Literature in German and English Sandra Vlasta, 2015-10-14. Up until now, migration literature has primarily been defined as texts written by migrant authors, a definition that has been discussed, criticised, and even rejected by critics and authors alike. Very rarely has migration literature been understood as literature on the topic of migration, which is an approach this book adopts by presenting a comparative analysis of contemporary texts on experiences of migration. By focusing on specific themes and motifs in selected texts, this study suggests that migration literature is a sub-genre that exists in both various bodies of literature as well as various languages. This book analyses English and German texts by authors such as Monica Ali, Dimitr Dinev, Anna Kim, Timothy Mo, Preethi Nair, Caryl Phillips, Hamid Sadr, and Vladimir Vertlib, among others. Women Leadership in Organizations Sunita Singh-Sengupta, 2003. Conventionally, managerial jobs have been defined as largely a matter of instrumentality, autonomy, and result orientation, which fit the stereotypes of men rather than those of women. Sex stereotypes are culturally based beliefs prescribing appropriate and inappropriate behaviors for the two genders. Against this backdrop, the present study intends to examine the socio-cultural determinants of women leadership at the top in Southeast Asian countries. Important for the top management of different organisations, this can be used as a reference book in the MBA course on Organisational Behaviour in different Management Institutes. In Pursuit of the Perfect Gourmet Garam Masala,
