   Design and Production of Multimedia and Simulation-based Learning Material Ton de Jong,L Sarti,2012-12-06 This volume results from a meeting that was held in Barcelona Spain April 1993 under the auspices of the DELTA programme of the European Commission DELTA Developing European Learning through Technological Advance is the commission s technology R D programme that concentrates on Telematic Systems for Flexible and Distance Learning The overarching goal of this programme is to contribute through information technology to more efficient and effective design production and delivery of learning material The DELTA programme started its main phase in 1992 with a total of 22 projects and a total budget of 92 4 million ECU In the meanwhile an extension of the programme has resulted in 8 extensions of existing projects and 8 new projects bringing the number of projects to 30 with a corresponding total budget of 99 9 million ECU The programme has three main areas telecommunication delivery information systems and design and production In the projects in total 201 organisations industrial commercial and universities from 12 European Union member states and 5 EFTA countries are represented The DELTA programme pays much attention to the exchange of ideas and dissemination of information both between individual DELTA projects and between DELTA projects and other initiatives in the EU Meetings in which DELTA projects are involved are held several times a year as so called concertation meetings meetings where also non DELTA projects participate are called concerted actions Resources in Education ,1997 Virtual Community Practices and Social Interactive Media: Technology Lifecycle and Workflow Analysis Akoumianakis, Demosthenes,2009-04-30 Provides an analysis of virtual communities explaining their lifecycle in terms of maturity based models and workflows Web-based Instruction Badrul Huda Khan,1997 A cutting edge collection of 59 essays solicited from Web based instructors offering a variety of perspectives notions and experiences in the practice of virtual teaching The compendium introduces the evolution and status of distance learning critical issues in Web based learning environments such as the similarities and differences between Web based and traditional classrooms specific discussions on designing learning activities and electronic textbooks an evaluation of delivery systems for instruction and case studies of Web based courses from kindergarten and beyond to the instruction of literature astronomy and foreign languages Includes illustrations Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Web-based Education Anil Aggarwal,2003-01-01 Successful use of information and communication technologies depends on usable designs that do not require expensive training accommodate the needs of diverse users and are low cost There is a growing demand and increasing pressure for adopting innovative approaches to the design and delivery of education hence the use of online learning also called E learning as a mode of study This is partly due to the increasing number of learners and the limited resources available to meet a wide range of various needs backgrounds expectations skills levels ages abilities and disabilities The advances of new technology and communications WWW Human Computer Interaction and Multimedia have made it possible to reach out to a bigger audience around the globe By focusing on the issues that have impact on the usability of online learning programs and their implementation Usability Evaluation of Online Learning Programs specifically fills in a gap in this area which is particularly invaluable to practitioners Instructional Design: International Perspectives II Sanne Dijkstra,Franz Schott,Norbert Seel,Robert D. Tennyson,Norbert M. Seel,2014-03-18 Instructional design theory and practice has evolved over the past 30 years from an initial narrow focus on programmed instruction to a multidimensional field of study integrating psychology technology evaluation measurement and management The growth of instructional design ID has occurred because of direct needs problems and goals from society Its application in planning instruction first developed in the United States with the Department of Defense during World War II with the purpose of meeting immediate concerns for effective training of larger numbers of military personnel From the beginning ID has rapidly expanded into applications in industrial and executive training vocational training classroom learning and professional education Although ID has its roots in the U S applications and theoretical growth is an international activity However literature at the international level is still limited to either individual author contributions or collections primarily represented by single countries As a result there is no standard reference source that contains the rich variety of theories and applications to form the international foundation for the field The goal of this two volume set is to establish international foundations for ID theory research and practice within the framework of the two following objectives to identify and define the theoretical research and model foundations for ID and to bridge the gap between ID foundations and application Volume I includes chapters on philosophical and theoretical issues on learning theory and ID models Volume II provides an overview of the state of the art of solving ID problems The contributors offer contrasting points of view which provide a rare opportunity to see the diversity and complexity in the field The editorial committee has selected a wide range of internationally known authors to make presentations in the topic areas of the field

Looking Toward the Future of Technology-Enhanced Education: Ubiquitous Learning and the Digital Native Ebner, Martin,Schiefner, Mandy,2009-12-31 This book evaluated the incorporation of technology into educational processes reviewing topics from primary and secondary school to higher education from Second Life to wiki technology from physical education to cultural learning Provided by publisher Instructional Design: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools and Applications Management Association, Information Resources,2011-03-31 Successful educational programs are often the result of pragmatic design and development methodologies that take into account all aspects of the educational and instructional experience Instructional Design Concepts Methodologies Tools and Applications presents a complete overview of historical perspectives new methods and applications and models in instructional design research and development This three volume work covers all fundamental strategies and theories and encourages continued research in strengthening the consistent design and reliable results of educational programs and models Childhoods Gaile Sloan Cannella,Lourdes Diaz Soto,2010 For the past 20 years a range of scholars educators and cultural workers have examined dominant discourses of childhood using critical feminist and other postmodern perspectives Located in a variety of disciplines these poststructural deconstructive and even postcolonial critiques have challenged everything from notions of the universal child to adult child dualisms to deterministic developmental theory The purpose of this volume is to acknowledge the profound contributions of that large body of literature while demonstrating the ways that critical analyses can be used to generate avenues actions that increase possibilities for social justice for those who are younger while at the same time avoiding determinism In this time of globalization hyper capitalism and discourses that would control and disqualify through constructions like accountability we believe that projects such as this are of utmost importance The volume is divided into four major sections to reflect the multiplicity of human voices and perspectives section I contemporary circumstances and dominant discourses within which we all attempt to function sections II and III and the generation of new possibilities for constructing relationships together section IV Finally a voice from the heart within a reconceptualist social science agenda for early childhood studies is presented   Re-imagining Language and Literature for the 21st Century International Federation for Modern Languages and Literatures. Congress,2005 In 28 essays selected from the proceedings of the XXII International Congress of FILLM held at Assumption University Bangkok scholars and teachers of languages and literatures have noted bemoaned and analyzed the waning influence of the humanities to varying degrees They have raised questions offered solutions and vigorously defended their languages and literatures often in no uncertain terms not as a politically correct thing to do but as a human obligation The papers presented here are true to the spirit of the Congress from the moment of the keynote address to what followed in a spontaneous outbreak of voices from scholars of more than 70 universities throughout the world For the first time in an international congress scholars have described with great sensitivity many languages and literatures often considered the periphery in a sincere attempt to understand the other thus making a passionate plea for inclusion in the umbrella of the world s languages and literatures With contributions by keynote speaker and authority on Comparative Literature Gayatri Spivak USA and plenary speakers Vridhagiri Ganeshan India Roger Sell Finland Antoine Compagnon France and Chetana Nagavajara Thailand this volume is of immense interest to scholars and teachers of languages and literatures the world over

Technical Committee 3 Education with the support of the Institute for Educational Technology part of the National Research Council of Italy The Institute is devoted to the study of educational innovation brought about through the use of ICT Submissions to ED L2L are published in this conference book The published papers are devoted to the published conference themes Developing digital literacy for the knowledge society information problem solving creating capturing and transferring knowledge commitment to lifelong learning Teaching and learning in the knowledge society playful and fun learning at home and in the school New models processes and systems for formal and informal learning environments and organisations Developing a collective intelligence learning together and sharing knowledge ICT issues in education ethics equality inclusion and parental role Educating ICT professionals for the global knowledge society Managing the transition to the knowledge society   Migrating Through the Web Nicole Braida,2022-03-07 How to study a media object on the web that is at the same time a documentary a reportage and a game which combines both fiction and non fiction elements Nicole Braida digs into the discursive and material structures and infrastructures of serious games text adventures newsgames interactive maps and data visualizations in which refugees and migrants become the subject of humanitarian discourse Although the goal is to arouse empathy towards migrants these interactive practices distinguish who is vulnerable and who is not It supports the idea of a migratory crisis which the author argues is actually the symptom of a deeper crisis of the humanitarian system itself   Using Communications Media in Open and Flexible Learning Robin Mason,2013-04-03 An introduction to three types of interactive media computer conferencing audiographics and video conferencing which explains how each type can be used in the open learning environment It describes attributes and limitations analyzing appropriate applications through case studies   The Metaphysics of Virtual Reality Michael Heim,1994-10-27 Computers have dramatically altered life in the late twentieth century Today we can draw on worldwide computer links speeding up communications by radio newspapers and television Ideas fly back and forth and circle the globe at the speed of electricity And just around the corner lurks full blown virtual reality in which we will be able to immerse ourselves in a computer simulation not only of the actual physical world but of any imagined world As we begin to move in and out of a computer generated world Michael Heim asks how will the way we perceive our world change In The Metaphysics of Virtual Reality Heim considers this and other philosophical issues of the Information Age With an eye for the dark as well as the bright side of computer technology he explores the logical and historical origins of our computer generated world and speculates about the future direction of our computerized lives He discusses such topics as the effect of word processing on the English language while word processors have led to increased productivity they have also led to physical hazards such as repetitive motion syndrome which causes inflamed hand and arm tendons Heim looks into the new kind of literacy promised by Hypertext technology which allows the user to link audio and video elements the disadvantages including disorientation and cognitive overload And he also probes the notion of virtual reality cyberspace the computer simulated environments that have captured the popular imagination and may ultimately change the way we define reality itself Just as the definition of interface itself has evolved from the actual adapter plug used to connect electronic circuits into human entry into a self contained cyberspace so too will the notion of reality change with the current technological drive Like the introduction of the automobile the advent of virtual reality will change the whole context in which our knowledge and awareness of life are rooted And along the way Heim covers such intriguing topics as how computers have altered our thought habits how we will be able to distinguish virtual from real reality and the appearance of virtual reality in popular culture as in Star Trek s holodeck William Gibson s Neuromancer and Stephen King s Lawnmower Man Vividly and entertainingly written The Metaphysics of Virtual Reality opens a window on a fascinating world that promises or threatens to become an integral part of everyday life in the 21st century As Heim writes not only do we face a breakthrough in the technology of computer interface but we face the challenge of knowing ourselves and determining how the technology should develop and ultimately affect the society in which it grows Mass Media and Drug Prevention William D. Crano,Michael Burgoon,Stuart Oskamp,2001-11-01 This book tells the story of the mass media s potential in the war against drug abuse It is based on scientific evidence on the use of media in health promotion and disease prevention Past approaches successes and failures alike are included to help enlighten future programs of research and practice Advice about the logical steps that must be taken to help alleviate the crisis of drug abuse is featured throughout The book will appeal to social scientists interested in persuasion and the media Each chapter offers information to help the conscientious practitioner maximize persuasive effects of a mass mediated presentation
