Ramachandran, 2012-12-06 All coastal areas are facing a growing range of stresses and shocks the scale of which now poses threats to the resilience of both human and environmental coastal systems Responsible agencies are seeking better ways of managing the causes and consequences of the environmental change process in coastal zones This volume discusses the basic principles underpinning a more integrated approach to coastal management and highlights the obstacles that may be met in practice in both developed and developing countries Successful strategies will have to encompass all the elements of management from planning and design through financing and implementation as highlighted in this book

Computer-Integrated Manufacturing Handbook V.D. Hunt, 2012-12-06 Manufacturing has entered the early stages of a revolutionary period caused by the convergence of three powerful trends The rapid advancement and spread of manufacturing capabilities worldwide has created intense competition on a global scale The emergence of advanced manufacturing technologies is dramatically changing both the products and processes of modern manufacturing Changes in traditional management and labor practices organizational structures and decision making criteria represent new sources of competitiveness and introduce new strategic opportunities These trends are interrelated and their effects are already being felt by the u s manufacturing community Future competitiveness for manufacturers worldwide will depend on their response to these trends Based on the recent performance of u s manufacturers efforts to respond to the challenges posed by new competition technology and managerial opportunities have been slow and inadequate Domestic markets that were once secure have been assailed by a growing number of foreign competitors producing high quality goods at low prices In a number of areas such as employment capacity utilization research and development expenditures and capital investment trends in u s manufacturing over the last decade have been unfavorable or have not kept pace with major foreign competitors such as Japan There is substantial evidence that many u s manufacturers have neglected the manufacturing function have overemphasized product development at the expense of process improvements and have not begun to make the adjustments that will be necessary to be competitive Integrated Resources Management Act United States. Redesigning Organizational Sustainability Through Integrated Reporting Fabrizio Granà,2020-11-25

This book explores the role of accounting and reporting practices such as corporate and integrated reports as organizations attempt to represent sustainability By relying upon the case of a large international oil and gas company and its recent development of integrated reporting this book argues that the ambiguity of sustainability as a concept and the impossibility to fully capture it through accounting and reporting practices does not mean that any attempt to represent it inevitably leads to distortion or obfuscates reality Rather the way in which this concept is presented through accounting and reporting practices can have a constructive effect on the organization through the aspirations that these representations entail The book demonstrates that accounting and reporting practices such as integrated reporting are not expected to offer complete representations of organizations sustainability Rather these practices offer a number of representations e g graphs diagrams tables grid that affect the way in which organizations understand and report on sustainability changing its meaning over time Finally this study demonstrates that undefined concepts such as sustainability and practices such as integrated reporting mutually construct each other The attempt to represent sustainability within the organization and the debates that this process generates make accounting and reporting practices unfold themselves and evolve The book will be of interest to scholars in the field of accounting management and sustainability as well as practitioners from a wide array of additional fields such as planning and control organizations strategy business ethics corporate social responsibility and corporate reporting Global Change and Integrated Coastal Management Nick

Harvey,2007-05-31 Most of the world s population lives close to the coast and is highly dependent on coastal resources which are being exploited at unsustainable rates These resources are being subject to further pressures associated with population increase and the globalization of coastal resource demand This is particularly so for the Asia Pacific region which contains almost two thirds of the world s population and most of the world s coastal megacities The region has globally important atmospheric and oceanic phenomena which affect world climate such as the Asian Monsoon and the El Ni o Southern Oscillation phenomena The Asia Pacific region also has highly significant marine diversity but over the last few decades coastal resources such as mangroves coral reefs and fisheries have experienced large scale depletion The need to find appropriate management solutions to these and other coastal issues is made more complex by the need to take account of international scientific predictions for global climate change and sea level rise which will further impact on these coasts The idea for this book arose from a meeting of coastal scientists in Kobe Japan in May 2003 The meeting was organized by the Asia Pacific Network for Global Change Research APN an inter governmental network comprising 21 member countries for the promotion of global change research and links between science and policy making in the region Integrated Development Plan for India Shanti Swarup Gupta,1992

Sex, Career and Family Michael P. Fogarty,Rhona Rapoport,Robert N. Rapoport,2017-01-06 In this book first published in 1971 the authors show from first hand studies of family and working life and with evidence from many countries including the socialist societies of Eastern Europe the nature of the discrimination facing women in the professions and how various family and employment patterns might contribute to solving it Their point is not that some new stereotype should be substituted for traditional views of the role of husbands and wives different patterns fit different situations Routledge Handbook of National and Regional Ocean Policies Biliana Cicin-Sain,David Vanderzwaag,Miriam C. Balgos,2015-05-15 This comprehensive handbook prepared by leading ocean policy academics and practitioners from around the world presents in depth analyses of the experiences of fifteen developed and developing nations and four key regions of the world that have taken concrete steps toward cross cutting and integrated national and regional ocean policy All chapters follow a common framework for policy analysis While most coastal nations of the world already have a variety of sectoral policies in place to manage different uses of the ocean such as shipping fishing oil and gas development in the last two decades the coastal nations covered in the book have undertaken concerted efforts to articulate and implement an integrated ecosystem based vision for the governance of ocean areas under their jurisdiction This includes goals and procedures to harmonize existing uses and laws to foster sustainable development of ocean areas to protect biodiversity and vulnerable resources and ecosystems and to coordinate the actions of the many government agencies that are typically involved in oceans affairs The book highlights the serious conflicts of use in most national ocean zones and the varying attempts by nations to follow the prescriptions emanating from the 1982 UN Law of the Sea Convention and the outcomes of the 1992 2002 and 2012 sustainable development summits The interrelationship among uses and processes in the coast and ocean requires that ocean governance be integrated precautionary and anticipatory Overall the book provides a definitive state of the art review and analysis of national and regional ocean policies around the world
