If Words Could Set Us Free:

A Word that Sets Free Mark Ellingsen, 2000 Inspired by the heritage of African American churches Mark Ellingsen has created innovative visionary sermons on Old Testament texts from the Revised Common Lectionary His messages reflect his unique vantage point as a Lutheran of Norwegian heritage teaching at a historically black seminary and they are a model for anyone who wants to learn how to relate the Bible to the cutting edge social issues of our day Ellingsen suggests that many American Christians have abdicated their responsibility to advocate justice in our society or to talk about what the gospel can do in our lives and society as a whole from Monday through Saturday Ellingsen believes these Old Testament texts are relevant to our contemporary lives An all too common view of many Christians is look to the New Testament to find the liberating word of God while viewing the Old Testament as being about the law and the confining demands of tradition But Ellingsen says that the history of Christianity proves this is not true He observes that Martin Luther was primarily an Old Testament scholar and that African American churches have based many of their traditions of liberation on Old Testament stories and prophetic traditions Mark Ellingsen s offering of sermons based on Old Testament texts reflects his usual thorough biblical scholarship and his readable down to earth style that consistently render his material useful to both scholars and those seeking the inspiration of a faithful Christian Richard H Stough Publisher King Publications Mark Ellingsen has had a rich and varied career as a parish pastor and a seminary professor In addition to serving several Lutheran congregations in Pennsylvania and North Carolina he has held teaching positions at Luther Northwestern Seminary and the Institute for Ecumenical Research in Strasbourg France Ellingsen currently is on the faculty of the Interdenominational Theological Center in Atlanta the largest historic African American seminary in the United States A regular contributor to several homiletics periodicals Ellingsen is also the author of ten books some of which have been used as homiletics texts in many American and Canadian seminaries The Power of the Word J A Russel, 2014-11-10 When we hear a second hand account of an event or a conversation its true content can be distorted When we read a biography we gain an insight into rather than a full impression of a persons life In the Gospels Jesus as if gives us His autobiography speaking in the first person saying I Am giving His own testimony His true account Scripture tells us that In Him all the fullness of God was pleased to dwell this book looks at some of the ways in which Jesus fearlessly describes Himself giving His followers confidence to call upon Him for when we seek so shall we find The Joshua Generation Tex Ford, 2003-11

Everything We Need for Life and Godliness Sara E. Gulino,2012-06 Why do we read the Psalms We read them because we find comfort in them We identify ourselves with the ups and downs of the writer his feelings and emotions They show the struggles of the writer with God s activities how long before you The psalmist says and our cry to the Lord mixes with his They show his fears when he writes though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death and our fear becomes one with his The theologian reads them because of their prophetic and Messianic teachings But do we ever read them because they teach us how we relate to God See how the Psalms teach us what a person in a right relationship with God does in his relationship with Him Experience a thrilling growing and often convicting journey in God while being richly blessed as you learn what it means He establishes the work of our hands and see the Apostle Paul s example We know that our times are in God s hands and see how God created time for our salvation and why He determines our days We consider all precepts right and see the problems of the pick and choose theology We are devoted to God and see how we re little burning bushes walking the streets of this world We trust in God and see how little we do and much more
