Exercises In Lip Pointing:

Exercises in Lip Pointing Marie Annharte Baker, 2003 Exercises in Lip Pointing is a new collection of poems by respected First Nations writer Annharte. She uses oral sounds and written signs to probe and prod the reader to ask the right questions to lay bare the contradictions and delights in the serendipities of her experience. She makes us laugh, cry and learn. Poets Talk Pauline Butling, Susan Rudy, 2005-01-15 This is a book that takes on the hard questions about the role of poets in society together with the challenges of reading difficult poetry. Using the relaxed format of the personal interview, Butling and Rudy open doors to some of the most challenging and important poetry of the 1990s. Robert Kroetsch talks about his dread of systems and his subversive use of sub-literary forms. Erin Mour and Daphne Marlatt discuss the feminist trajectories in their work, how to jump circuits and activate alternative networks. Dionne Brand links her poetics to Marxist politics and Pan-African liberation movements. Annharte explains her use of humour to de-program Native people. Jeff Derksen wants to disarticulate and rearticulate linguistic and social systems while Fred Wah emphasizes the role of poetry in changing how we see the world. Recalling Recitation in the Americas Janet Neigh, 2017-11-29 Spoken word is one of the most popular styles of poetry in North America. While its prevalence is often attributed to the form's strong ties to oral culture, Recalling Recitation in the Americas reveals how poetry memorization and recitation curricula shaped by British Imperial policy influenced contemporary performance practices. During the early twentieth century, educators frequently used the recitation of canonical poems to instill proper speech and behaviour in classrooms in Canada, the Caribbean, and the United States. Janet Neigh critically analyses three celebrated performance poets: E. Pauline Johnson (1861-1913), Langston Hughes (1902-1967), and Louise Bennett (1919-2006), who refashioned recitation to cultivate linguistic diversity and to resist its disciplinary force. Through an examination of the dialogues among their poetic projects, Neigh illuminates how their complicated legacies as national icons obscure their similar approaches to resisting Anglicization. Recalling Recitation in the Americas focuses on the unexplored relationship between education history and literary form and establishes the far-reaching effects of poetry memorization and recitation on the development of modern performance poetry in North America.

In the Belly of a Laughing God Jennifer Andrews, Jennifer Courtney Elizabeth Andrews, 2011-01-01 In the Belly of a Laughing God examines how eight contemporary Native women poets in Canada and the United States employ humour and irony to address the intricacies of race, gender, and nationality. Kaniuth, 2008-12-16 Banach algebras are Banach spaces equipped with a continuous multiplication. In rough terms there are three types of them: algebras of bounded linear operators on Banach spaces with composition and the operator norm; algebras consisting of bounded continuous functions on topological spaces with pointwise product and the uniform norm; and algebras of integrable functions on locally compact groups with convolution as multiplication. These all play a key role in modern analysis. Much of operator theory is best approached from a Banach algebra point of view and many questions in complex analysis such as approximation by polynomials or rational functions in specific domains are best understood within the framework of Banach algebras. Also the study of a locally compact Abelian group is closely related to the study of the group algebra  $L^1(G)$ . There exists a rich literature and excellent texts on each single class of Banach algebras notably on uniform algebras and on operator algebras. This work is intended as a textbook which provides a thorough introduction to the theory of commutative Banach algebras and stresses the applications to commutative harmonic analysis while also touching on uniform algebras. In this sense and purpose the book resembles Larsen's classical text [75] which shares many themes and has been a valuable resource. However for advanced graduate students and researchers I have covered several topics which have not been published in books before including some journal articles.

Restoring the Balance Gail Guthrie Valaskakis, Eric Guimond, Madeleine Dion Stout, 2011-07-15 First Nations peoples believe the eagle flies with a female wing and a male wing showing the importance of balance between the feminine and the masculine in all aspects of individual and community experiences. Centuries of colonization however have devalued the traditional roles of First Nations women causing a great gender imbalance that limits the abilities of men, women and their communities in achieving self-actualization. Restoring the Balance brings to light the work First Nations women have performed and continue to perform in cultural continuity and community development. It illustrates the challenges and successes they have had in the areas of law, politics, education, community healing, language and art while suggesting significant options for sustained improvement of individual, family and community well-being. Written by fifteen Aboriginal scholars, activists and community leaders, Restoring the Balance combines life histories and biographical accounts with historical and critical analyses grounded in traditional thought and approaches. It is a powerful and important book.
