Evaluation Use and Decision-Making in Society Christina A. Christie, Anne Vo, 2015-06-01 This volume addresses a fundamental and highly debated issue in the evaluation field the use of evaluation information for decision making Chapter authors honor the contributions of Professor Marvin C Alkin to the evaluation use literature and advance our thinking on the topic by exploring a wide range of issues related to the theoretical and practical challenges of using evaluation information to make informed evidence based decisions Readers will come away from this volume with a new and clearer understanding of the theoretical contextual methodological and political dimensions of use and with direction for practice Chapters are written by leading evaluation scholars including Ernest House Stewart Donaldson and Tarek Azzam Eric Barela Richard D Nunneley Jr Jean A King Kelli Johnson and Laura Pejsa Eleanor Chelimsky Michael Quinn Patton and Wanda D Casillas Rodney K Hopson and Ricardo L Gomez

Evaluation Use and Decision Making in Society A Tribute to Marvin C Alkin will be of great interest to evaluation students scholars and practitioners This volume has scholarly application for those who desire a state of the art resource for the latest insights and perspectives on one of the most pressing issues that the evaluation field faces today while also serving as a useful guide for both novice and experienced evaluation practitioners It is appropriate for use in a variety of evaluation courses including Introduction to Evaluation and Procedural Issues in Evaluation as well as topical seminars such as Evaluation Use and Decision Making

Evaluation Roots Marvin C. Alkin, 2004-02-19 Concern for evaluation theoretical prescriptions emerged about 40 years ago giving it a history that is both recent enough to be part of the living experience of many of today s theorists and old enough to afford an opportunity for an analysis of how the field has evolved over time This book examines current evaluation theories and traces their evolution with the point of view that theories build upon theories and therefore evaluation theories are related to each other Initially all evaluation was derived from social science research methodology and accountability concerns The way in which these evaluation roots grew to form a tree helps to provide a better understanding of evaluation theory Thus the book uses an evaluation theory tree as its central metaphor The authors posit that evaluation theories can be classified by the extent to which they focus on methods uses or valuing these three approaches form the major limbs of the tree In addition to the authors overview which analyzes the evaluation theory tree and connections among theories the book contains essays by most of the leading evaluation theorists In these pieces the evaluators comment on their own development and give their views of their placement upon the tree

Evaluation Utilization Larry J. Weber, Robert W. Covert, Robert B. Ingle, 1988-10-11

This volume of New Directions for Program Evaluation serves as a vehicle to report the observations and practices of evaluators from a number of perspectives regarding the utilization of evaluations. Topical interest groups from the American Evaluation Association are represented in these chapters as well as authors engaged in research on evaluation. The sourcebook represents a review of factors that promote or inhibit utilization and a compendium of new directions in examining utilization. It provides a forum for the continued examination of the issues and practices associated with the utilization of program evaluations including a review of old concepts as well as new and emergent ideas about utilization. This is the 39th issue of New Directions for Program Evaluation. For more information on the series please see the Journals and Periodicals page.

Enhancing Evaluation Use Marlène Läubli Loud, John Mayne, 2013-04-17 This book is valuable to those involved in the evaluation of public organisations. Particularly insightful is the realization that similar challenges faced in various organizations are addressed with very different solutions.

The Program Evaluation Standards Joint Committee on Standards for Educational Evaluation, James R. Sanders, 1994-04-06 The Program Evaluation Standards is a must have book for anyone responsible for reviewing evaluation proposals, planning and conducting evaluations, managing evaluation projects or judging the merit and worth of evaluations once completed. For experienced practitioners it provides a set of values and principles by which to guide successful practice that is a set of criteria that determines whether educational evaluations are trustworthy and fair. The Standards sets expectations of the design and implementation of educational evaluation for all practitioners in all types of educational arenas even those involved in social programming endeavors. For newcomers and those less experienced who may be responsible for commissioning and using evaluations the Standards supplies a useful framework of generating a list of questions to raise about any evaluation plan or final report in an effort to assess its pros and cons. The book is an invaluable how to resource for graduate students venturing out into the field and it instills a sense of what it means to be a responsible evaluator. For clients or consumers the book offers advice on what they should expect of an evaluation.

Evaluation Models D.L. Stufflebeam, George F. Madaus, T. Kellaghan, 2005-12-19 This is an up to date revision of the classic text first published in 1983. It includes a historical perspective on the growth of evaluation theory and practice and two comparative analyses of the various alternative perspectives on evaluation. It also includes articles representing the major schools of thought about evaluation written by the leaders who have developed these schools and models. The final section describes and discusses the Standards for Program Evaluation and the reformation of program evaluation.

Interactive Evaluation Practice Jean A. King, Laurie Stevahn, 2012-04-12 You're about to start your first evaluation project. Where do you begin? Or you're a practicing evaluator faced with a challenging situation. How do you proceed? How do you handle the interactive components and processes inherent in evaluation practice? Use Interactive Evaluation Practice to bridge the gap between the theory of evaluation and its practice. Taking an applied approach this book provides readers with specific interactive skills needed in different evaluation settings and contexts The authors illustrate multiple options for developing skills and choosing strategies systematically highlighting the evaluator's three roles as decision maker actor and reflective practitioner Case studies and interactive examples stimulate thinking about how to apply interactive skills across a variety of evaluation situations From beginning to end this book is an indispensable resource for those responsible for the evaluation process In essence here's a chance to learn from masters about acquiring mastery What could be more useful Michael Quinn Patton Author of Utilization Focused Evaluation At long last a book that explicitly addresses the importance of interpersonal dynamics in evaluation practice Hallie Preskill Executive Director Strategic Learning and Evaluation Center FSG As an evaluator who frequently interacts with a variety of stakeholders and who provides graduate level evaluation training I find Interactive Evaluation Practice to be an exceptional addition to the evaluation literature and a useful guide to interacting with various stakeholder groups Chris L S Coryn Western Michigan University
