Langone,2011-06-21 When a service banner adorned with stars was displayed in a homes window during World War II it meant a family member was involved in the war Some of the soldiers never returned but those who did come home carried memories and war stories In The Star in the Window author Louis C Langone tells the stories of more than seventy five WWII veterans who lived in Waterville and Central New York Langone personally interviewed and listened to more than 100 men and women telling their wartime storiesfrom bombing missions over Europe to the island hopping campaigns of the Pacific to suffering as prisoners of war The narratives are supplemented with material from books periodicals the Internet press releases unit histories and letters providing a mix of memories and facts Photographs and community honor rolls are also included The Star in the Window not only preserves special WWII memories but also gives insight into the hardships endured and sacrifices made by the veterans of the Central New York area It provides an opportunity to experience history through the eyes and ears of veterans from the various military branches of service revealing shocking and obscure incidents of the war Navy Medicine ,1994 The American GI in Europe in World War II The Battle in France J. E. Kaufmann,H. W. Kaufmann,2010-02-19 Firsthand accounts and contextual narrative chronicling the war in Europe after D Day Sidebars on glider operations rear area activities hedgerow country and more Based on interviews with more than 200 veterans Neptune Craig L. Symonds,2014-04-10 Seventy years ago more than six thousand Allied ships carried more than a million soldiers across the English Channel to a fifty mile wide strip of the Normandy coast in German occupied France It was the greatest sea borne assault in human history The code names given to the beaches where the ships landed the soldiers have become immortal Gold Juno Sword Utah and especially Omaha the scene of almost unimaginable human tragedy The sea of crosses in the cemetery sitting today atop a bluff overlooking the beaches recalls to us its cost Most accounts of this epic story begin with the landings on the morning of June 6 1944 In fact however D Day was the culmination of months and years of planning and intense debate In the dark days after the evacuation of Dunkirk in the summer of 1940 British officials and soon enough their American counterparts began to consider how and where and especially when they could re enter the European Continent in force The Americans led by U S Army Chief of Staff General George C Marshall wanted to invade as soon as possible the British personified by their redoubtable prime minister Winston Churchill were convinced that a premature landing would be disastrous The often sharp negotiations between the English speaking allies led them first to North Africa then into Sicily then Italy Only in the spring of 1943 did the Combined Chiefs of Staff commit themselves to an invasion of northern France The code name for this invasion was Overlord but everything that came before including the landings themselves and the supply system that made it possible for the invaders to stay there was code named Neptune Craig L Symonds now offers the complete story of this Olympian effort involving transports escorts gunfire support ships and landing craft of every possible size and function The obstacles to success were many In addition to divergent strategic views and cultural frictions the Anglo Americans had to overcome German U boats Russian impatience fierce competition for insufficient shipping training disasters and a thousand other impediments including logistical bottlenecks and disinformation schemes Symonds includes vivid portraits of the key decision makers from Franklin Roosevelt and Churchill to Marshall Dwight Eisenhower and Admiral Sir Bertram Ramsay who commanded the naval element of the invasion Indeed the critical role of the naval forces British and American Coast Guard and Navy is central throughout In the end as Symonds shows in this gripping account of D Day success depended mostly on the men themselves the junior officers and enlisted men who drove the landing craft cleared the mines seized the beaches and assailed the bluffs behind them securing the foothold for the eventual campaign to Berlin and the end of the most terrible war in human history Tiger, Tiger James
