Endogenous Knowledge Research Trails Codesria Series:

Endogenous Knowledge Paulin J. Hountondji, 1997 Uncovering the wealth of traditional African knowledge and techniques has direct implications for the future development of the continent This book is written against the background of the tragedy that most Africans are profoundly ignorant of the achievements of the past let alone the traditions that are still upheld today It is an exploration and analysis of Africa s historical roots and the editor is one of Africa s most distinguished philosophers Rich in detailed and original field research the volume covers a wide variety of topics from the probability theory of cowry shell diviners to hydrology and rainmaking and the links between sorcery and psychosomatic medicine Chapters include the use of number systems ingredients used in pharmaceutical practice and the mysterious phenomena of foreign objects projected into human bodies

Knowledge Cultures, 2016-08-01 This volume compares the western ideas of knowledge with the African It aims at creating a mirror through which the western knowledge culture can look at itself through an unusual and interesting angle The culture of Sub Saharan Africa is the substance from which we in this book have tried to construe an epistemological mirror

Routledge Handbook of Academic Knowledge Circulation Wiebke Keim, Leandro Rodriguez Medina, Rigas Arvanitis, Natacha Bacolla, Chandni Basu, Stéphane Dufoix, Stefan Klein, Mauricio Nieto Olarte, Barbara Riedel, Clara Ruvituso, Gernot Saalman, Tobias Schlechtriemen, Hebe Vessuri, 2023-06-30 Knowledge is a result of never ending processes of circulation This accessible volume is the first comprehensive multidisciplinary work to explore these processes through the perspective of scholars working outside of Anglo American paradigms Through a variety of literature reviews examples of recent research and in depth case studies the chapters demonstrate that the analysis of knowledge circulation requires a series of ontological and epistemic commitments that impact its conceptualisation and methodologies Bringing diverse viewpoints from across the globe and from a range of disciplines including anthropology economics history political science sociology and Science ii spaces and actors of circulation iii academic media and knowledge circulation iv the political economy of academic knowledge circulation v the geographies geopolitics and historical legacies of the global circulation of academic knowledge vi the relationships between academic and extra academic knowledges and vii methodological approaches to studying the circulation of academic knowledge This handbook will be essential reading for academics researchers and postgraduate researchers in the humanities and social sciences interested in the circulation of knowledge

Research Handbook on the Sociology of Knowledge Fran Collyer, 2025-07-15 This timely Handbook celebrates and contributes to the recent revitalisation of the sociology of knowledge A diverse group of leading experts from the global North and South provide a state of the art overview of a field which is developing rapidly with the growth of poststructuralist postcolonial and feminist approaches

Performance Cultures as Epistemic Cultures, Volume II Torsten Jost, Erika Fischer-Lichte, Milos Kosc, Astrid Schenka, 2023-04-07 This volume investigates performance cultures as rich and dynamic environments of knowledge practice through which distinctive epistemologies are continuously

re generated cultivated and celebrated Epistemologies are dynamic formations of rules tools and procedures not only for understanding but also for doing knowledges This volume deals in particular with epistemological challenges posed by practices and processes of interweaving performance cultures These challenges arise in artistic and academic contexts because of hierarchies between epistemologies European colonialism worked determinedly violently and often with devastating effects on instituting and sustaining a hegemony of modern Euro American rules of knowing in many parts of the world Therefore Interweaving Epistemologies critically interrogates the im possibilities of interweaving epistemologies in artistic and academic contexts today Writing from diverse geographical locations and knowledge cultures the book s contributors philosophers and political scientists as well as practitioners and scholars of theater performance and dance investigate prevailing forms of epistemic ignorance and violence They introduce key concepts and theories that enable critique of unequal power relations between epistemologies Moreover contributions explore historical cases of interweaving epistemologies and examine innovative present day methods of working across and through epistemological divides in nonhegemonic sustainable creative and critical ways Ideal for practitioners students and researchers of theater performance and dance Interweaving Epistemologies emphasizes the urgent need to acknowledge study and promote epistemological plurality and diversity in practices of performance making as well as in scholarship on theater and performance around the globe today

Decolonising Knowledge and Knowers Mlamuli Nkosingphile Hlatshwayo, Hanelie Adendorff, Margaret A.L. Blackie, Aslam Fataar, Paul Maluleka, 2022-04-21 Decolonising Knowledge and Knowers contributes to the current struggles for decolonising education in the global South focusing on the highly illuminating case of South African higher education Galvanised by FeesMustFall and RhodesMustFall student protests South Africa has seen particularly intense and broad social engagement with debates over decolonising universities However much of this debate has been consumed with definitions and meanings In contrast Decolonising Knowledge and Knowers shows how conceptual tools specifically from Legitimation Code Theory can be enacted in research and teaching to meaningfully work towards productive decolonisation Each chapter addresses a key issue in contemporary debates in South African higher education and show how practices concerning knowledge and knowers are playing a role drawing on quantitative and qualitative research praxis and interdisciplinary research

Elgar Encyclopedia of Interdisciplinarity and Transdisciplinarity Frédéric Darbellay, 2024-06-05 This Encyclopedia presents a comprehensive overview of the ever evolving field of Interdisciplinarity and Transdisciplinarity across the Sciences Authored by over 150 experts it provides a vision of the Sciences in which scholars push boundaries and promote collaboration across diverse disciplines scientific cultures and practices This title contains one or more Open Access entries

African Epistemologies for Criticality, Decoloniality and Interculturality Hamza R'boul, 2025-04-24 This book addresses the underrepresentation and more importantly the misrepresentation of African epistemologies and traditions of thought in making sense of theorizing and doing interculturality Africa remains probably the most oppressed and silenced sphere throughout centuries of colonialism and contemporary coloniality Therefore such an anthology provides a platform for those insights that have substantial epistemic capacity to alter our taken for granted notions of what interculturality is and what it is about While a number of works have charted the contributions of African epistemologies in advancing our understanding of our intercultural realities this book argues that the processes of decoloniality through and within interculturality have never been about under mis representation per se but about how the politics of representation can provide inaccurate tokenistic and false inclusion This book aims to substantiate the notion that decoloniality and interculturality are mutually inclusive to demonstrate the affordances of African epistemologies in advancing intercultural knowledge and to support the need to make visible philosophical and power literate approaches to interculturality This book will be essential reading for scholars and students interested in African philosophy African epistemology and more broadly interculturality and intercultural communication

Histories of Religious Thought and Practice in Africa PROFESSOR LOUIS. BRENNER, 2024-12-17 This book is a richly detailed comparative analysis of endogenous Muslim and Christian religious thought and practice in sub Saharan Africa Organized thematically the book presents a conceptual and analytical framework for the study of religious traditions as complex and constantly evolving social phenomena The most salient theme in the book is how different religious traditions defined and provided for the personal and communal wellbeing of their adherents Other major themes explore how religious traditions have influenced one another how religious practitioners conceptualized and interacted with spiritual entities how religious knowledge and expertise were acquired and transmitted how rituals were organized and structured in order to achieve their aims and how rituals affected those who performed them Additional topics analysed include the personalization of relationships with spiritual entities the gendering of religious thought and practice how personal transformative rituals were conceptualized and enacted with reference to stages of the life cycle such as birth marriage and death and how suffering was seen as integral to the process of personal transformation Overall the book engages with issues that continue to animate the study of religious thought and practice in Africa and African studies more generally

Beyond Timbuktu Ousmane Kane,2016-06-07 Timbuktu is famous as a center of learning from Islam s Golden Age Yet it was one among many scholarly centers to exist in precolonial West Africa Ousmane Kane charts the rise of Muslim learning in West Africa from the beginning of Islam to the present day and corrects lingering misconceptions about Africa s Muslim heritage and its influence Between Rhetoric and Reality Munyaradzi

Mawere,Samuel Awuah-Nyamekye,2015-04-03 Since time immemorial indigenous peoples around the world have developed knowledge systems to ensure their continued survival in their respective territories These knowledge systems have always been dynamic such that they could meet new challenges Yet since the so called enlightenment period these knowledges have been supplanted by the Western enlightenment science or colonial science hegemony and arrogance such that in many cases they were relegated to the periphery Some Euro centric scholars even viewed indigenous knowledge as superstitious irrational and anti development This erroneous view has since the colonial period spread like veld fire to the extent of being internalised by some political elites and Euro centric academics of Africa and elsewhere However for some time now the potential role that indigenous peoples and their knowledge can play in addressing some of the global problems haunting humanity across the world is increasingly emerging as part of international discourse This book presents an interesting and insightful discourse on the state and role that indigenous knowledge can play in addressing a tapestry of problems of the world and the challenges connected with the application of indigenous knowledge in enlightenment science dominated contexts The book is not only useful to academics and students in the fields of indigenous studies and anthropology but also those in other fields such as environmental science social and political ecology development studies policy studies economic history and African studies The Palgrave Handbook of African Politics, Governance and Development Samuel Ojo

Oloruntoba,Toyin Falola,2017-10-10 This handbook constitutes a single collection of well researched articles and essays on African politics governance and development from the pre colonial through colonial to the post colonial eras Over the course of these interconnected periods African politics have evolved with varied experiences across different parts of the continent

As politics is embedded both in the economy and the society Africa has witnessed some changes in politics economics demography and its relations with the world in ways that requires in depth analysis This work provides an opportunity for old and new scholars to engage in the universe of the debate around African politics governance and development and will serve as a ready reference material for students researchers policy makers and investors that are concerned with these issues

Knowledge and Change in African Universities Michael Cross, amasa ndofirepi, 2017-01-28 Besides the ongoing concern with the epistemological and theoretical hegemony of the West in African academic practice the book aims at understanding how knowledge is produced and controlled through the interplay of the politics of knowledge and current intellectual discourses in universities in Africa In this regard the book calls for African universities to relocate from the position of object to subject in order to gain a form of liberated epistemological voice more responsive to the social and economic complexities of the continent In itself this is a critical expos of contemporary practices in knowledge advancement in the continent Broadly the book addresses the following questions How can African universities reinvent knowledge production and dissemination in the face of the dominant Eurocentricism so pervasive and characteristic of academic practice in Africa to enhance their relevance to the contexts in which they operate How can such change particularly at knowledge production and distribution levels be undertaken without falling into an intellectual and discursive ghettoization in the global context What then is the role of academics policy makers and curriculum and program designers in dealing with biases and distortions to integrate policies knowledge and pedagogy that reflect current cultural diversity both local and global Against this backdrop while some contributions in this book argue that emancipatory epistemic voice in African universities is not yet born or it is struggling with little success many dissenting voices charge that if Africans do not take responsibility and construct knowledge strategies for their own emancipation who will

Indigenous Knowledge and the Integration of Knowledge Systems Catherine Alum Odora Hoppers, 2002 This book explores the role of the social and natural sciences in supporting the development of indigenous knowledge systems It looks at how indigenous knowledge systems can impact on the transformation of knowledge generating institutions such as scientific and higher education institutions on the one hand and the policy domain on the other

Kenya Shadrack W. Nasong'o, Godwin R. Murunga, 2013-07-18 The path towards democracy in Kenya has been long and often tortuous Though it has been trumpeted as a goal for decades democratic government has never been fully realised largely as a result of the authoritarian excesses of the Kenyatta Moi and Kibaki regimes This uniquely comprehensive study of Kenya's political trajectory shows how the struggle for democracy has been waged in civil society through opposition parties and amongst traditionally marginalised groups like women and the young It also considers the remaining impediments to democratisation in the form of a powerful police force and damaging structural adjustment policies Thus the authors argue democratisation in Kenya is a laborious and non linear process Kenyans recent electoral successes the book concludes have empowered them and reinvigorated the prospects for democracy heralding a more autonomous and peaceful twenty first century Southernising Criminology Luiz Dal Santo, Carla Sepúlveda Penna, 2024-06-03 This book introduces the Southern criminology movement explores its theoretical methodological and philosophical tools offers analytical accounts on the development of criminological thoughts in marginalised regions and showcases the cutting edge of criminological research from Southern settings Southernising Criminology is structured into three parts The first part provides theoretical and methodological insights into how criminology can be Southernised including renowned social scientists who share concerns for the need to reconceptualise the centre the periphery and their relations The second part brings the reader up to date with the state of criminological research in different parts of the world and how far this landscape has changed when introducing Southern perspectives The third part shows first hand examples of how Southern criminology is done with its challenges and transformative potential for criminological knowledge Bringing together contributions from leading scholars working across the five continents and drawing on issues such as state criminality violent crime criminal justice practices and state and non state punishment this book offers a critical account of the problems of metropolitan thinking colonial and imperial power relations and Western ethnocentric approaches to criminology It offers a nuanced and grounded reflection on how things are being done differently and why that is important An accessible and compelling read this book will appeal to students and scholars of criminology sociology politics and policy makers from around the world who are interested in the field of criminology and are aware of the urgent need for it to be decolonised and democratised
