Jonathan Eckert, Bradley W. Carpenter, 2024-01-01 In chemistry a catalyst accelerates change without being depleted As we seek school improvement we need sustainable scalable changes and therefore catalytic structures are ideal From communities of practice to professional learning communities to Networked Improvement Communities NICs much has been made in the scholarly and consultancy literature about collaborative approaches to improvement The benefit of improvement communities that operate in networks over professional learning communities or isolated communities of practice is that they allow for broader experimentation more rapid iteration and greater possibility for scaling improvement Educators have many tools and protocols to support the various approaches to improvement evidenced by the many tools the Carnegie Foundation has developed for NICs alone However we need to understand how these are being used in a wide range of contexts and iterations This book answers three questions 1 How can improvement communities act as catalysts 2 How do improvement communities serve as discipline creative inquiry 3 Most importantly how do improvement communities support flourishing individuals These three questions serve as the drivers of three sections with practical recommendations and insights for teachers administrators and policymakers that will lead to more sustainable leadership practices and thriving educators students and communities Improving School Leadership, Volume 2 Case Studies on System Leadership OECD, Specialists Schools and Academies Trust, 2008-07-31 This book explores what specialists are saying about system leadership for school improvement Case studies examine innovative approaches to sharing leadership and to leadership development programmes for system improvement Improving Schools and Governing Bodies Michael Creese, Peter Earley, 1999 Recent educational reforms and developments in education policy have given school governors considerable powers and responsibilities This book offers a framework for governors who wish to work most effectively at raising standards in schools

Systemic School Improvement Interventions in South Africa Godwin Khosa,2014-04-14 Looking at two smaller scale systemic school improvement projects implemented in selected district circuits in the North West and Eastern Cape by partnerships between government JET Education Services and private sector organisations this book captures and reflects on the experiences of the practitioners involved The Systemic School Improvement Model developed by JET to address an identified range of interconnected challenges at district school classroom and household level is made up of seven components In reflecting on what worked and what did not in the implementation of these different components the different chapters set out some of the practical lessons learnt which could be used to improve the design and implementation of similar education improvement projects Many of the lessons in this field that remain under recorded to date relate to the step by step processes followed the relationship dynamics encountered at different levels of the education system and the local realities confronting schools and districts in South Africa s rural areas Drawing on field data that is often not available to researchers the book endeavours to address this gap and record these lessons It is not intended to provide an academic review of the systemic school improvement projects It is presented rather to offer other development practitioners working to improve the quality of education in South African schools an understanding of some of the real practical and logistical challenges that arise and how these may be resolved to take further school improvement projects forward at a wider district provincial and national scale

School Effectiveness and Improvement Research, Policy and Practice Christopher Chapman,Paul Armstrong,Alma Harris,Daniel Muijs,David Reynolds,Pam Sammons,2012-03-12 This book provides a contemporary overview of school effectiveness and improvement It charts the development theory and research in this area and looks at the contribution made to policy and practice It also challenges some assumptions that have become ingrained into the theoretical and methodological traditions of the field By challenging these orthodoxies it provides a framework that sets a new agenda and repositions the field to meet the emerging challenges of the twenty first century It argues that traditional measures of school effectiveness are challenged as systems have attempted to adapt to a complex range of emerging agendas New theoretical perspectives are required which consider education and a broader set of outcomes This shift requires a rethink of how effectiveness and improvement have been understood by the field and a reconstruction by policy makers and practitioners Attention must be given to promoting equity as well as effectiveness so that one school or student's gain no longer means another's loss The field must develop new methodologies if inequities are to be challenged and a broader set of outcome measures are to be developed The two questions guiding this book are How can educational effectiveness and improvement research and practice support the development of a more equitable education service What are the key indicators of educational effectiveness and improvement and what are the new methodologies required to facilitate a shift from school effectiveness and improvement to educational effectiveness and improvement This book uses lenses of research policy and practice to explore these key questions and articulate what such a repositioning may look like and how it may be achieved It will prove invaluable for teachers school leaders and anyone involved in policy and educational research

Effective Leadership for School Improvement Alma Harris, Christopher Day, David Hopkins, Mark Hadfield, Andy Hargreaves, Christopher Chapman, 2013-09-05 In a complex and multi layered world the conventional idea of great leadership being the result of the efforts of a single individual is rapidly becoming redundant This book takes up the challenge of finding an alternative method of leadership in educational contexts and looks at how this can help achieve sustained improvement in schools The authors acknowledge that there are no simple solutions to school improvement They argue that the effective leaders of the future will be those who are able to share responsibility build positive relationships and offer stakeholders teachers parents and students an opportunity to work together to improve their schools The book is based around four key areas of concern the changing context of leadership leadership and school improvement building leadership capacity and future direction and implications In each section the authors discuss current theories and issues and put forward alternative ideas and perspectives This important book will make valuable reading for headteachers principles deputies and other senior teachers particularly those undertaking leadership qualifications and training It will also be of interest to postgraduate students and school governors International Summit on the Teaching Profession Valuing our Teachers and Raising their Status How Communities Can Help Schleicher Andreas, 2018-03-15 There is increasing recognition that teachers will play a key role in preparing students for the challenges of the future We expect teachers to equip students with the skill set and knowledge required for success in an increasingly global digital complex uncertain and volatile world Modern Reading Practices and Collaboration Between Schools, Family, and Community Almeida, Ana Patrícia, Esteves, Sandrina, 2022-04-29
