Gallardo,Christine J. Yeh,Joseph E. Trimble,Thomas A. Parham,2011-01-24 A key supplement for courses on multicultural counseling this book is a practical volume that will help faculty and students see demonstrations of multicultural counseling in practice The text covers evidence based practices for working with five major ethnic groups while weaving in other factors such as gender disability sexuality and more Each chapter has two case studies by an invited expert who also provides commentary and lessons drawing upon each case Conversations and Transformations Ananta Kumar Giri,2002-01-01 In this intriguing new book

Indian social theorist Ananta Kumar Giri issues a stirring call for scholars of contemporary social theory and practice to grapple with late modernity's most pressing social and political issues. Giri counterposes Western thought with Indian social theory in a work that ranges across an array of Indian texts and ideas hitherto ignored by Western scholarship. Included along with the mainstays of Indian intellectual thought like Gandhi and Sri Aurobindo are lesser known Indian social theorists, economists, sociologists, and essayists who argue for transcendence of self interest, social responsibility, and political renewal. Thoughtfully argued and lucidly written, this work offers the reader a genuine transdisciplinary learning experience going beyond European ethnocentrism to make social theory a truly global conversation.

Social Development Alison Clarke-Stewart, Ross D. Parke, 2014-01-21. Social Development 2nd Edition provides psychologists with a comprehensive, scholarly, engaging, and up to date treatment of theoretical insights and empirical findings in the field of social development. It conveys the excitement of recent advances along with the accumulated knowledge that forms the basis of the field. Psychologists will gain a better understanding of cultural variation both among societies around the world and within our own society.

Culture, Heritage and Representation Steve Watson, 2016-12-05. The visual has long played a crucial role in forming experiences, associations, expectations, and understandings of heritage. Images convey meaning within a range of practices including tourism, identity construction, the popularization of the past through a variety of media, and the memorialization of events. However, despite the central role of the visual in these contexts, it has been largely neglected in heritage literature. This edited collection is the first to explore the production, use, and consumption of visual imagery as an integral part of heritage. Drawing on case studies from around the world, it provides a multidisciplinary analysis of heritage representations, combining complex understandings of the visual from a wide range of disciplines including heritage studies, sociology, and cultural studies perspectives. In doing so, the book provides a comprehensive overview of the theoretical and methodological tools necessary for understanding visual imagery within its cultural context.

Racial Mixture and Musical Mash-ups in the Life and Art of Bruno Mars Melinda A. Mills, 2020-11-13. This book argues that Bruno Mars is uniquely positioned to borrow from his heritage and experiential knowledge as well as his musical talent, performative expertise, and hybrid identities, culturally, ethnically, and racially, to remix music that can create new music nostalgia. Melinda Mills attends to the ways that Mars is precariously positioned in relation to all of the racial and ethnic groups that constitute his known background and argues that this complexity serves him well in the contemporary moment. Engaging in the performative politics of blackness allows Mars to advocate for social justice by employing his artistic agency. Through his entertainment and the everyday practice of joy, Mars models a way of moving through the world that counters its harsh realities. Through his music and performance, Mars provides a way for a reconceptualization of race and a reimagining of the future.

Identity Around the World Seth J. Schwartz, 2012-12-12. Examine the structure and context of identity development in a number of different countries: Belgium, the Netherlands, Germany, Sweden, Italy, China, and Japan. While some identity development proceeds in much the same way across national contexts this issue suggests that there are important nuances in the ways in which identity unfolds in each country Macro-cultural forces such as permissiveness in Sweden collective guilt in Germany and filial piety in China direct the identity development process in important ways Expectations regarding obligations and ties to family also direct the identity development process differently in many of the countries included in this volume such as extended co-residence with parents in Italy lifelong obligations to follow parents' wishes in China and democratic independence in Sweden The various countries are compared and contrasted against the United States where much of the early identity research was conducted The volume also reviews specific identity challenges facing immigrant and ethnic minority individuals in countries that receive large numbers of immigrants Germany Sweden Belgium the Netherlands and Italy and suggests many future directions for identity research in various parts of the world This is the 138th volume in this series Its mission is to provide scientific and scholarly presentations on cutting edge issues and concepts in child and adolescent development Each volume focuses on a specific new direction or research topic and is edited by experts on that topic
