La Rue:

La Rue's Return or How's a Bayou? Edward Thorpe, Scott Cherney, 2014-12-24 Evil always returns and this time it has a bad French accent The deliciously wicked criminal Jacques La Rue arrives in New Orleans to exact his vengeance on those who sent him to prison especially frail Southern belle Polly Montclair Standing in his path are the courageous yet dim U S Cavalry officer Lt Alan Wexstad and the whacked out witch known as the Swamp Crone LA RUE S RETURN is a hilarious riff on the classic melodrama filled with outrageous characters breakneck slapstick action and a swashbuckling sword fight in the swamp thrown in for good measure The cast consists of 4 men 3 women Performance rights are available Let the good times roll

Pierre de la Rue and Musical Life at the Habsburg-Burgundian Court Honey Meconi, 2003 Pierre de la Rue composer at the grande chapelle of the Habsburg Burgundian court for nearly a quarter of a century composed for one of the leading musical institutions of his day Serving successive rulers Maximilian I Philip the Fair Juana of Castile Marguerite of Austria and the future Charles V La Rue surpassed a dozen composer colleagues in his creation of polyphony to meet the needs of the court and its extravagant liturgy Honey Meconi presents the first ever study in English of la Rue s life and career exploring aspects of his compositional output and highlighting the reawakening of modern scholarship to his unique contribution Extensive documentation of the events of his life and a complete record of the transmission of his music across Europe make this study essential for everyone studying the musical court in Europe at the turn of the 16th century

Sex Work, Text Work Jessica Tanner, 2023-05-15 Though male French authors plotted prostitution to make their names mimicking the surveillance of municipal authorities the sex workers in their books manage to evade efforts to contain them While prostitutes in nineteenth century Paris were subject to municipal laws that policed their bodies and movements writers of the era enlisted them to stake their own claims on both the city and the novel as literary territory Sex Work Text Work Mapping Prostitution in the Nineteenth Century French Novel explores how prostitutes depicted by mile Zola Joris Karl Huysmans Edmond de Goncourt Adolphe Tabarant and Charles Louis Philippe write back confounding civil and literary efforts to contain them in space and in narrative In city regulated brothels brasseries femmes Haussmannian boulevards and the novel itself working class prostitutes served to reinforce the boundaries of social inclusion and exclusion And yet Jessica Tanner contends even the novels that most explicitly aligned with the disciplinary logic of regulated prostitution make space for a distinctly literary form of resistance these women elude or disrupt the mapping that would claim them as literary territory revealing their authors failure to secure their narratives as property Tanner pushes back against the critical tendency to attribute agency only to courtesans who became published authors and forwards a new framework for understanding the political work novels engage in as they circulate Observing that debates about the regulation of prostitution surfaced in tandem with racialized anxieties about the boundaries of the French nation Tanner ultimately expands that framework to the history of French colonialism and the politics of immigration in the current day This book shows that while sex workers have been recruited to mark the borders of civic and moral life prostitution can also make space for more inclusive forms of community both in the novel and in the world beyond its bounds Six Generations of La Rues and Allied Families Otis May Mather,1921 Piercing Time Peter Sramek,2014-01-01 Piercing Time examines the role of photography in documenting urban change by juxtaposing contemporary rephotographs taken by the author with images of nineteenth century Paris taken by Charles Marville who worked under Georges Haussmann and corresponding photographs by Eug ne Atget taken in the early twentieth century Revisiting the sites of Marville s photographs with a black cloth tripod and view camera Peter Sramek creates here a visually stunning book that investigates how urban development the use of photography as a documentary medium and the representation of urban space reflect attitudes towards the city The essays that run alongside these fascinating images discuss subjects such as the aesthetics of ruins and the documentation of the demolitions that preceded Haussmannization as well as the different approaches taken by Marville and Atget to their work The book also includes contemporary interviews with local Parisians extracts from Haussmann s own writing and historical maps that allow for an intriguing look at the shifting city plan Sure to be of interest to lovers of the city be they Parisians or visitors Piercing Time provides a unique snapshot of historical changes of the past 150 years But it will also be of enduring value to scholars The accurate cataloguing and high quality reproductions of the images make it a resource for a significant portion of the Marville collection in the Mus e Carnavalet and it will aid further research in urban history and change in Paris over the past century and a half Photographers will be drawn to the book for its new thinking in relation to documentary methodologies

Expanding the Black Film Canon Lisa Doris Alexander,2019-08-30 If the sheer diversity of recent hits from Twelve Years a Slave and Moonlight to Get Out Black Panther and BlackkKlansman tells us anything it might be that there s no such thing as black film per se This book is especially timely then in expanding our idea of what black films are and going back to the 1960s showing us new and interesting ways to understand them When critics and scholars write about films from the Blaxploitation movement such as Cotton Comes to Harlem Shaft Superfly and Cleopatra Jones they emphasize their importance as films made for black audiences Consequently Lisa Doris Alexander points out a film like the highly popular Oscar nominated Blazing Saddles costarring and co written by Richard Pryor is generally left out of the discussion because it doesn t fit the profile of what a black film of the period should be This is the kind of categorical thinking that Alexander seeks to broaden looking at films from the 60s to the present day in the context of their time Applying insights from black feminist thought and critical race theory to one film per decade she analyzes what each can tell us about the status of black people and race relations in the United States at the time of its release By teasing out the importance of certain films excluded from the black film canon Alexander hopes to expand that canon to include films typically relegated to the category of popular entertainment and to show how these offer more nuanced representations of black characters even as they confront negate
