Putting Faith in Partnerships Stephen V. Monsma, 2009-11-16 Putting Faith in Partnerships addresses a major conceptual change in American domestic policy begun by Reagan and now fully realized by the Bush administration the shift of responsibility for social services from the federal government to states and communities In this groundbreaking study of a politically controversial topic the debut offering in Alan Wolfe's Contemporary Political and Social Issues series author Stephen Monsma avoids overheated rhetoric in favor of a careful critical analysis of the hard evidence on whether public private partnerships really work The book is based on in depth studies of social service programs in Los Angeles Chicago Philadelphia and Dallas By examining public private partnerships between government offices and nonprofit organizations Monsma seeks to understand how these partnerships affect the balance between government's efforts to deal with social problems and the rights of individual citizens to control their own lives Putting Faith in Partnerships answers many previously unanswered questions in what may be the most controversial public policy debate today about the feasibility and wisdom of government agencies forming partnerships with private organizations to provide essential public social services Stephen V Monsma is Professor of Political Science at Pepperdine University He has served as director of the Office of Quality Review in Michigan's Department of Social Services and is a widely recognized expert on the role of faith based organizations in social service programs

Guodian Kenneth Holloway, 2009-01-28 Fourteen years ago a corpus of bamboo strip texts was found in a late fourth century BCE tomb at Jingmen Hubei province in central China The discovery of the Guodian texts together with other recently discovered Warring States manuscripts has revolutionized the study of early Chinese intellectual history Kenneth Holloway argues that the Guodian corpus puts forth a political philosophy based on the harmonious interconnection of individuals engaged in moral self cultivation This unique worldview says Holloway cannot meaningfully be categorized as Confucian or Daoist because it shares important concepts and vocabulary with a number of different textual traditions that have anachronistically been characterized as competing or incompatible schools of thought He finds that within the Guodian corpus familiar philosophical concepts and texts are applied in distinctive ways presenting a worldview that is quite different from the received textual traditions In addition to contributing to our understanding of this particular body of texts Holloway proposes a methodology for assessing a corpus of texts without relying on assumptions and definitions that derive from two millennia of scholarship
