History In Person Enduring Struggles Contentious Practice Intimate Identities:

History in Person Dorothy C. Holland, Jean Lave, 2001 Extended conflict situations in Northern Ireland or South Africa the local impacts of the rise of multinational corporations and the less obvious but equally persistent conflicts in workplaces households and academic fields are all crucibles for the forging of identities In this volume in depth research is brought to bear on enduring struggles and the practices of identity within those struggles Grounded in a theory of practice nine ethnographers address such topics as the politically sexualized transformation of identities of women political prisoners in Northern Ireland the changing character of political activism across generations in a Guatemala Mayan family the cultural forms that mediate the struggles between the state and grassroots activists in New York Cultural-Historical Approaches to Studying Learning and Development Anne Edwards, Marilyn Fleer, Louise Bøttcher, 2019-04-02 This collection of papers examines key ideas in cultural historical approaches to children s learning and development and the cultural and institutional conditions in which they occur The collection is given coherence by a focus on the intellectual contributions made by Professor Mariane Hedegaard to understandings of children s learning through the prism of the interplay of society institution and person She has significantly shaped the field through her scholarly consideration of foundational concepts and her creative attention to the fields of activity she studies The book brings together examples of how these concepts have been employed and developed in a study of learning and development The collection allows the contributing scholars to reveal their reactions to Hedegaard s contributions in discussions of their own work in the field of children s learning and the conditions in which it occurs

Landscapes of Power Dana E. Powell, 2018-01-05 In Landscapes of Power Dana E Powell examines the rise and fall of the controversial Desert Rock Power Plant initiative in New Mexico to trace the political conflicts surrounding native sovereignty and contemporary energy development on Navajo Din Nation land Powell s historical and ethnographic account shows how the coal fired power plant project s defeat provided the basis for redefining the legacies of colonialism mineral extraction and environmentalism Examining the labor of activists artists politicians elders technicians and others Powell emphasizes the generative potential of Navajo resistance to articulate a vision of autonomy in the face of twenty first century colonial conditions Ultimately Powell situates local Navajo struggles over energy technology and infrastructure within broader sociocultural life debates over global climate change and tribal federal and global politics of extraction

Educational Theories, Cultures and Learning Harry Daniels, Hugh Lauder, Jill Porter, 2012-07-26 Educational Theories Cultures and Learning focuses on how education is understood in different cultures the theories and related assumptions we make about learners and students and how we think about them and how we can understand the principle actors in education learners and teachers Within this volume internationally renowned contributors address a number of fundamental questions designed to take the reader to the heart of current debates around pedagogy globalisation and learning and teaching such as What role does culture play in our understanding of pedagogy What role do global influences especially economic cultural and social have in shaping our understanding of education How does language influence our thinking about education What implications does our view of childhood have for education How do learners negotiate the transition between the different phases of education How best can children learn the school knowledge What is a teacher And how do teachers learn How do we understand learners their minds identity and development To encourage reflection many of the chapters also include questions for debate and a guide to further reading Read alongside its companion volume Knowledge Values and Educational Policy readers will be encouraged to consider and think about some of the key issues facing education and educationists today

Intergenerational Trauma and Healing Melissa Leal, Beth Rose Middleton, Melissa Moreno, 2021-03-11 This Special Issue of Genealogy explores the topic of Intergenerational Trauma and Healing Authors examine the ways in which traumas individual or group and affecting humans and non humans that occurred in past generations reverberate into the present and how individuals communities and nations respond to and address those traumas Authors also explore contemporary traumas how they reflect ancestral traumas and how they are being addressed through drawing on both contemporary and ancestral healing approaches The articles define trauma broadly including removal from homelands ecocide genocide sexual or gendered violence institutionalized and direct racism incarceration and exploitation and across a wide range of spatial home to nation and temporal intergenerational ancestral and contemporary scales Articles also approach healing in an expansive mode including specific individual healing practices community based initiatives class action lawsuits group wide reparations health interventions cultural approaches and transformative legal or policy decisions Contributing scholars for this issue are from across disciplines including ethnic studies genetics political science law environmental policy public health humanities etc They consider trauma and its ramifications alongside diverse mechanisms of healing and or rearticulating self community and nation

Learning in Sports Coaching Lee Nelson,Ryan Groom,Paul Potrac,2016-03-31 The facilitation of learning is a central feature of coaches and coach educators work Coaching students and practitioners are as a result being expected to give increasing levels of thought towards how they might help to develop the knowledge and practical skills of others Learning in Sports Coaching provides a comprehensive introduction to a diverse range of classic critical and contemporary theories of learning education and social interaction and their potential application to sports coaching Each chapter is broadly divided into two sections The first section introduces a key thinker and the fundamental tenets of his or her scholarly endeavours and theorising The second considers how the theorist s work might influence how we understand and attempt to promote learning in coaching and coach education settings By design this book seeks to promote theoretical connoisseurship and to encourage its readers to reflect critically on their beliefs about learning and its facilitation This is an essential text for any pedagogical course taken as part of a degree programme in sports coaching or coach education

Navigating Model Minority Stereotypes Rupam Saran,2015-08-11 Though Asian Indians are typically thought of as a model minority not much is known about the school experiences of their children Positive stereotyping of these immigrants and their children often masks educational needs and issues creates class divides within the Indian American community and triggers stress for many Asian Indian students This volume examines second generation America born and 1 5 generation foreign born Asian Indians as they try to balance peer culture home life and academics It explores how through the acculturation process these children either take advantage of this positive stereotype or refute their stereotyped ethnic image and move to downward mobility Focusing on migrant experiences of the Indian diasporas in the United States this volume brings attention to highly motivated Asian Indian students who are overlooked because of their cultural dispositions and outlooks on schooling and those students who are more likely to underachieve It highlights the assimilation of Asian Indian students in mainstream society and their understandings of Americanization social inequality diversity and multiculturalism

Working with Critical Realism Alpesh Maisuria,Grant Banfield,2022-12-30 This international and interdisciplinary collection gathers stories from researchers and research students about their methodological encounters with critical realism Whether the contributors are experienced or novice researchers they are predominantly new to critical realism For various reasons as the contributors detail they have all been drawn to critical realism It is well known that critical realism can be bewildering and even overwhelming to newcomers especially to those unfamiliar with language of and without a grounding in philosophy While there are now numerous and important introductory and applied critical realist texts that make critical realism more accessible to a broader audience stories from newcomers have been absent especially as part of a single collection The significance and uniqueness of this collection lies in its documentation of first hand reflective insights on the practical use and implementation of critical realism The contributors feature critical realist inspired research journeys in Australia England Scotland Belgium Sweden and Spain The hope of this book is that the stories and accounts presented in it will inspire or at least sufficiently arouse the curiosity of others to explore critical realist possibilities which we believe offer enormous value to serious researchers across and within all disciplines and subjects who are interested in rigorous intellectual work with a socially progressive purpose The Cambridge Companion to Sayyid Ahmad Khan Yasmin Saikia,M. Raisur Rahman,2019-03-21 Examines Sayyid Ahmad Khan s life and contribution in the nineteenth century and his legacy in our current times
