Kidney Transplantation Strategies To Prevent Organ Rejection:

Kidney Transplantation Claudio Ronco,Stefano Chiaramonte,Giuseppe Remuzzi,2005-01-01 Transplantation is today firmly established as the therapy of choice for end stage organ failure However despite recent developments this therapy is still not without challenges and risks The necessity to take immunosuppressive drugs for the rest of one s life to prevent allograft rejection trades the morbidity and mortality of organ failure for the risks of infection and cancer as well as for an increased mortality from cardiovascular disease Thus there is an urgent need for optimizing the outcome of transplantation by achieving long term drug free graft acceptance with normal organ function Recently numerous insights into the dynamic inter relationship of host immune responses elicited by donor antigen presentation have substantially broadened our understanding of the cascade of events resulting in the acquisition of tolerance With the pharmacopoeia of the transplant biologist continually expanding the potential treatment combinations have become baffling and their impact on strategies to induce tolerance even more complex This book presents novel insights into the pathways of acute rejection and their monitoring through molecular tests new immunosuppressive agents currently under development as well as the most recent and promising approaches to induce tolerance that have emerged from experimental animal studies      Kidney

Factors Affecting Graft Survival After Renal Transplant: Prevention of Failure and Follow up Strategies Laila-Yasmin Mani, Sing-Chung Li, 2025-03-05

Renal transplantation considerably increases patient life expectancy and quality of life compared to dialysis it is regarded as the gold therapeutic strategy for patients with end stage renal disease In addition to the survival rate in transplant patients allograft failure is a significant source of worry since graft loss raises mortality and can add pressure to a community healthcare system Age race gender and immunologic compatibility of the recipient and donor are preoperative variables that affect function of graft and its survival Additionally a number of post operative factors including post operative immunosuppressive therapy and the duration of cold and warm ischemia have an impact on graft function and rejection However in contrast to short term survival rates long term graft survival has not met recovery expectations despite successful kidney transplant surgery But following transplantation post transplant patients typically experience post transplant cardiovascular and cardiovascular related mortality
