Languages and Cultures Rosemary Chapman, 2009-04-01 Gabrielle Roy is one of the best known figures of Quebec literature yet she spent much of the first thirty years of her life studying working and living in English For Roy as a member of Manitoba's francophone minority bilingualism was a necessary strategy for survival and success How did this bilingual and bicultural background help shape her work as a writer in French The implications of her linguistic and cultural identity are explored in chapters looking at education language translation and the representation of Canada's other minorities from the immigrants in Western Canada to the Inuit of Ungava What emerges is a new reading of Roy's work Drawing on archival material postcolonial theory and translation studies Between Languages and Cultures explores the traces and effects of Roy's intimate knowledge of English language and culture challenging and augmenting the established view that her work is distinctly French Canadian or Québécois

Ana Rojo, Iraide Ibarretxe-Antuñano, 2013-07-15 The papers compiled in the present volume aim at investigating the many fruitful manners in which cognitive linguistics can expand further on cognitive translation studies Some papers e.g. Halverson Muñoz Martínez de León take a theoretical stand since the epistemological and ontological bases of both areas cognitive linguistics and translation studies should be known before specific contributions of cognitive linguistic to translation are tackled Several works in the volume attempt to illustrate how some of the notions imported from cognitive linguistics may contribute to enrich our understanding of the translation process in a general translation problem such as metaphor e.g. Samaniego the relationship between form and meaning e.g. Tabakowska Rojo and Valenzuela or cultural aspects e.g. Bernárdez Sharifian Jamarani Others use translation as an empirical field to test some of the basic assumptions of cognitive linguistics such as frames e.g. Boas metonymy e.g. Brdar Brdar Szab and lexicalisation patterns e.g. Ibarretxe Antuñano Filipovi Finally another set of papers e.g. Feist Hatzidaki opens up new lines of investigation for experimental research a very promising area still underdeveloped

Hermeneutics and the Problem of Translating Traditional Arabic Texts Alsayed M. Aly Ismail,2017-08-21 This book focuses on the problematic issues arising when translating and interpreting classical Arabic texts which represent a challenging business for many scholars especially with regards to religious texts Additionally the reception of these interpretations and translations not only informs the perception of Muslims and their awareness of the outside world but also impacts the vision and perception of non Muslims of Islam and the Muslim world Consequently this book reconsiders the concepts of understanding and interpretation and their nexus in the mechanism of translation and proposes a novel hermeneutic method of translating interpreting and understanding traditional and classical Arab texts Handling the issues of understanding from a hermeneutical perspective is shown here to remove the possibility of translation and interpretation rendering a distorted translated text Drawing on the powerful interpretive theories of Hans Georg Gadamer and Martin Heidegger the hermeneutic method of translation starts from a premise that the meaning of a classical text cannot be deduced solely by linguistic analysis of its words but requires in depth investigation of the invisible contextual elements that control and shape its meaning Traditional texts are seen in this model as travelling texts whose meaning is transformed across time and space The hermeneutic method of translation allows the translator to identify those elements from the real world that informed a classical text at the time of its writing so that it can be adapted and made relevant to its contemporary context Traditional texts can enlighten our minds and cultivate our souls religious texts can elevate our behavior and thinking and help refine our confused contemporary lives When texts become isolated from their world they lose this lofty goal of enlightenment and elevation Theories of Translation Rainer Schulte,John Biguenet,2017-12-12 Spanning the centuries from the seventeenth to the twentieth and ranging across cultures from England to Mexico this collection gathers together important statements on the function and feasibility of literary translation The essays provide an overview of the historical evolution in thinking about translation and offer strong individual opinions by prominent contemporary theorists Most of the twenty one pieces appear in translation some here in English for the first time and many difficult to find elsewhere Selections include writings by Scheiermacher Nietzsche Ortega Benjamin Pound Jakobson Paz Riffaterre Derrida and others A fine companion to The Craft of Translation this volume will be a valuable resource for all those who translate those who teach translation theory and practice and those interested in questions of language philosophy and literary theory

The Future of Translation Technology Chan Sin-wai, 2016-10-26 Technology has revolutionized the field of translation bringing drastic changes to the way translation is studied and done To an average user technology is simply about clicking buttons and storing data What we need to do is to look beyond a system's interface to see what is at work and what should be done to make it work more efficiently This book is both macroscopic and microscopic in approach macroscopic as it adopts a holistic orientation when outlining the development of translation technology in the last forty years organizing concepts in a coherent and logical way with a theoretical framework and predicting what is to come in the years ahead microscopic as it examines in detail the five stages of technology oriented translation procedure and the strengths and weaknesses of the free and paid systems available to users The Future of Translation Technology studies among other issues The Development of Translation Technology Major Concepts in Computer aided Translation Functions in Computer aided Translation Systems A Theoretical Framework for Computer Aided Translation Studies The Future of Translation Technology This book is an essential read for scholars and researchers of translational studies and computational linguistics and a guide to system users and professionals

Redefining Translation Lance Hewson, Jacky Martin, 2018-10-17 Originally published in 1991 Redefining Translation looks at the practical results and theory of translation as a key area for all those investigating language and culture The book addresses the need to consolidate advances in the field of translation and critically evaluate the variety of conflicting approaches The book proposes a comprehensive approach to the study of translation looking at the topic from a theoretical point of view and provides an applicable approach to the everyday practice of translation

Encyclopedic Dictionary of Semiotics, Media, and Communication Marcel Danesi, 2000-08-01 Semiotics Media Studies and Communication Studies are three closely interlinked fields Briefly stated Semiotics the science of signs looks at how humans search for and construct meaning Communication Studies is concerned with how meaning is conveyed and Media Studies considers the ways in which messages are transmitted and received This dictionary is designed to help students and general readers unlock the significance of the terminology and jargon commonly used in these fields Being interdisciplinary in nature Semiotics Media and Communication Studies are cluttered with notions derived from other disciplines Hence this dictionary also encompasses basic concepts from the fields of anthropology archaeology psychology psychoanalysis linguistics philosophy artificial intelligence computer science and biology Collected here are the terms concepts personages schools of thought and historical movements that appear frequently in the relevant literature The basis of each entry is a simple definition which often includes the term's origin. Illustrations are provided where necessary along with historical sketches of movements or schools of thought. The commentary on personages consists of brief statements about their contribution and relevance. Thus the dictionary not only defines what a term means but often goes into its history, applications and broad implications. Terms are cross-referenced and their etymology is given where possible. This is a compact practical research manual that will relieve much tension for students in semiotics and related fields. Because of its interdisciplinary approach it will also provide a range of scholars with a handy reference to disciplines distinct from but related to their own.

Towards the Multilingual Semantic Web Paul Buitelaar, Philipp Cimiano, 2014-11-13

To date the relation between multilingualism and the Semantic Web has not yet received enough attention in the research community. One major challenge for the Semantic Web community is to develop architectures, frameworks and systems that can help in overcoming national and language barriers, facilitating equal access to information produced in different cultures and languages. As such, this volume aims at documenting the state of the art with regard to the vision of a Multilingual Semantic Web in which semantic information will be accessible in and across multiple languages. The Multilingual Semantic Web as envisioned in this volume will support the following functionalities:

1. responding to information needs in any language with regard to semantically structured data available on the Semantic Web and Linked Open Data (LOD) cloud
2. verbalizing and accessing semantically structured data, ontologies or other conceptualizations in multiple languages
3. harmonizing, integrating, aggregating, comparing and repurposing semantically structured data across languages
4. aligning and reconciling ontologies or other conceptualizations across languages

The volume is divided into three main sections: Principles, Methods and Applications. The section on Principles discusses models, architectures and methodologies that enrich the current Semantic Web architecture with features necessary to handle multiple languages. The section on Methods describes algorithms and approaches for solving key issues related to the construction of the Multilingual Semantic Web. The section on Applications describes the use of Multilingual Semantic Web based approaches in the context of several application domains. This volume is essential reading for all academic and industrial researchers who want to embark on this new research field at the intersection of various research topics including the Semantic Web, Linked Data, natural language processing, computational linguistics, terminology and information retrieval. It will also be of great interest to practitioners who are interested in re-examining their existing infrastructure and methodologies for handling multiple languages in Web applications or information retrieval systems.
