L. Hubbard, editor, 1910 American Studies Jack Salzman, American Studies Association, 1986-08-29 A major three volume bibliography including an additional supplement of an annotated listing of American Studies monographs published between 1900 and 1988 Sounds American Ann Ostendorf, 2011 Sounds American provides new perspectives on the relationship between nationalism and cultural production by examining how Americans grappled with musical diversity in the early national and antebellum eras During this period a resounding call to create a distinctively American music culture emerged as a way to bind together the varied changing and uncertain components of the new nation This played out with particular intensity in the lower Mississippi River valley and New Orleans especially Ann Ostendorf argues that this region often considered an exception to the nation with its distance from the center of power its non British colonial past and its varied population actually shared characteristics of many other places eventually incorporated into the country thus making it a useful case study for the creation of American culture Ostendorf conjures the territory's phenomenally diverse music ways including grand operas and balls performances by church choirs and militia bands and itinerant violin instructors Music was often associated with foreigners in particular Germans French Irish and Africans For these outsiders music helped preserve collective identity But for critics concerned with developing a national culture this multitude of influences presented a dilemma that led to an obsessive categorization of music with racial ethnic or national markers Ultimately the shared experience of categorizing difference and consuming this music became a unifying national phenomenon Experiencing the unknown became a shared part of the American experience Notes and Sources for Folk Songs of the Catskills Norman Cazden, Herbert Haufrecht, Norman Studer, 1983-06-30 Notes and Sources for Folk Songs of the Catskills also published by the State University of New York Press is the companion volume to Folk Songs of the Catskills It contains extensive reference notes that exemplify and support detailed citations in the commentary preceding each song The book also includes a comprehensive list of sources including books broadsides or pocket songsters disc recordings music publications periodicals tape archives and other miscellaneous material as well as information on variants adaptations comments or references texts and tunes These notes are designed to provide succinct reference information as William Billings Henry Clay Work Irving Berlin Woody Guthrie Bob Dylan and Bruce Springsteen So that the full and diverse narrative of this complex nation might be recorded this insightful study is focused both upon the national myth and upon the songwriters and performers representing subcultures and alternative viewpoints that are the text of America's story Through hymnlike paeans and through discordant lamentations protesting the realities of the contemporary workaday world popular music is an astonishing mirror of American history

Music and Technoculture René T. A. Lysloff, Leslie C. Gay, Jr., 2013-08-15 Moving from web to field from Victorian parlor to 21st century mall the 15 essays gathered here yield new insights regarding the intersection of local culture, musical creativity and technological possibilities. Inspired by the concept of technoculture the authors locate technology squarely in the middle of expressive culture; they are concerned with how technology culturally informs and infuses aspects of everyday life and musical experience and they argue that this merger does not necessarily result in a cultural grayout but instead often produces exciting new possibilities. In this collection we find evidence of musical practices and ways of knowing music that are informed or even significantly transformed by new technologies yet remain profoundly local in style and meaning.
