Innovation in Public Services Stephen P. Osborne, Louise Brown, Richard M. Walker, 2017-10-02 In response to changes in internal needs external organizational environments and the expectations of shareholders most notably citizens and politicians innovation is now an important common place aspect of governance and the running of public service organizations Given the ongoing financial and economic crisis which presents a significant challenge to public service organizations PSOs there is a growing need to establish innovative strategies in order to survive the crisis and provide the basis for future sustainable growth This book contributes towards the discussion of PSO innovation through theoretically informed empirical studies of innovation across a range of theories topics and fields Studies examine the role of citizens managers and public service organizations the adoption diffusion implementation and management of innovations collaboration communication and information technologies and decision making ethical principles HR management leadership and procurement The studies which examine the situation in a range of countries in Europe and Asia cover a range of different organizations such as non profits health service organizations and local governments This book was originally published as a special issue of Public Management Review Contractualism in Employment Services E. Sol, Mies Westerveld, Maria Westerveld, 2005-01-01 Among the issue explored are the following motivation mobility and flexibility in the labour market effect of contractualisation on public accountability and responsibility effect on the individual s statutory relationship under social security whether and to what extent the conditions on which one country successfully introduces contractualisation apply to other countries and the unemployed individual as contract partner What conditions can he or she set The analyses focus on experience with contracts as service deliverance in the labour markets of eight countries Australia the United Kingdom The Netherlands Belgium France Germany and Finland Because a certain measure of experience has already been built up by governments providers and clients now is the time to try and learn form good as well as bad practices in order to build coherent institutional frameworks to help the unemployed measurement and performance management, 2005 Contracts, Performance Measurements, and Accountability in the Public Sector Gavin Drewry, Carsten Greve, Thierry Tanguerel, 2005 This book addresses issues to do with public accountability audit and performance measurement that are both highly topical and of crucial importance to the theory and practice of public administration in an era of contractualized public management. The literature on public sector contracting covering both hard agreements ones that are legally enforceable and soft agreements enforced by negotiation and mutual trust has been growing for some time and the present book adds a primarily European perspective on contracting performance based management and accountability One important aspect of this study is its recognition that those responsible for monitoring public services and holding them to account have had to an increasing extent to reconcile tensions between on the one hand the need for strong oversight and on the other the encouragement of innovation and risk in an increasingly competitive and entrepreneurial public service culture Following an introductory overview by the three editors the book is in three parts The first part deals with the theory and practice of performance measurement and evaluation the second part provides a series of specific case studies of audit and accountability in a variety of countries and contexts the third part offers some wider cross cutting perspectives Based on the work of the EGPA permanent study group on the history of contractualization Contracts Performance Measurement and Accountability in the Public Sector draws upon the wide expertise and research interests of academics and practitioners from the United Kingdom Denmark Switzerland Belgium Sweden and the USA Social Interaction and Organisational Change Oswald Jones, Steve Conway, Fred Steward, 2001 This book provides a detailed multi disciplinary analysis of innovation networks in a variety of organisational settings All the contributors are employed at Aston Business School which is one of the UK s foremost institutions in terms of both teaching and research The book illustrates the way in which innovation networks are formed and sustained in a variety of organisational settings the public sector public private collaboration national policy level inter organisational credit links as well as the more traditional focus on manufacturing firms. The strength of the network approach is that it encourages detailed analyses of the dyadic links which must be mobilised in the innovation process At the same time networks provide a framework for exploring the multiple sources and pluralistic patterns of communication typical of innovatory activity Therefore in contrast to much of the innovation network research undertaken in recent years the focus of this book is as much on notions of OC network as methodOCO as on OC network as phenomenonOCO Contents Introduction Social Interaction and Organisational Change Micropolitics and Network Mapping Innovation Management in a Mature Firm
