SEND Strategies for the Primary Years Georgina Durrant, 2024-06-06. With as many as 13% of children in schools in England receiving some form of SEN support and waiting times of up to 3-5 years for a child to receive a formal diagnosis, there is a critical need for strategies teachers can use in the classroom and parents can use at home. Now SEND Strategies for the Primary Years is the solution you've been looking for. The book gives teachers and parents practical strategies that they can put in place while they wait for diagnosis, assessment, or support. The strategies are practical, easy to implement, and resource-relevant to children who may be impacted by a range of SEND, including autism, PDA, ADHD, dyslexia, DCD, dyscalculia, sensory processing differences, speech, language, and communication needs, and more. The book is split into seven areas of difficulties and provides the relevant support for Speech language and communication, Literacy, Numeracy, Motor skills, Emotional regulation, Sensory differences, Concentration, and organisation. Each chapter contains simple, effective actions to differentiate and improve learning outcomes for pupils who need more support in the classroom as well as at home. Each activity is supported by a demonstrative video accessible via QR code. This book and the strategies can be used by any teacher or parent, not just SEND specialists. Georgina Durrant is a former teacher and SENDCO and the founder of The SEN Resources Blog, a leading SEND website in the UK, and this book features her trademark neuro-affirmative, supportive approach throughout.

Developing Writers Across the Primary and Secondary Years Honglin Chen, Debra Myhill, Helen Lewis, 2020-03-09. Writing development and pedagogy is a high priority area, particularly with standardised testing showing declines in writing across time and through the years of schooling. However, to date, there are relatively few texts for teachers and teacher educators which detail how best to enable the children to become confident, autonomous, and agentic writers of the future. Developing Writers Across the Primary and Secondary Years provides cumulative insights into how writing develops and how it can be taught across years of compulsory schooling. This edited collection is a timely and original contribution addressing a significant literacy need for teachers of writing across three key stages of writing development, covering early 4-7 years old, primary 7-12 years old, and secondary years 12-16 years old in Anglophone countries. Each section addresses two broader themes: becoming a writer with a child-oriented focus and writing pedagogy with a teacher-oriented focus. Together, the book brings to bear rigorous research and deep professional understanding of the writing classroom. It offers a novel approach to conceiving of writing development as a dynamic and multidimensional concept. Such an integrated, interdisciplinary understanding enables pedagogical thinking and development to address more holistically the complex act of writing.
