflect on their engagement with feminisms as well as their unique resistance methods embracing and exploring complexities and challenges that both entail It foregrounds the critical importance of first person narratives in developing an expansive understanding of what it means to be a feminist the different narratives and forms that resistance takes and the socio cultural value of subversion
