Perspectives on Management

Capacity Building Beth Walter Honadle, Arnold M. Howitt, 1986-01-01 Perspectives on Management Capacity Building

provides a lively spectrum of views on the problems and prospects of improving the management and performance of municipal governments in the United States Leading specialists in public administration probe the management needs of local governments and explore ways in which they can improve their capacity to manage Today state and local governments are caught in the transition between the expansionism of the post World War II years and the retrenchment era of the late seventies and eighties Improved management capacity has emerged as the most effective way for local governments to ride out the economic and political pressures confronting them This book first investigates the meaning of the term management capacity It then considers how management needs have changed in the post war period and how these needs vary among large cities suburbs and rural communities Two of the contributions explore the organizational politics of management improvement while others look at the functional areas of computers and financial management The book also addresses human resource problems such as labor relations management development and training of municipal legislators and concludes with several viewpoints on federal efforts to improve local management capacity

Organizational Report Cards

William T. Gormley Jr., David L. Weimer, 1999-03 In recent years consumers professional organizations government officials and third party payers have become increasingly concerned about how to assess the quality of the services provided by organizations in both the private and the public sectors One new approach is the organizational report card which compares the performance of organizations such as public schools colleges hospitals and HMOs This book offers the first comprehensive study of such instruments It discusses the circumstances under which they are desirable alternatives to other policy instruments such as regulation how they should be designed who is likely to use them and for what purpose and what role if any government should have in their creation Informed by cases drawn from education health and other policy areas this book develops a conceptual framework for analyzing these issues It explores the tradeoffs in measuring performance the methods of communicating results effectively to mass and elite audiences and the ways in which organizations respond to the
