La Table Aux Creves:

La table-aux-crevés Marcel Aymé,1929 La Table Aux Creves Marcel Ayme,1929-01-01 French Writers and the Politics of Complicity Richard J. Golsan,2006-02 Focusing on the political commitments of three French writers who collaborated with the Vichy Regime and Nazi Germany during World War II and on those of three leading French intellectuals of the 1990s whose misplaced political idealism led them to support xenophobic authoritarian regimes and dangerous historical revisionisms Richard J Golsan reexamines the notion of political commitment or engagement in two difficult periods in modern French history Discussing the fiction essays and journalism of Henry de Montherlant Jean Giono and Alphonse de Chateaubriant Golsan explores the complexity of artistic and intellectual collaboration during the German Occupation He demonstrates that in this context complicity with political evil often derived from nonpolitical motives including sexual orientation antimodern aesthetics and dangerously skewed religious beliefs Turning to the post cold war era of the 1990s Golsan examines the philosopher Alain Finkielkraut's support for Croatian independence the mediologist Régis Debray's pro Serb stance during the bombing of Kosovo and the historian Stéphane Courtois's revisionist comparison of Nazi and Communist crimes during the 1997 debate surrounding the publication of The Black Book of Communism In these three cases laudable motives and misguided historical comparisons with Vichy Nazism and the Occupation period that marked the political and intellectual discourses of France in the 1990s resulted paradoxically in antidemocratic engagements profoundly at odds with the original motivations behind these intellectuals commitments In each of these case studies political complicity derives from a combination of passions and ideals whether positive or negative emotional or intellectual as well as a desire to make the present conform to a particular and generally skewed vision of the past The full implications of these involvements are neither fully grasped nor understood by their authors either through lack of objectivity rationality or imagination or through willful ignorance The results are always unfortunate and often disastrous Considered together these six intellectuals serve as sobering reminders that political commitments are never as simple or straightforward as they seem and that admirable motives for political involvement can have dangerous and destructive consequences in historical practice creators spiritualists recluses the mad and the socially marginalized was once scorned by the art establishment Among the first to value and collect such works was the French artist Jean Dubuffet 1901 85 who coined the term Art Brut or raw art He saw Art Brut as the purest form of creation because it was uncooked by culture touched by a raw nerve and deriving directly from the psyche Some 50 years later a wave of enthusiasm for contemporary folk art has gripped countries as far apart as India and the United States John Maizels ties these disparate strands together providing an extensive survey of the self taught art of the twentieth century Today a bewildering range of terminology has emerged along with growing enthusiasm for strains of creative expression outside the conventional art world In Raw Creation Maizels traces the history of the recognition and study of this art and examines different theories and definitions that have grown up around it He provides detailed expositions of the work of individual artists ranging from such Art Brut masters as Adolf Wolfli and Aloise Corbaz to such gifted American folk artists as Bill Traylor and Mose Tolliver Devoting several chapters to large scale visionary environments Maizels takes a broad view embracing Rodia towers in Watts Los Angeles the Palais Id al in the South of France and Nek Chand s sculpture garden in north India Raw Creation provides an indispensable guide to self taught art and a fascinating account of human creativity Film Directors Michael Singer, 2001 Variety International Show
