Foxfire Twenty Five Years:

Twenty-Five Years of the Life Review Robert Disch, 2014-09-03 In this thought provoking book professionals in the field of aging examine the history and concept of the life review The life review a theory about the nature of the life cycle first presented in 1962 has become a foundation for program development with the elderly This unique analysis of the life review goes beyond the early formulation both in theory and practice Critics of the life review suggest ways in which the theory can be modified and expanded and offer several unique methods of creatively adapting these criticisms and changes to practical purposes Proponents of the life review while emphasizing that reminiscence is not a panacea proclaim its historical educational and therapeutic value Foxfire 10 Foxfire Fund, Inc., 1993-03-01 First published in 1972 The Foxfire Book was a surprise bestseller that brought Appalachia's philosophy of simple living to hundreds of thousands of readers Whether you wanted to hunt game bake the old fashioned way or learn the art of successful moonshining The Foxfire Museum and Heritage Center had a contact who could teach you how with clear step by step instructions Chock full of the wit and wisdom that has become the Foxfire trademark this tenth volume in the acclaimed series is on oral history of Appalachian lives and traditions homespun crafts and folk arts including gourd carving and chairmaking Foxfire 4 Foxfire Fund, Inc., 1977-11-01 Fiddle making spring houses horse trading sassafras tea berry buckets gardening and other affairs of plain living are the topics covered in this volume Foxfire 5 Foxfire Fund, Inc., Eliot Wigginton, 2010-12-01 The fifth Foxfire volume includes rain making blacksmithing bear hunting flintlock rifles and more From the Trade Paperback edition

Travels with Foxfire Phil Hudgins, Jessica Phillips, 2018-08-14 Since 1972 the Foxfire books have preserved and celebrated the culture of Southern Appalachia for hundreds of thousands of readers In Travels with Foxfire native son Phil Hudgins and Foxfire student Jessica Phillips travel from Georgia to the Carolinas Tennessee to Kentucky collecting the stories of the men and women who call the region home Across more than thirty essays we discover the secret origins of stock car racing the story behind the formation of the Great Smoky Mountains National Park the vanishing art of gathering wild ginseng and the recipes of an award winning cookbook writer We meet bootleggers and bear hunters game wardens and medicine women water dowsers sculptors folk singers novelists record collectors and home cooks even the world's foremost priviologist all with tales to tell A rich compendium of the collected wisdom of artists craftsmen musicians and moonshiners Travels with Foxfire is a joyful tribute to the history the geography and the traditions that define Appalachian living

Promising Practices for Family and Community Involvement during High School Lee Shumow, 2009-06-01 This volume focuses on family and community connections with education during the high school years In comparison to the wealth of attention that has been focused on involving parents with schools during the early childhood and elementary school years less attention has been directed to parents of high school students and fewer educational programs have been developed to forge connections between family community students and educators at the high school level Researchers have found that family and community have a very significant impact on student achievement and on post secondary attainment despite the considerable decline in parental involvement by high school Educators know that family and community factors are important for student success in high school while at the same time they identify working with families and connecting the curriculum to the community as difficult Currently scholars from various fields are involved in conducting research to better understand how schools can best enhance the education of the young through interactions with students families and communities Educational practitioners also are pioneering efforts to involve and serve families as well as to connect with communities in order to enrich the educational environment and enlarge opportunities for students teachers families and community members This volume which will be of interest to both researchers and educators reflects the interdisciplinary nature of the field The contributors were recruited from diverse fields and workplaces Chapters are organized into two sections to reflect whether the genesis of the work described is from theory and research or from practice and policy Chapters originating from theory and research address adolescent development and family involvement the role of family and community in extracurricular activity participation and the evolution of trust relationships in school community partnership development Chapters originating from practice and policy address transition to high school using the community as a text for learning career education partnerships with businesses post secondary institutions and community organizations as well as state policies and programs that support parental involvement in postsecondary planning

Chimes of Change and Hours Audrey Borenstein, 1983 Encompassing a variety of perspectives on the lives of older women in modern America this book is a rich mosaic drawing on demographic social psychological social historical economic and gerontological data and incorporating transcripts of oral histories interviews with women artists fiction and essays by and about women in the second half of their lives autobiographies diaries journals letters and other sources

Situated Learning Perspectives Hilary McLellan, 1996

Looking Together at Student Work Tina Blythe, David Allen, Barbara Schieffelin Powell, 1999 The authors have created a practical guide to provide teachers with strategies and resources for working together to examine and discuss student work such as science projects essays art work math problems and more Written for teachers administrators curriculum coordinators staff developers and researchers this book offers a clear process for starting and sustaining collaborative discussions of student work and student learning detailed descriptions of two kinds of structured conversations the Tuning Protocol and the Collaborative Assessment Conference that guide discussion of student work and real examples from schools that have developed their own ways of looking collaboratively at student work

FieldWorking Bonnie Stone Sunstein, Elizabeth Chiseri-Strater, 2011-09-02 FieldWorking is a fun and practical guide to research and writing This acclaimed text incorporates examples by professional writers such as Peter Elbow Joan Didion Oliver Sacks and Jamaica Kincaid as well as student research projects on communities as diverse as a truck stop sports bar homeless shelter and horse sales barn to help students identify and define their own subcultures and communities In unique activities and comprehensive instruction FieldWorking presents an ethnographic approach that empowers students to observe listen interpret analyze and write about the people and artifacts around them while learning the essentials of college writing and research FieldWorking is suitable for courses in English anthropology cultural studies journalism or in any discipline where research is required The Foxfire Magazine ,2006 Creating Contexts for Learning and Self-authorship Marcia B.

Baxter Magolda,1999 This book is intended to help college faculty create conditions in which students learn to construct knowledge in their disciplines and achieve self authorship A significant and often overlooked dimension mediating learning and self authorship centers on learners ways of knowing or their assumptions about the nature limits and certainty of knowledge A learner who assumes that all knowledge is certain expects to hear answers from an authority figure in contrast a learner who views knowledge as relative expects to explore multiple viewpoints By taking a constructive developmental approach the author demonstrates how students ability to construct knowledge is intertwined with the development of their assumptions about knowledge itself and their role in creating it She shows how the structure of constructive developmental teaching hinges on three principles validating students ability to know situating learning in students experience and defining learning as teachers and students mutually constructing meaning The book also takes abstract pedagogical principles and translates them into practical approaches Fox Fire Girl O Thiam Chin,2017 Encyclopedia of American Folklife Simon

J Bronner,2015-03-04 American folklife is steeped in world cultures or invented as new culture always evolving yet often practiced as it was created many years or even centuries ago This fascinating encyclopedia explores the rich and varied cultural traditions of folklife in America from barn raisings to the Internet tattoos and Zydeco through expressions that include ritual custom crafts architecture food clothing and art Featuring more than 350 A Z entries Encyclopedia of American Folklife is wide ranging and inclusive Entries cover major cities and urban centers new and established immigrant groups as well as native Americans American territories such as Guam and Samoa major issues such as education and intellectual property and expressions of material culture such as homes dress food and crafts This encyclopedia covers notable folklife areas as well as general regional categories It addresses religious groups reflecting diversity within groups such as the Amish and the Jews age groups both old age and youth gangs and contemporary folk groups skateboarders and psychobillies placing all of them in the vivid tapestry of folklife in America In addition this resource offers useful insights on folklife concepts through entries such as community and group and tradition and culture The set also features complete indexes in each volume as well as a bibliography for further research Liberal Learning and the Art of Self-Governance Emily

Chamlee-Wright,2015-11-19 Concerns over affordability and accountability have tended to direct focus away from the central aims of liberal learning such as preparing minds for free inquiry and inculcating the habits of mind practical skills and values necessary for effective participation in civil society The contributors to this volume seek to understand better what it is that can be done on a day to day basis within institutions of liberal learning that shape the habits and practices of civil society The central argument of this volume is that institutions of liberal learning are critical to a developing and flourishing civil society. It is within these civil society incubators that the habits of open discourse are practiced and honed that a collaborative often contentious commitment to truth seeking serves as the rules that govern our work together that the rules of personal and widespread social cooperation are established practiced and refined. Many have made this argument as it relates to community based learning and we explore that theme here as well. But acquiring and practicing the habits of civil society recur within and throughout the college context in the classrooms in college governance structures in professional associations in collaborative research in the residence halls and on the playing field. To put it another way when they are at their best institutions of liberal learning are contexts in which students learn how to live in a free society and learn the art of self governance.

Advancing Race and Ethnicity in Education Richard Race, Vini Lander, 2014-05-19 This timely collection focuses on domestic and international education research on race and ethnicity. As co conveners of the British Education Research Associations BERA Special Education Group on Race and Ethnicity 2010 2013 Race and Lander are advocates for the promotion of race and ethnicity within education. With its unique structure and organisation of empirical material this volume collates contributions from global specialists and fresh new voices to bring cutting edge research and findings to a multi disciplinary marker which includes education sociology and political studies. The aim of this book is to promote and advocate a range of contemporary issues related to race ethnicity and inclusion in relation to pedagogy teaching and learning.

In Search of Human Nature Mary E. Clark, 2005-08-18 Human Nature offers a wide ranging and holistic view of human nature from all perspectives scientific historical and sociological. Mary Clark takes the most recent data from a dozen or more fields and works it together with clarifying anecdotes and thought provoking images to challenge conventional Western beliefs with hopeful new insights. Balancing the theories of cutting edge neuroscience with the insights of primitive mythologies Mary Clark provides down to earth suggestions for peacefully resolving global problems. Human Nature builds up a coherent and above all positive picture of who we really are.
