Essentials of Practical Microtechnique. By ... Albert E. Galigher and Eugene N. Kozloff, Etc. [With Illustrations.]. Albert Edward GALIGHER, Eugene Nicholas KOZLOFF, 1964 Plant Microtechniques and Protocols Edward Chee Tak Yeung, Claudio Stasolla, Michael John Sumner, Bing Quan Huang, 2015-09-19 A proper understanding of the structural organization of the plant body is essential to any study in plant biology Experimental studies in vivo and in situ will lead to structural physiological and cellular changes of the experimental material To study macroscopic and microscopic changes different histological methods and microtechniques can be used as they provide valuable information of the experimental system In addition the observed structural changes allow investigators to set hypothesis for further studies based on one's own observation Thus proper selection and utilization of microtechniques are a must for the success of a research program At present an up to date collection of protocols are not readily available in the literature The latest work in plant microtechniques was published in 1999 by Ruzin but many others are no longer in print e.g Jensen 1964 O'Brien and McCully 1981 Furthermore a majority of published works focus on techniques related to general processing and staining procedures A comprehensive treatment that encompasses broader applications of microtechniques to other disciplines is lacking e.g archeology wood science etc There is a need to create a comprehensive volume of botanical methods and protocols which includes traditional and novel techniques that can be used by researchers in plant science and investigators in other disciplines that require plant microtechniques in their research and teaching This book covers a wide variety of applications and brings them up to date to make them understandable and relevant especially to students using the methods for the first time It is our intention to create a useful reference for plant histology and related methods that will serve as a foundation for plant scholars researchers and teachers in the plant sciences Essentials of Practical Microtechniques Albert Edward Galigher, Eugene N. Methods in Plant Electron Microscopy and Cytochemistry William V. Dashek, 2000-06-29 Hands on experimentalists describe the cutting edge microscopical methods needed for the effective study of plant cell biology today These powerful

techniques all described in great detail to ensure successful experimental results range from light microscope cytochemistry autoradiography and immunocytochemistry to recent developments in fluorescence confocal and dark field microscopies. Important advances in both conventional and scanning electron microscopies are also fully developed together with such state of the art ancillary techniques as high resolution autoradiography immunoelectron microscopy X ray microanalysis and electron systems imaging. Easy to use and up to date Methods in Plant Electron Microscopy and Cytochemistry offers today's plant scientists a first class collection of readily reproducible light and electron microscopical methods that will prove the new standard for all working in the field. National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine

Research Methods in Plant Sciences: Allelopathy Vol. 5(Plant Physiology) S.S. Narwal, 2007-07-01 Allelopathy is a new field of science as the term Allelopathy was coined by Prof Hans Molisch a German Plant Physiologist in 1937. However no standard methods are being used by various workers due to lack of compendium on the Techniques hence the results obtained are not easily comparable with each others. Till now lot of allelopathy research has been done in various fields of Agricultural and Plant Sciences. However there is no compilation of various Research Methods used. Every scientist is conducting research in his own way. It is causing lot of problems to researchers working in underdeveloped Third World Countries in small towns without Library facilities. Therefore to make available the standard methods for conducting allelopathy research independently this multi volume book has been planned. Since allelopathy is a multi disciplinary area of research hence volumes have been planned for each discipline. Prof S S Narwal has planned this multi volume Book Research Methods in Plant Sciences Allelopathy Three volumes. Volume 1 Soil Analysis Volume 2 Plant Protection and Volume 3 Plant Pathogens of this Book were released during the IV International Allelopathy Conference August 23-25 2004 at Haryana Agricultural University Hisar 125004 India. Volumes 4 Plant Analysis and Volume 5 Plant Physiology will be released in November 2006. Three volumes Volume 6 Cell Diagnostics Volume 7 Chemistry Methods and Volume 8 Weed Studies are under preparation. This volume of 28 Chapters is divided into 7 Sections. Section I Seed Physiology includes 5 chapters describing the structure of seed optimum conditions for seed germination physiological and biochemical changes at cellular level. Section II Growth and Development describes leaf area growth indices senescence and abscission Allelochemicals present in soil or plant can create chemical stress which may change the plant water status plasma membrane properties chlorophyll stability and waxes present on the organ surface. Methods to determine all these parameters are described in next 4 chapters in Section III Stress Physiology. These sites can be explored by estimating chlorophyll content chlorophyll fluorescence photosystems I and II activity carbon dioxide exchange rate activity of CO₂ fixing enzymes intermediate metabolite level photosynthate partitioning respiration and finally the crop growth dynamics. Methods to determine extent of all these sites are explained in 7 chapters in Section IV Gas Exchange Processes The main cause of changed physiological process is at the gene level for which estimation of nucleic acids is very critical It is briefly explained in section V Biochemical Estimation Section VI Microtomy and Histochemistry has 7 chapters Basic procedure to process the test plant material for microtomy use of light and electron microscopy to study cellular changes measurement of cellular dimensions stomatal index and frequency pollen viability and in vivo pollen germination and histochemical localization of important enzymes and metabolites are the core topics Currently tissue cultures are commonly used to study the precise effect of allelochemicals on callus growth and differentiation To achieve these objectives techniques of tissue cultures is described under section VI Tissue Culture

Bioactive Compounds in Phytomedicine Iraj Rasooli,2012-01-18 There are significant concerns regarding the potential side effects from the chronic use of conventional drugs such as corticosteroids especially in children Herbal therapy is less expensive more readily available and increasingly becoming common practice all over the world Such practices have both their benefits and risks However herbal self therapy might have serious health consequences due to incorrect self diagnosis inappropriate choice of herbal remedy or adulterated herbal product In addition absence of clinical trials and other traditional safety mechanisms before medicines are introduced to the wider market results in questionable safe dosage ranges which may produce adverse and unexpected outcomes Therefore the use of herbal remedies requires sufficient knowledge about the efficacy safety and proper use of such products Hence it is necessary to have baseline data regarding the use of herbal remedies and to educate future health professionals about various aspects of herbal remedies
