A. Robert Denniss, MD, MSc, FRACP, FCSANZ<sup>a,b,c</sup>,

In 2016, Heart, Lung and Circulation (HLC) celebrated 25 years of continuous publications [1]. Special events included “Meet the Editor” sessions at the 2016 Annual Scientific Meetings of the Cardiac Society of Australia and New Zealand (CSANZ) and of the Australian and New Zealand Society of Cardiac and Thoracic Surgeons (ANZSCTS) [2]. Led by Robert Denniss, Editor-in-Chief of HLC, the sessions featured panels of editors from several other internationally recognised cardiology and cardiothoracic surgery journals. These sessions gave both prospective early career and experienced authors direct insight into what Editors-in-Chief of peer-reviewed publications are looking for when identifying papers for publication in their journals.

What Do All Journals Need?

Both sessions began with a point-by-point “back to basics” review of elements all journals need to be successful:

All Journals Need Good Material to Publish

In HLC’s case, topical Reviews (both systematic and narrative), Original Articles (both basic and clinical science) and Position Statements and Guidelines are particularly sought as these are most useful to readers, as reflected in the Journal’s citation rates and downloads [3]. Case Reports are no longer sought.

All Journals Need Lots of Contributors

HLC welcomes contributions irrespective of the authors’ country of origin. As seen in Tables of Contents, authors from Australasia, China and the USA are particularly well represented. HLC welcomes contributors across the academic spectrum — from various disciplines, and at all career points, from entry to retirement. Since 2015, HLC has offered a Best Review Prize to early career “first” authors of published reviews.

All Journals Need a Bank of Reliable Peer Reviewers

HLC is appreciative of the many members of the international scientific and medical community, with appropriate subspecialist interests and including statisticians, who engage on a regular basis to assist in assessing the merits of submissions, and in recommending enhancement to journal content.

All Journals Need an Enthusiastic Editorial Team

HLC is fortunate to enjoy the active participation of Section Editors for submissions relating to various disciplines and areas of interest, including basic cardiovascular science, interventional cardiology, heart rhythm disorders, cardiac imaging, cardiovascular nursing and allied health, and Indigenous cardiovascular issues. An International Editorial Board provides further breadth and depth in relevant expertise. A small, dedicated “in-house” team comprising a part-time Editorial Manager, Deborah Edward, and Commissioning Editor, Ann Gregory, and publishing support provided by Elsevier, are also essential to success.

Fama, 2017-09-07 This collection of the most influential work of the Nobel Prize laureate in economic sciences serves as an introduction for a new generation of readers Few scholars have been as influential in finance and economics as University of Chicago professor Eugene F Fama Over the course of a brilliant and productive career Fama has published more than one hundred papers filled with diverse highly innovative contributions. Published soon after the fiftieth anniversary of Fama's appointment to the University of Chicago and his receipt of the Nobel Prize in Economics, The Fama Portfolio offers an authoritative compilation of Fama's central papers. Many are classics including his now famous essay on efficient capital markets. Others though less famous are even better statements of the central ideas Fama's research considers key questions in finance both as an academic field and an industry. How is information reflected in asset prices? What is the nature of risk that scares people away from larger returns? Does lots of buying and selling by active managers produce value for their clients? The Fama Portfolio provides for the first time a comprehensive collection of his work and includes introductions and commentary by the book's editors John H. Cochrane and Tobias Moskowitz as well as by Fama's colleagues themselves top scholars and successful practitioners in finance. These essays emphasize how the ideas presented in Fama's papers have influenced later thinking in financial economics often for decades. Fama's ideas have influenced a generation of thinkers without most reading the original source material. This comprehensive collection of his work seeks to right that wrong. Bloomberg
