asymmetric warfare are the subject of Thompson's latest work. In a practical step by step guide he analyses the necessary organization of such elite teams, the arming and equipping of units and methods for a variety of missions from hostage rescue and high level dignitary protection to securing foreign embassies and counter WMD strikes. Paid to Predict Ewen Southby-Tailyour, 2020-10-04. In 1993 Ewen Southby Tailyour joined the British Foreign Office for duties with the European Community Monitoring Mission. He was also tasked informally by MI6 to report on a few characters. Monitoring the cease fire violations along the Confrontation Line between Croatia and the Republic of Serbian Krajina, plus the humanitarian and economic issues for the regeneration of Dalmatia, were professionally satisfying, as were a covert beach reconnaissance, interviewing war criminals and pacing the length of a secret airfield that was eventually used by US Predator unmanned surveillance aircraft to support Croatia's ethnic cleansing of all Serbs from Krajina. Closing in on hard evidence that Germany and the US were breaking UN Arms Embargo 713, the author was caught in the diplomatic cross fire between the Greeks who supported Serbia and the French who supported Croatia. To prevent the French knowing of any illicit arms embargo, he was ordered by the Greeks to falsify his reports. He resigned from the mission. This is a thought provoking, disturbing tale of deceit and duplicity between European countries and notably the US, all supposedly supporting a common cause, peace in the Balkans, but in effect helping to ethnically cleanse 200,000 Serbs from their 500 year old homeland.

Amphibious Assault Falklands Michael Clapp, Ewen Southby-Tailyour, 2012-08-24. A British Naval commander's eyewitness account of the 1982 war in the South Atlantic. Since he was in charge of the amphibious operations in the Falklands War, it goes without saying that there is no one better qualified to tell the story of that aspect of the campaign than Commodore Michael Clapp. Here he describes with considerable candor some of the problems met in a Navy racing to war and finding it necessary to recreate a largely abandoned operational technique in a somewhat ad hoc fashion. During the time it took to go south, some sense of order was imposed and a not very well defined command structure evolved. This was not done without generating a certain amount of friction. He tells of why San Carlos Water was chosen for the assault and the subsequent inshore operations Michael Clapp and his small staff made their stand and can claim a major role in the defeat of the Argentine Air and Land Forces HMS Fearless Ewen Southby-Tailyour, 2013-09-19 The Seventh ship to bear the name the Assault Ship and Commando Carrier HMS Fearless was first commissioned in 1965 Over the next 37 years she was seldom far from the actions in which British forces were engaged world wide be they in Aden Malaysia and Borneo Northern Ireland the Cold War Norway South Rhodesia Falklands the Gulf Afghanistan and so on Thousands of sailors Royal Marines and soldiers served on board over her 19 commissions Now paid off Fearless has a great story to tell and the Author a former senior Royal Marine who knows her well is superbly qualified to tell it Exocet Falklands Ewen Southby-Tailyour, 2014-04-02 A fascinating account of three SAS missions to counter the Exocet missile from ill thought out ideas to near suicidal one way trips onto enemy soil Soldier Magazine This is a revelatory account of three un tabulated special forces operations PLUM DUFF MIKADO and KETTLED RUM that were tasked to destroy Argentina s Exocet missiles during the 1982 Falkland s campaign Interviews with the SAS officer commanding Operation PLUM DUFF members of the reconnaissance patrol for Operation MIKADO plus the navigator of the helicopter that flew eight troopers into Tierra del Fuego has allowed the author to describe the tortuous events that led instead to a significant survival story The RAF pilots ordered to conduct an assault landing of two Hercules onto Rio Grande air base during Operation MIKADO have spoken of the extraordinary procedures they developed so have the commander of the SBS and the captain of the British submarine involved in Operation KETTLED RUM The Super tendard pilots who sank HMS Sheffield and MV Atlantic Conveyor and then attacked HMS Invincible plus a key member of the Argentine special forces and the brigadier defending Rio Grande add credence depth and gravitas to the saga as does an equally revealing interview with the SIS MI6 officer who led the world wide search for Exocets on the black market Disturbing over confidence by commanders at home was finely counter balanced by stirring accounts of inspiring physical and moral courage across the South Atlantic Exocet Falklands is a ground breaking work of investigative military history from which many salutary lessons can be learned Between politics diplomacy and barbouzeries this well documented work will lead you in the arcane of what should have changed the course of this war Air Fan

3 Commando: Helmand Assault Ewen Southby-Tailyour, 2010-09-30 When the Royal Marines Commandos returned to a chaotic Helmand in the winter of 2008 they realised that to stand any chance of success they would need to pursue an increasingly determined Taliban harder than ever before This time they were going to hunt them down from the air With the support of Chinooks Apaches Lynx Sea Kings and Harriers the Commandos became a deadly mobile unit able to swoop at a moments notice into the most hostile territory From huge operations like the gruelling Red Dagger when 3 Commando Brigade fought in Somme like mud to successfully clear the area around the capital of Helmand Lashkar Gar of encroaching enemy forces to the daily acts of unsupported close quarters 360 degree combat and the breath taking rapid helicopter night assaults behind enemy lines this was kind of battle that brought Commando qualities to the fore As with the

Sunday Times bestselling 3 Commando Brigade ex Marine Lieutenant Colonel Ewen Southby-Tailyour brings unparalleled access to the troops a soldier's understanding of the conflict and a visceral sense of the combat experience This is the real war in Afghanistan as told to him by a hand picked band of young fellow marines as they encounter the daily rigours of life on the ground in the world's most intense war zone

Death's Sting Ewen Southby-Tailyour, 2017-02-06 Based on the author's 32 years as a Royal Marines officer in numerous war zones including leading the amphibious assault in the Falklands War Death's Sting tells this fictional tale of international intrigue murder love and revenge The Balkans War of the 1990s is the setting with 200 000 Serbs about to be ethnically cleansed despite United Nations attempts to prevent the slaughter rape and destruction of their 500 year homeland During a Serbian artillery attack Matea Markovic and her young son are saved by James Laidlaw ex Royal Navy officer and European Community monitor but he soon realises that there are even greater evil forces at play Colonel Ante Slavic of the Croatian army is determined to prevent James from discovering the truth of his murderous campaign and is prepared to kill anyone who stands in his way including Matea and her son With American Special Forces and the Secret Services of France Germany Greece and Britain all in theatre James is forced to fight on many fronts James Matea and her son are in danger once again when the indicted war criminal Slavic on the run from justice pursues them to the rugged south Cornish coast where the outcome and who is destined for a watery grave are far from certain While the author's expertise and experience is demonstrated throughout readers will have to decide for themselves how close to the truth Death's Sting really is
