Managing Government Property Assets Olga Kaganova, 2006 Governments own a vast array of real property from large stretches of land to public housing projects from water distribution systems and roads to office buildings Typically management of public property is highly fragmented with responsibility for each type of asset falling within a different agency or bureaucracy In almost all countries different classes of property are managed according to their own rules often following traditional practices rather than any assessment of what type of management is appropriate Over the past decade however a new discipline has emerged that examines this important component of public wealth and seeks to apply standards of economic efficiency and effective organizational management Managing Government Property Assets reviews and analyzes this recent wave of activity The authors draw upon a wide variety of national and local practices both in countries that have been leaders in management reforms and in countries just beginning to wrestle with the problem This comparison reveals that the issues of public property management are surprisingly similar in different countries despite striking differences in institutional contexts and policy solutions

Development Discourses Prasenjit Maiti, 2005 This Collection Of Essays Seeks To Explore Common Lessons From Political Sociology And Development Studies And In This Process Tries To Resolve The Tension Between The Author S Academic And Practitioner Worldviews The Author Has Tried To Highlight One Principal Concern In This Volume That Development Is More Often Than Not A Multicultural Construct Of Everyday Politics That Is Context Bound And Predicated By Statements Of Informed Choices On The Part Of The Stakeholders And Or Beneficiaries Involved So Development Is More About Who Gets What When How Where And Why In Terms Of An Authoritative Allocation Of Values That Is Underpinned By Definitions Of Stakeholders Or Beneficiaries Or Affected Persons Such Definitions Are Power Statements That Are Scripted By Agencies That Generally Tend To View Development As An Unevenness That May Be Restructured In Terms Of Human And Physical Engineering As A Level Playing Ground Where Players Are Equipped With Uniform Access To Resources And Similar Opportunities This Is However A Contentious Issue Without Any Simple Answers Such An Interventionist Approach May Not Always Be Sponsored By The Mode Of Production Or The Marketplace Of Politics That By Definition Thrives On Discrepancies And Discriminations Among Unequally Affected Persons The Present Work Will Be Of Interest To Political Sociologists Economic And Social Historians Development Consultants Non Profit Professionals Social Workers Grassroots Activists Urban Planners Academics As Well As Researchers Working In The Development Sector
