Humans An Introduction To Four Field Anthropology:

Humans Alice Beck Kehoe, 1998 Humans presents the breadth of anthropology in a concise textbook planned for use with supplementary ethnographies. Designed for either an introductory four field or cultural anthropology course, it covers the basic concepts of linguistics, archaeology, physical and cultural anthropology in a readable style with well-chosen illustrative examples. Instructors have found ethnographies most effective for teaching anthropological understanding; this text's brevity permits the instructor to assign several full-length case studies without skimping the foundation for a holistic approach. The text covers the discipline and its major sub-fields with a minimal use of technical terms. Both photo essays drawn from the author's own fieldwork and examples taken from popular culture work to engage students, prompting them to question how it is we know what we know. A solid foundational text, Humans will suit any program.

Humans Alice Beck Kehoe, Andrew J. Petto, 2022-12-30 Humans is a concise jargon-free introduction to four-field anthropology. This book outlines and breaks down a complex discipline to identify some of the most important and relevant questions in anthropology. It provides students with an understanding of the unity of the human species, the adaptation of societies to their environments, physical and political, and an appreciation of the power of socialization into a culture. The authors ensure that the book takes a balanced approach to all four fields, covering topics such as cultural relativism, humans as a biological species, primates, communicating, economics, and religion. Pedagogical features include a study guide and notes for instructors. This second edition is fully updated with brand-new material on evolution, genetics, and archaeology to reflect the latest research and recent changes in the field. This book is an ideal introduction for students embarking on an anthropology course for the first time.

Humans Alice Beck Kehoe, 2013-12-02 First Published in 1998, Routledge is an imprint of Taylor & Francis, an information company.

Hearts and Minds Thomas David Kehoe, 2003 Mammals raising their young evolved brains hardwired for emotional relationships. Around this mammalian core, humans evolved a new, larger brain for abstract thinking. Too often, our abstract thinking gets in the way of emotionally connecting with other people. Hearts and Minds shows you how to improve your relationships by integrating these different brain systems. Plus, you'll find the best places to meet single men and women. page 93 How young men and women fall in love with mirrors of themselves. page 74 when mature men and women love their real partners, including accepting their faults. page 83 How switching gender roles moves dating into a committed relationship. page 139 How to use conflicts to strengthen a relationship. page 146

The Oxford Handbook of Archaeology and Language Martine Robbeets, Mark Hudson, 2025-06-09 This volume provides a comprehensive and up-to-date overview of how archaeology, genes, and language can be combined to shed light on the human past. Our understanding of human prehistory has been revolutionized in recent years by the growth of interdisciplinary perspectives and particularly by insights from the study of ancient DNA. At a time when the Big Data movement in genetics and archaeology is beginning to make inroads into linguistics, The Oxford Handbook of Archaeology and Language sets the agenda for future research in the discipline of archaeolinguistics The handbook is divided into three parts The first part introduces the basic frameworks of archaeolinguistics addressing recent trends and new perspectives Chapters in Part II explore the application of archaeolinguistics to different stages in human history from hunter gathering via the adoption of farming and the rise of writing to modern times Part III features regional case studies from different parts of the world including not only Indo European but also Uralic Transeurasian Sino Tibetan Paleosiberian Tai Kadai Austronesian Papuan Australian Afrasian Nilo Saharan Niger Congo Kalahari Basin Andean and Lowland South American languages In illustrating the extent to which linguistic archaeological and genetic histories align or differ the volume goes beyond the level of broad brush approaches by engaging specialists from a range of disciplines as co authors shedding light on language dynamics from multiple perspectives

Communicating Ruth Finnegan, 2005-06-29 In Communicating the anthropologist Ruth Finnegan considers the many and varied modes through which we humans communicate and the multisensory resources we draw on The book uncovers the amazing array of sounds sights smells gestures looks movements touches and material objects which humans use so creatively to interconnect both nearby and across space and time resources consistently underestimated in those western ideologies that prioritise rationality and referential language

The Nature of Difference George Ellison, Alan H. Goodman, 2006-04-19 Unprecedented advances in genetics and biotechnology have brought profound new insights into human biological variation These present challenges and opportunities for understanding the origins of human nature the nature of difference and the social practices these sustain This provides an opportunity for cooperation between the biological and s

In Hot Pursuit of Language in Prehistory John D. Bengtson, 2008 Compiled in honor and celebration of veteran anthropologist Harold C Fleming this book contains 23 articles by anthropologists in the general sense from the four main disciplines of prehistory archaeology biogenetics paleoanthropology and genetic historical linguistics Because of Professor Fleming s major focus on language he founded the Association for the Study of Language in Prehistory and the journal Mother Tongue the content of the book is heavily tilted toward the study of human language its origins historical development and taxonomy Because of Fleming s extensive field experience in Africa some of the articles deal with African topics This volume is intended to exemplify the principle in the words of Fleming himself that each of the four disciplines is enriched when it combines with any one of the other four. The authors are representative of the cutting edge of their respective fields and this book is unusual in including contributions from a wide range of anthropological fields rather than concentrating in any one of them. An Introduction to Global Studies Tuo Cai, Zhenye Liu, 2022-07-30. Since the 1950s globalization has been an increasingly irresistible trend and one that has exerted a tremendous impact on the political, economic, military, environmental, and social fortunes of mankind and yet existing theories in humanities and social sciences have been fundamentally built upon the traditional nation-state model. These two volumes, a pioneering work on global studies to be published out of China, aims at creating a new theoretical framework against the backdrop of globalization. Volume 1 introduces the core concepts and discusses the critical issues of globalization while the editors redefine notions of politics, economics, law, and globality while deploying globalization as a theoretical framework. Volume 2 examines the multi-level and multi-dimensional nature of globalization, analysing processes and systems of global society in the light of globalization and exploring the construction of a stable and rational global order. These two volumes of global studies are an essential reference for scholars and students in politics, economics, international relations, and law. Bulletin MLSA University of Michigan. College of Literature, Science, and the Arts, 2009.
