Modernization and the Crisis of Development in Africa Jeremiah I. Dibua, 2017-11-28 In this book Jeremiah I Dibua challenges prevailing notions of Africa s development crisis by drawing attention to the role of modernization as a way of understanding the nature and dynamics of the crisis and how to overcome the problem of underdevelopment He specifically focuses on Nigeria and its development trajectory since it exemplifies the crisis of underdevelopment in the continent He explores various theoretical and empirical issues involved in understanding the crisis including state class gender and culture often neglected in analysis from an interdisciplinary radical political economy perspective This is the first book to adopt such an approach and to develop a new framework for analyzing Nigeria's and Africa's development crisis It will influence the debate on the development dilemma of African and Third World societies and will be of interest to scholars and students of race and ethnicity modern African history class analysis gender studies and development studies

From Machine Learning to Artificial Intelligence Abdalmuttaleb M. A. Musleh Al-Sartawi, Manaf Al-Okaily, Anas Ali Al-Qudah, Fadi

Shihadeh, 2025-02-01 The world is on a cusp of something great Technology has advanced from solving simple issues to complex issues in both human life and other aspects such as social economic and environmental issues The significance of machine intelligence as a tool to propel human as well as economic development is an important and hot topic today This book is about how modern machine intelligence AI and machine learning applications can be used by governments and firms for financial and economic inclusion as well as for providing solutions to bridge the digital divide It aims to cover philosophical discussions frameworks and applications on central topics in machine intelligence deep learning mesh networks frugal engineering frugal innovation blockchain technology alternate networks and intelligent digital financial inclusion system architectures This book also aims to discuss the initiatives policies strategies and governance issues related to furnishing technologies for technology access financial inclusion and in turn economic growth Financial inclusion is defined as the proportion of people and corporations that use financial services It further describes the fair equal and attainable access to financial services Rawat et al 2023 Financial inclusion is key to economic inclusion and economic growth as it enables the poor to improve their lives Chapters in the book will improve our understanding of the advances and challenges of applying machine intelligence for financial inclusion and economic growth in different contexts including financial markets governments and corporations in both developing and developed countries Access to financial services is essential to development efforts of markets economies and eventually societies Hence in this context financial inclusion can be explained as the process of ensuring that individuals particular impoverished people have access to essential financial services in the formal financial sector Financial inclusion recently has been receiving traction from scholars and policymakers whereby it is one of the major strategies used by economies and societies in achieving UN's sustainable development goals Rawat et al 2023 argues that it is vital to increase the use of low cost digital methods for the economically marginalized and under served people and sectors There is a need for financial inclusion for the rapidly dynamic Industry 4.0 Therefore linking technology more particularly machine intelligence with financial inclusion and technology access is quite crucial given the current technological environment Additionally financial inclusion helps in enhancing the level of economic and social inclusion in many societies and developing countries as well as help in reducing poverty levels Policy makers in several countries continue to commit significant resources and technologies to increase the level of financial inclusion in their countries to reduce financial exclusion In developing countries financial inclusion remains below potential in part due to the digital divide limited technology access and the challenge for financial institutions in developing products for the low income mass market Hook IV 2019 Marimuthu et al 2022 These matters are important topics to be researched and discussed especially with the advancement of technology such as artificial intelligence machine learning blockchain business intelligence online education in the current post pandemic environment which catalysed these digital transformations Therefore this book has been proposed to discuss a very important and emerging topics which contributes significantly to policy and the SDGs in the digital economy

Adapting Gender and Development to Local Religious Contexts Romina Istratii, 2020-10-01 This book provides a critical and decolonial analysis of gender and development theory and practice in religious societies through the presentation of a detailed ethnographic study of conjugal violence in Ethiopia Responding to recent consensus that gender mainstreaming approaches have failed to produce their intended structural changes Romina Istratii explains that gender and development analytical and theoretical frameworks are often constructed through western Euro centric lenses ill equipped to understand gender related realities and human behaviour in non western religious contexts and knowledge systems Instead Istratii argues for an approach to gender sensitive research and practice which is embedded in insiders conceptual understandings as a basis to theorise about gender assess the possible gendered underpinnings of local issues and design appropriate alleviation strategies Drawing on a detailed study of conjugal abuse realities and attitudes in two villages and the city of Aksum in Northern Ethiopia she demonstrates how religious knowledge can be engaged in the design and implementation of remedial interventions This book carefully evidences the importance of integrating religious traditions and spirituality in current discussions of sustainable development in Africa and speaks to researchers and practitioners of gender religion and development in Africa scholars of non western Christianities and Ethiopian studies and domestic violence researchers and practitioners

Gender and Development M. Murayama, 2005-10-06 Although Japanese economic development is often discussed less attention is given to social development and much less to gender related issues By examining Japanese experiences related to gender the authors seek insights relevant to the current developing countries Simultaneously the book points out the importance for Japanese society to draw lessons from the creativity and activism of women in developing countries

Genders, Sexualities, and Complexities in Africa Gabi Mkhize, Stanley Osezua Ehiane, Lupenga Mphande, 2025-02-20 This book's significance is in its African centred border crossing overt and covert forces working against genders and sexualities reinforcing endemic gender and sexual based complexities Pragmatically sexualities and genders in Africa remain contested and an area of power and control contestations in both the private and public spheres Gender based violence and femicide GBVF in particular continue to escalate particularly during the COVID 19 pandemic Such GBVF at most affects young women migrants LGBTIQIA people sex workers informal street traders and widows amongst others This is happening at a time when the feminist and women s movements in Africa are experiencing fragmentations and factions that pull and push organising to the margins of prejudice internally thereby exacerbating an act of subordinated inclusion In this context the term subordinated inclusion connotes another form of complexity where the subaltern has been brought inside a room as an act of inclusion yet systemically subordinated through structure and obedience thereby compromising agency This complexity occurs in private and public domains where a continuum of contestations between structure and agency is sustained Consequently power struggles emerge and proliferate unabated into gendered and sexualised complexities including relations of state coloniality apartheid prejudice marginalization capitalism and democracy This book thus strives to surface these contestations and complexities and how they continue to thrive in an era that seeks another way possible a way out a jump off a manner of dealing and an exit from the status quo

Untold Histories of Nigerian Women Tayo Agunbiade, 2023-12-07 This book is a curation of insightful and engaging narrations aimed at freeing women from the margins of Nigeria s history It chronicles their protest movements against colonial administrations including monster petitions on taxation and food price controls It details a string of remarkable political landmarks which highlight women s historical credentials as nationalists as well as their voice in early male dominated legislative institutions It also narrates more contemporary episodes in women s resistance against oil exploitation environmental pollution and anger over the mass abduction of school girls This timely preservation of the voice and agency of Nigerian women from a wide variety of colonial and contemporary documents will benefit readers interested in African history and gender and women s studies

Decolonization Pierre Singaravélou, Karim Miské, Marc Ball, 2023-01-03 Full of gripping historical vignettes and evocative photographs an accessible overview of the dynamic figures who resisted colonization from India Senegal and Algeria to Vietnam Kenya and Congo Decolonization started on the very first day of colonization From the arrival of the Europeans the peoples of Africa and Asia rose up No one willingly accepts subjugation but in order to one day regain freedom you first and foremost need to stay alive Faced with the Europeans machine guns the colonized hit back in other ways from civil disobedience to communist revolution by way of soccer and literature It was a struggle marked by infinite patience and unlimited determination fought by heroic men and women now largely unknown Condensing a wealth of scholarly research into short lively chapters Decolonization brings their extraordinary stories to light Manikarnika Tambe the Indian queen who led her troops into battle against the British Mary Nyanjiru the Kenyan activist who spearheaded a protest in Nairobi Lamine Senghor the Senegalese infantryman who became an anti colonial militant in Paris and many more With them a current of resistance swept the world culminating in the independence of almost all the colonies in the 1960s But at what price In the atomic India of Indira Gandhi in the Congo subjected to Mobutu s dictatorship or in a London shaken by the rioting of young immigrants we can see just how crucial it is that we understand and learn from this painful history

Almaz Zewde, 2010-06-02 Sorting Africa's Developmental Puzzle The Participatory Social Learning Theory as an Alternative Approach is a comprehensive exploration of why Africa has not managed to achieve a sustainable and self-regenerating development over the past half century of effort. The work situates the problems of Africa's persistent underdevelopment in the practices employed by national political elites, donors and lenders to African development that played roles in determinant policy and planning. Unlike many newly developed countries and regions and contrary to the historical experiences of developed countries where ordinary people were full stakeholders and drivers of development, Africa's development has been top-down, expert and capital-driven, mechanical and typically externally designed. Ordinary Africans were made marginal to development. This approach to Africa's development was devoid of building the people and their institutions as the legitimate means of development. The entrusting of Africa's development to local and international elites to the exclusion of the people from decision making and full participation has led to grievous deficits in the formation of human and social capital and legitimate economic, social and political institutions for development. The book offers a studied alternative that can positively change Africa's development direction. The Participatory Social Learning Approach. The philosophical, theoretical, historical and heuristic origins of this alternative are offered in detail within this book. African Women's Studies, 1980-2001 Desiree Lewis, 2002

Black Iconography and Colonial (re)production at the ICC Stanley Mwangi Wanjiru, 2022-11-25 This book explores the reproduction of colonialism at the International Criminal Court (ICC) and examines international criminal law (ICL) vs the black body through an immersive format of art, music, poetry and architecture and post-colonial critical race theory lens. Taking a multi-disciplinary approach, the book interrogates the operationalisation of the Rome Statute to detail a Eurocentric hegemony at the core of ICL. It explores how colonialism and slavery have come to shape ICL, exposing the perpetuation of the colonial and warns that it has ominous contemporary and future implications for Africa. As currently envisaged and acted out at the ICC, this law is founded on deceptive and colonial ideas of what is wrong in with the world. The book finds that the contemporary ICL regime is founded on white supremacy that corrupts the law's interaction with the African. The African is but a unit utilised by the global elite to exploit and extract resources. From time to time these alliances disintegrate with ICL becoming a retaliatory tool of choice. What is at stake is power, not justice. This power has been hierarchical with Eurocentrism at the top throughout modern history. Colonialism is seen not to have ended but to have regerminated through the foundation of the independent African state. The ICC reproduces the colonial by use of European law and ultimately the overrepresentation of the black accused. To conclude, the book provides a liberated African forum that can address conflicts in the content with a call for the end of the ICC's involvement in Africa. The demand is made for an African court that utilises non-colonising African norms which are uniquely suited to address local conflicts. Multidisciplinary in nature, this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of international criminal law, criminal justice human rights law African studies global social justice sociology anthropology postcolonial studies and philosophy
