A Poetics of Orthodoxy Benjamin P. Myers, 2020-12-17 What makes one poem better than another Do Christians have an obligation to strive for excellence in the arts While orthodox Christians are generally quick to affirm the existence of absolute truth and absolute goodness even many within the church fall prey to the postmodern delusion that beauty is in the eye of the beholder This book argues that Christian doctrine in fact gives us a solid basis on which to make aesthetic judgments about poetry in particular and about the arts more generally The faith once and for all delivered unto the saints is remarkable in its combined emphasis on embodied particularity and meaningful transcendence This unique combination makes it the perfect starting place for art that speaks to who we are as creatures made for eternity

As You Like It William Shakespeare, 2014-09-25 With its explorations of sexual ambivalence As You Like It speaks directly to the twenty first century Juliet Dusinberrede demonstrates that Rosalind's authority in the play grows from new ideas about women and reveals that Shakespeare's heroine reinvents herself for every age But the play is also deeply rooted in Elizabethan culture and through it Shakespeare addresses some of the hotly debated issues of the period This will be the definitive edition of As You Like It for many years to come Phyllis Rackin University of Pennsylvania

John Huston as Adaptor Douglas McFarland, Wesley King, 2017-01-28 John Huston as Adaptor makes the case that adaptation is the salient element in Huston's identity as a filmmaker and that his early and deep attraction to the experience of reading informed his approach to film adaptation Thirty four of Huston's thirty seven films were adaptations of literary texts and they stand as serious interpretations of literary works that could only be made by an astute reader of literature Indeed Huston asserted that a film director should be above all else a reader and that reading itself should be the intellectual and emotional basis for filmmaking The seventeen essays in this volume not only address Huston as an adaptor but also offer an approach to adaptation studies that has been largely overlooked How an adaptor reads the works to which he is drawn and how his literary interpretations can be brought to the screen without relegating film to a subservient role are some of the issues addressed by the contributors An introductory chapter identifies Huston as the quintessential Hollywood adaptor and argues that his skill at adaptation is the mark of his authorial signature The chapters that follow focus on fifteen of Huston s most important films including The Maltese Falcon 1941 The Treasure of the Sierra Madre 1948 The African Queen 1951 The Night of the Iguana 1964 Under the Volcano 1984 and The Dead 1987 and are divided into three areas aesthetics and textuality history and social context and theory and psychoanalysis By offering a more comprehensive account of the centrality of adaptation to Huston s films John Huston as Adaptor offers a greater understanding of Huston as a filmmaker

A Concordance to the Poetry of Thomas Traherne George Robert Guffey, Guffey, 1974-01-01

On Not Defending Poetry Catherine Bates, 2017-03-16 Sidney s Defence of Poesy the foundational text of English poetics is generally taken to present a model of poetry as ideal the poet depicts ideals of human conduct and readers are inspired to imitate them Catherine Bates sets out to challenge this received view Attending very closely to Sidney s text she identifies within it a model of poetry that is markedly at variance from the one presumed and shows Sidney s text to be feeling its way toward a quite different indeed a de idealist poetics Following key theorists of the new economic criticism On Not Defending Poetry shows how idealist poetics like the idealist philosophy on which it draws is complicit with the money form and with the specific ills that attend upon it among them commodification fetishism and the abuse of power Against culturally approved models of poetry as profitable as benefiting the individual and the state as providing in the form of intellectual moral and social capital a quantifiable yield the Defence reveals an unexpected counter argument one in which poetry is modelled rather as pure expenditure a free gift a net loss Where a supposedly idealist Defence sits oddly with Sidney s literary writings which depict human behaviour that is very far from ideal a de idealist Defence does not In its radical reading of the Defence this book thus makes a decisive intervention in the field of early modern studies while raising larger questions about a culture determined to quantify the value of the humanities and to defend the arts on those grounds alone

Yeats, Ezra Pound, and the Poetry of Paradise* Sean Pryor, 2011 Emphasizing the interplay of aesthetic forms and religious modes Sean Pryor's ambitious study takes up the endlessly reiterated longing for paradise that features throughout the works of W B Yeats and Ezra Pound Throughout his study Pryor argues that Yeats and Pound reconceive the quest for paradise as a quest for a new kind of poetry a journey that Pryor traces by analysing unpublished manuscript drafts and newly published drafts that have received little attention
