Getting Back Into Place:

Getting Back Into Place Edward S. Casey, 1993 Offers a philosophical exploration of the pervasiveness of place Presenting an account of the role of place in human experience this book points to place's indispensability in navigation and orientation The role of the lived body in matters of place is considered and the characteristics of built places are explored Get 'em All! Kill 'em! Bruce Wilshire, 2005-01-01 Why do groups become genocidal and try to incapacitate all members of an alien group even sometimes killing fetuses Prematurely alluding to evil or to the Devil blocks the possibility for further inquiry Get Em All Kill Em is the first systematic attempt to explain what up until now has seemed to be inexplicable phenomena Virtual America John Opie, 2008-01-01 Virtual America traces the complex relationship between Americans technology and their environment as it has unfolded over the past several centuries Throughout history Americans have constructed mental pictures of unique places such as the American West that have taken on more authority than the actual gritty landscapes This disconnect from reality is magnified by the new world of virtual realities on the computer screen where personal immersion in interactive simulations becomes the default environment Virtual America identifies the connections or lack thereof between our individual selves an American identity and the geography out there John Opie examines what he calls First Nature the natural world Second Nature metropolitan infrastructure built environment and Third Nature virtual reality in cyberspace He also explores how Americans have historically dreamed about a better life in daily ordinary existence and then fulfilled it through the Engineered America of our built environment the Consumer America of material well being and the Triumphal America of our conviction that we are the world's exceptional model But these dream worlds have also encouraged placelessness and thus indifference to our dwelling in home ground Finally Opie explores Last Nature a sense of place and argues that when we identify an authentic place we can locate authenticity of self a reification of place and self by their connectedness

Promised Lands David M. Wrobel, 2002-10-31 Whether seen as a land of opportunity or as paradise lost the American West took shape in the nation's imagination with the help of those who wrote about it but two groups who did much to shape that perception are often overlooked today Promoters trying to lure settlers and investors to the West insisted that the frontier had already been tamed that the only frontiers remaining were those of opportunity Through posters pamphlets newspaper articles and other printed pieces these boosters literally imagined places into existence by depicting backwater areas as settled culturally developed regions where newcomers would find none of the hardships associated with frontier life Quick on their heels some of the West's original settlers had begun publishing their reminiscences in books and periodicals and banding together in pioneer societies to sustain their conception of frontier heritage Their selective memory focused on the savage wilderness they had tamed exaggerating the past every bit as much as promoters exaggerated the present Although they are generally seen today as unscrupulous charlatans and tellers of tall tales David Wrobel reveals that these promoters and reminiscers were more significant than their detractors have suggested By exploring the vast literature produced by these individuals from the end of the Civil War through the 1920s he clarifies the pivotal impact of their works on our vision of both the historic and mythic West In examining their role in forging both sense of place within the West and the nation s sense of the West as a place Wrobel shows that these works were vital to the process of identity formation among westerners themselves and to the construction of a West in the national imagination Wrobel also sheds light on the often elitist sometimes racist legacies of both groups through their characterizations of Native Americans African Americans Mexican Americans and Asian Americans In the era Wrobel examines promoters painted the future of each western place as if it were already present while the old timers preserved the past as if it were still present But as he also demonstrates that West has not really changed much promoters still tout its promise while old timers still try to preserve their selective memories Even relatively recent western residents still tap into the region s mythic pioneer heritage as they form their attachments to place Promised Lands shows us that the West may well move into the twenty first century but our images of it are forever rooted in the nineteenth Who Am I? Is Who I Am Raquel Cheers,2025-02-19

The hardest thing for Anna to do was to surrender Dying to her flesh her will her plans and desires troubled her Why Life was passing her by and there was not anything to show for it She felt ashamed Everyone had houses land families and businesses Anna had none of these She did the right things She went to worship kept the commandments saved herself for marriage and served the Lord Decades would pass and nothing Alone now forty seven she felt rejected No Boaz for her A vessel unto honor was Anna with no jewels Others would look and question her What are you waiting for Deep within her she knew God had something more for her She kept the faith She stood the test of time and resisted temptation Anna refused to be distracted and focused on God and His will She knew the plans for her were big With the words run the race that is set before you Anna stayed on course She prayed to be a jewel in God s crown As she lay at His feet she prayed that God would cover her with His skirt That she would want for nothing And God promised to set her on top of the mountain bless her and silence the naysayers She knew that God would exalt her in time and grant her permission to release His mysteries to a world that views life blindly Release mysteries to a world oblivious of a savior who was born to change humanity Anna according to Luke got several paragraphs But Anna birthed a savior from eternity into time What an honor to see victory and be a part of history Who was Anna Anna was a mystery with a mystery Thank God for redemption Satellite Wars Jerry R

Brenning,2023-07-24 About the Book The year is 2080 and man is to re live yet another war He continues to explore the outer limits to find answers to his many questions Unfortunately as he finds answers they merely result in more questions However he cannot find the answer for avoiding war The technology of war changes but the causes remain the same Who would guess the tools of science now space litter would fuel a global conflict The stage is set as two lovers forge their lives together and invent new technology to overcome forces set in motion by man s many years of neglect A new hero arises from the ranks G I Joe Rieu About the Author Jerry R Brenning lives with his wife of 55 years in Indian Lake Estates Florida After a long engineering career he is able to pursue his passion for painting and inventing After years of seeing man inventing ways to explore our world it is obvious that something is missing I believe space litter is a hidden problem destined for disaster

Travels in Paradox Claudio Minca,Tim Oakes,2006-03-30 This innovative volume focuses on tourism through the twin lenses of cultural theory and cultural geography Presenting a set of innovative case studies on tourist destinations around the world the contributors explore the paradoxes of the tourist experience and the implications of these paradoxes for our broader understanding of the problems of modernity and identity The book examines how tourism reveals the paradoxical ways that places are both mobile and rooted real and fake inhabited by those who are simultaneously insiders and outsiders and both subjectively experienced and objectively viewed The concepts of travel and mobility long have been used to explain modern identity and social behavior but this work pushes beyond the established literature by considering the ways that place and mobility are inherently related in unexpected even contradictory ways Travel the international cast of authors contends occurs in place rather than between places Thus instead of offering yet another interpretation of the ways modern societies are distinguished by their mobilities in contrast to the supposed place bound quality of traditional societies the chapters here collectively argue for an understanding of modern identity as simultaneously grounded and mobile This rich blend of empirical and theoretical analysis will be invaluable for cultural geographers anthropologists and sociologists of tourism

Disability Studies and the Environmental Humanities Sarah Jaquette Ray,Jay Sibara,2017-06-01 Although scholars in the environmental humanities have been exploring the dichotomy between wild and built environments for several years few have focused on the field of disability studies a discipline that enlists the contingency between environments and bodies as a foundation of its scholarship On the other hand scholars in disability studies have demonstrated the ways in which the built environment privileges some bodies and minds over others yet they have rarely examined the ways in which toxic environments engender chronic illness and disability or how environmental illnesses disrupt dominant paradigms for scrutinizing disability Designed as a reader for undergraduate and graduate courses Disability Studies and the Environmental Humanities employs interdisciplinary perspectives to examine such issues as slow violence imperialism race toxicity eco sickness the body in environmental justice ableism and other topics With a historical scope spanning the seventeenth century to the present this collection not only presents the foundational documents informing this intersection of fields but also showcases the most current work making it an indispensable reference The

Joining God in the Great Unraveling Alan J. Roxburgh,2021-05-06 The awareness that the churches shaped out of the European Reformations are in an advanced process of unraveling is becoming increasingly sensed by many This book proposes a way of addressing this unraveling based on the experiences and knowledge of people who have always had to struggle with the unraveling of their own communities and worlds It takes us outside the circular conversations of the Euro tribal churches into dialogue with people who have been marginalized to see how they have learned to reenter their formative stories to discover ways of remaking themselves in the unraveling The book then turns these discoveries into ways the churches can engage their own massive unraveling

Living Theodrama Dr Wesley Vander Lugt,2014-04-28 A fresh creative introduction to theological ethics Offering an imaginative approach through dialogue with theatrical theory and practice Vander Lugt demonstrates a new way to integrate actor oriented and action oriented approaches to Christian ethics within a comprehensive theodramatic model This model affirms that life is a drama performed in the company of God and others providing rich metaphors for relating theology to everyday formation and performance in this drama This book contains not only a fruitful exchange between theological ethics and theatre but it also presents a promising method for interdisciplinary dialogue between theology and the arts that will be valuable for students and practitioners across many different fields

Blood, Bones and Spirit Heather McDonald,2012-11-27 In this fascinating and beautifully written book Heather McDonald examines Aboriginal people s experiences of colonialism and post colonialism in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Blood Bones and Spirit analyses how Aboriginal people have appropriated Biblical stories of land inheritance expansion and loss in order to make sense of their own dispossession It investigates the embodiment of Christianity by Aboriginal people through their appropriation of Christ s body his blood bones and spirit in order to replenish and heal their own colonised bodies Indeed this local study of Christianisation in a small East Kimberley town presents a challenge to the very history and philosophy of Western religion Heather McDonald spreads out before the reader various aspects of Aboriginal Christianity the way Aborigines have assimilated Christian stories to make sense of their history and their relationships with the dominant society their understanding of what it means to be Christian their church activities and their conflicting interpretations of the Christian way of life Aboriginal Christians are repossessing the land and reclaiming a traditional earth bound world immanent spirituality These Aboriginal understandings of colonisation including missionisation and Aboriginal ways of interpreting and understanding Christianity offer a unique contribution to the reconciliation process The Armed Forces
