Improving Religious Education Through Teacher Training Friedrich Schweitzer, Rob Freathy, Stephen G. Parker, Henrik Simojoki, 2023 This book brings together two topics which have both been of increasing interest in different countries The first refers to the quality of Religious Education as a school subject RE in general the second is about the education of teachers of RE and its possible contribution to better quality RE There have been many public and often controversial debates concerning both of these topics The chapters contained in this volume however are not meant to continue such debates even if it is inevitable that they will contribute to these debates as well but to make use of research especially research on teacher education in the field of RE in order to provide insights based not just on political or personal opinions but on rigorous academic scholarship

The Art of Storytelling for Teachers and Pupils Elizabeth Grugeon, Paul Garder, 2013-12-19 First Published in 2000 At the start of the new millennium the definition of literacy has taken on multiple electronic possibilities But this is a book about the foundations of literacy in orality in the words stories and culture of every individual This book explores the relation of storytelling to literacy and the role of story in human life

Reforming Religious Education: Power and Knowledge in a Worldviews Curriculum Mark Chater, 2020-03-20 Mark Chater's brilliant new book diagnoses the reasons why RE urgently needs radical reform and looks ahead to a time when the subject will have a new identity based on a clear democratic purpose. The book shines a light on how key leaders can make this happen and how the new good practice is already breaking through. It is edited and authored by experts and leading change agents in RE who offer a well informed and provocative vision and programme for change.

Religious Diversity and Intercultural Education John Keast, Council of Europe, 2007-01-01. This reference book is intended to help teachers, teacher administrators, policy makers and others deal with the important issue of religious diversity in Europe's schools. The religious dimension of intercultural education is an issue that affects all schools whether they are religiously diverse or not because their pupils live and will work in increasingly diverse societies. The book is the main outcome of the project 'The Challenge of intercultural education today: religious diversity and dialogue in Europe' developed by the Council of Europe between 2002 and 2005. It is in four parts: theoretical and conceptual basis for religious diversity and intercultural education; educational conditions and methodological approaches; religious diversity in schools in different settings; examples of current practice in some member states of the Council of Europe.

Dialogue and Conflict on Religion. Studies of Classroom Interaction in European Countries Ina ter Avest, Dan-Paul Jozsa, Thorsten Knauth, Javier Rosón, Geir Skeie, 2009. Regarding teaching about religions and worldviews, there is a gap between the ambitions of educational policies and our knowledge about what really happens in the classroom. Research on classroom interaction about religion is not very far developed either nationally or as international and as comparative research. There is a growing awareness, however, that research on pupils' perspectives on religion in education is needed in order to develop sustainable approaches for future education and this book is a contribution to this research. The classroom can be seen as an arena both for learning and for micro politics. This arena is shaped and sometimes challenged and restricted or even curtailed by the wider societal and political context. In this book we present studies of classroom interaction that focus on the micro sociological level of research. The studies presented open up a rather unexplored field of international comparative research on religion in education and the role of diversity for classroom interaction, giving deeper insights into what happens in classrooms displaying varieties of interactive patterns and relating these to their specific contexts.

The Effective Teaching of Religious Education Brenda Watson, Penny Thompson, 2014-04-23. The Effective Teaching of Religious Education provides an accessible yet intellectually rigorous resource for all those involved in the teaching of RE in schools today. Written with the needs of specialist and non specialist teachers in mind in both the primary and secondary sectors, it successfully integrates theory and practice, encouraging debate and reflection on a broad range of issues in what is often regarded as a complex and often controversial subject area. The second edition has been written with the collaboration of a new co-author Penny Thompson and has been thoroughly updated, revised and extended to include a new chapter on the place of Christianity in RE, new material on the purpose of RE and on the relationship of RE to other subjects, a new Appendix on tackling assessment and syllabus requirements, and a new companion
