sources and their rendering The basic source for the study of Ugaritic is a corpus of texts written in an alphabetic cuneiform script unknown before 1929 this script represents consonants fully and exactly but gives only limited and equivocal indication of vowels Our knowledge of the Ugaritic language is supplemented by evidence from Akkadian texts found at Ugarit and containing many Ugaritic words especially names written in the syllabic cuneiform script Scholars reconstructing the lost language of Ugarit draw finally on a wide variety of comparative linguistic data data from texts not found at Ugarit as well as from living languages Evidence from Phoenician Hebrew Amorite Aramaic Arabic Akkadian Ethiopic and recently also Eblaitic can be applied to good effect For the student as well as for the research scholar it is important that the various sources of Ugaritic be distinguished in modern transliteration or transcription Since many of the texts found at Ugarit are fragmentary or physically damaged it is well for students to be clear about what portion of a text that they are reading actually survives and what portion is a modern attempt to fill in the blanks While the selected texts in section 8 reflect the state of preservation in detail in the other sections of the grammar standardized forms are presented based on all available evidence In 1929 the first cuneiform tablet inscribed with previously unknown signs was found during archeological excavations at Ras Shamra ancient Ugarit in northern Syria Since then a special discipline sometimes called Ugaritology has arisen The impact
