Gender And Development Rethinking Modernization And Dependency Theory:

Gender and Development Catherine V. Scott, 2022 Scott's provocative critique of development theory and practice demonstrates that many prevailing ideas about development dependency capitalism and socialism are anchored in social constructions of gender differences

Gender and Development Catherine Virginia Scott, 1995-01-01 Catherine V Scott demonstrates that many prevailing ideas about development dependency capitalism and socialism are anchored in social constructions of gender differences Early modernization theorists points out Scott often juxtaposed modernity and tradition in ways reminiscent of Enlightenment dichotomies that pitted the rational productive city against the particularistic fragmented and stagnant countryside Dependency theory despite its radically difference focus on the causes of underdevelopment also rests upon masculinist conceptions of the unfolding of history human labor and the gendered divisions between the public and private realms Recent theories of the African soft state realized in policymaking revive modernization theory's dichotomies and revolutionary political leaders in African countries though they have challenged imperialism have retained the Marxist blind spot regarding gender This provocative critique of both theory and practice goes beyond the women in development approach to explore fundamental reconceptualizations of tradition modernity masculinity femininity revolution and development

The Oxford Handbook of Feminist Theory Lisa Disch, Mary Hawkesworth, 2018-02-01 The Oxford Handbook of Feminist Theory provides a rich overview of the analytical frameworks and theoretical concepts that feminist theorists have developed to analyze the known world Featuring leading feminist theorists from diverse regions of the globe this collection delves into forty nine subject areas demonstrating the complexity of feminist challenges to established knowledge while also engaging areas of contestation within feminist theory Demonstrating the interdisciplinary nature of feminist theory the chapters offer innovative analyses of topics central to social and political science cultural studies and humanities discourses associated with medicine and science and issues in contemporary critical theory that have been transformed through feminist theorization The handbook identifies limitations of key epistemic assumptions that inform traditional scholarship and shows how theorizing from women's and men's lives has profound effects on the conceptualization of central categories whether the field of analysis is aesthetics biology cultural studies development economics film studies health history literature politics religion science studies sexualities violence or war

The Elgar Companion to Gender and Global Migration Natalia Ribas-Mateos, Saskia Sassen, 2022-12-13 This timely Companion traces the interlinking histories of globalisation gender and migration in the 21st century setting up a completely new agenda beyond Western research production Natalia Ribas Mateos and Saskia Sassen bring together 27 incisive contributions from leading international experts on gender and global migration uncovering the multitude of economies histories families and working cultures in which local regional national and global economies are embedded

Dependent Capitalisms in Contemporary Latin America and Europe Aldo Madariaga, Stefano Palestini, 2021-08-02 This book contributes to the current revival of dependency approaches for the analysis of global capitalism Reflecting on contemporary uses of the Dependency Research Program (DRP) and a refined analytical toolkit it makes two distinctive contributions to this revival the analysis of new situations of dependency and the understanding of the mechanisms of dependency The individual chapters draw from a wide range of cases and data from Latin America and Europe and imbricate concepts and ideas from the (DRP) with those of other approaches from post Keynesian economics to structural economics institutional economics regulation theory comparative capitalisms business politics economic geography and critical finance studies providing a rich array of possibilities for virtuous inter disciplinary cross fertilization This volume is a valuable contribution for those interested in understanding how global capitalism works in Latin America Europe and beyond

The Politics of Development Co-operation Lisa Aubrey, 2002-11-01 First Published in 2004 The Politics of Development Cooperation interrogates the politics of interorganizational development cooperation examining issues of power autonomy and dependence Focusing on Kenya and in particular on Maendeleo Ya Wanawake (MYWO) the largest national women's organization and its partners in its relational environment this book probes the relationships between foreign donors grassroots development organizations and governments Aubrey examines whether it is possible for the North and the developing world to be engaged in genuine development partnerships the influence resource contributions financial and technical have on agenda formulation and compromises and whether organizations such as MYWO are truly NGOs as they claim to be or whether they remain an extension of the state exploited by patriarchal party politics Gender is central to the analysis of this book with issues reflecting and reintroducing the politics of unequal resources in development cooperative partnerships Differences in status among women are also systematically examined because the politics of development affect elite and grassroots women differently

Widow Inheritance and Contested Citizenship in Kenya Awino Okech, 2019-05-09 This book examines the practice of widow inheritance in order to explore the intersection between power gender and sexualities in Kenya Using widow inheritance amongst the Luo of Kenya as a case study the book explores the role of body politics in the construction of gendered subjects and nations Widow Inheritance and Contested Citizenship in Kenya unpacks how respectable femininities and wayward sexualities become the sites within which national and state politics are ritualized and where tensions resulting from non hegemonic performances of both gender and sexuality are resolved The empirical research that underpins this book is qualitative and grounded in feminist methodology challenging the erasure of women s narratives in hegemonic epistemologies Widow Inheritance and Contested Citizenship in Kenya will be of interest to students and scholars of African gender studies and women s rights The Other World Joseph N.

Weatherby, Craig Arceneaux, Emmit B. Evans, Dianne Long, Ira Reed, Olga D. Carter, 2016-01-08 The Other World combines a thematic and area studies approach to explore contemporary global issues in the developing world Accessible and interdisciplinary this text offers political economic social and historical analysis plus case studies on Latin America Sub Saharan Africa North Africa and the Middle East Central Asia and the Southern Near Abroad and Asia Highlighting similarities and differences among these regions and focusing on enduring problems The Other World is a practical look at the issues affecting the majority of the world s population Trauma and the Rehabilitation of Trafficked Women S. Behnaz Hosseini, 2020-07-16 Based on research in camps in Iraqi Kurdistan and among refugees in Germany this book addresses the challenges strategies and support systems that exist for the rehabilitation and reintegration of Yazidi women recovering from human trafficking Through in depth interviews focus group discussions and case studies it gives women trafficked by ISIS their own voice to express their experiences during captivity whilst offering an overview of the forms of support and protection available and necessary for survivors An examination of the experiences and needs of refugee women who have undergone traumatizing experiences Trauma and the Rehabilitation of Trafficked Women will appeal to scholars and policy makers with interests in gender studies feminist thought sexual violence during war human trafficking and trauma recovery

Representations of Global Poverty Nandita Dogra, 2013-09-30 Through the efforts of increasingly global and media aware NGOs people in the west are bombarded with images of poverty suffering and inequality Representations of Global Poverty is the first comprehensive study of the communications and imagery used by international NGOs to represent the developing world An enlightening study this book explores the discursive constructions of global poverty and development by international charities and their role in mediating between developed countries and the developing world It presents a detailed empirical review of the communications of international NGOs utilizing an original postcolonial analytical framework to better understand and evaluate these public messages The book examines three interlinked levels of the public messages of UK based international development NGOs INGOs representation production and reception This review of the fundraising and advocacy messages of INGOs shows a dualism of difference and oneness While these messages portray the developing world as different and distant they are also at pains to present it as sharing the same human values These oversimplified representations circumvent the historical context of and continuities between European colonialism and current global poverty Instead they connect the globe through a de historicised universal humanism This decontextualization in INGOs

communications stems from both institutional isomorphism and sociological assumptions about audiences Dogra's book goes on to reveal the role of western collective histories in shaping global inequalities and our subjectivities in the way we perceive and position ourselves in relation to the majority world From historical amnesia to denial charity to justice and rights feel good consumerism to activism humanism and cosmopolitanism to Eurocentrism and Britishness it analyses NGO representations through a variety of discourses Boldly interdisciplinary the book draws upon sociology NGO management development social policy political science postcolonial cultural and media studies and as such is essential reading for students and scholars across these diverse fields This book should become the starting point for future debates on representations and global poverty that concern not just charities international aid bodies governments and academic institutions but all of us who live in a deeply connected but divided world

Women's Empowerment for Sustainability in Africa Robert Dibia, 2019-01-17 This book uses an open explorative approach to deal with the different aspects of gender discrimination and gender empowerment policies as well as their impact on economic development and capacity building in several African countries It uses primary and secondary data to present the argument that without the full input of women sustainable development will not be achieved in many African countries This book is the first text written by knowledgeable gender issue experts that understand the culture of and lived and conducted research in Africa It provides many examples of the relationships between gender and economic development around the African continent highlighting different processes and practices As such the contributors here illustrate the impact of weak gender policies and the ability to adequately develop female capacity building that could lead to wide spread sustainable economic growth in Africa They also explore a wide range of new dimensions and variables that are commonly ignored by other text books on gender equality The book will help graduate undergraduate students and other readers to understand women's policies in the past present and future by analysing and illustrating cultural political and socio historical contexts which have shaped women's role in the economic and sustainable development of Africa

When Hens Begin To Crow Sylvia Tamale, 2018-10-26 Among African countries Uganda is unique in its affirmative action program for women In the late 1980s President Yoweri Museveni announced his belief that Uganda's successful development depended on increased gender equity and backed his opinions by setting several women centered policies in motion including a 1989 rule that at least 39 seats in the Ugandan parliament be reserved for women In this fascinating study based on in depth interviews with both male and female parliamentarians women in nongovernmental organizations and rural residents of Uganda Sylvia Tamale explores how women's participation in Ugandan politics has unfolded and what the impact has been for gender equity The book examines how women have adapted their legislative strategies for empowerment in light of Uganda's patriarchal history and social structure The author also looks at the consequences and implications of women's parliamentary participation as a result of affirmative action handed down by the president rather than pushed up from a grassroots movement Although focusing on Uganda Tamale's study is relevant to other African and non African countries grappling with the twin challenges of democracy and development

International Politics Scott P. Handler, Robert T. Person, 2020-12-23 Why do states do what they do Who are the relevant nonstate actors in international politics and why do they do what they do What causes conflict and cooperation in the international system These are some of the most basic questions that the discipline of International Relations IR seeks to answer they are also the questions that drive the objectives organization and content of this book International Politics Classic and Contemporary Readings Second Edition seeks to help students engage critically with some of the world s most challenging questions through the use of leading classic and contemporary scholarship in the field of international relations The first five chapters of the book explore the leading theoretical traditions in international relations while subsequent chapters explore the themes of international security international political economy and contemporary challenges in international relations This organization makes the book easy to use as standalone text or alongside core text Class tested on over 10 000 students in the last decade this text was built from the ground up to introduce students to the traditions and new foundations of international relations as well to the principles of intellectually rigorous thought Gender, War, and Militarism Laura Sjoberg, Sandra E. Via, 2010-08-03 This compelling interdisciplinary compilation of essays documents the extensive intersubjective relationships between gender war and militarism in 21st century global politics Feminist scholars have long contended that war and militarism are fundamentally gendered Gender War and Militarism Feminist Perspectives provides empirical evidence theoretical innovation and interdisciplinary conversation on the topic while explicitly and uniquely considering the links between gender war and militarism Essentially an interdisciplinary conversation between scholars studying gender in political science anthropology and sociology the essays here all turn their attention to the same questions How are war and militarism gendered Seventeen innovative explanations of different intersections of the gendering of global politics and global conflict examine the theoretical relationship between gender militarization and security the deployment of gender and sexuality in times of conflict sexual violence in war and conflict post conflict reconstruction and gender and militarism in media and literary accounts of war Together these essays make a coherent argument that reveals that although it takes different forms gendering is a constant feature of 21st century militarism

(En)Gendering Taiwan Ya-chen Chen, 2017-10-15 This book highlights the diversity and richness of non Mainland China and Taiwan oriented gender issues from a unique Taiwanese perspective in contrast to previous studies that have often placed Taiwanese gender issues under the huge umbrella of Mainland Chinese Communist Chinese or P R C women s and gender studies In a follow up dialogue to and with Liu s Karl s and Ko s The Birth of Chinese Feminism this book looks at the various metaphorical details of that birth and the different dimensions of Mainland Chinese versus Taiwanese feminism and gender issues Although Chinese heritage people share similar traditions different gender problems have occurred in and challenged various local conditions of Chinese speaking areas Taiwan s gender issues have reflected Taiwan s unique historical sociocultural economic political post colonial military and diplomatic backgrounds in ways unfamiliar to the many people with a Chinese background who are not Taiwanese This volume gives a historical outline of the people and events that paved the way for the rise of Taiwanese feminism and includes portraits of famous feminists gender issues in institutions and a variety of gender concerns Mandarins of the Future Nils Gilman, 2007-02 By connecting modernization theory to the welfare state liberalism programs of the New Deal order Gilman not only provides a new intellectual context for America's Third World during the Cold War but connects the optimism of the Great Society to the notion that American power and good intentions could stop the postcolonial world from embracing communism
