surveys political satire covering a wide range of periods and events from Aristophanes to the present His absorbing essays focus on the satires of Jonathan Swift Charlie Chaplin Will Rogers Dario Fo and the Guerrilla Girls among others Schechter furthermore examines how the histrionic behavior of some politicians and world leaders has prompted them to become unwitting contributors to political satire He argues that these politicians are as theatrical if not as comic as the plays pamphlets and films in which they are satirically impersonated As examples he cites Hitler Stalin and Reagan as performers whose acts rival anything a satirist could invent and any impersonation a comedian could stage In Schechter's view satiric impersonation is not only an art form through which one living person appears to be another it is also an act that reveals that the person imitated is an imposter For example he comments that while Hitler conquered Europe Chaplin in his film The Great Dictator in his own way conquered Hitler adding him to a repertoire that included the Little Tramp and later Bluebeard Schechter approaches satire with candor and humor personalizing his text by concluding with a memoir of his own brief career as an actor politician
