Proust and the Visual Nathalie Aubert, 2013-01-15 This collection of essays is aiming at capturing the rich and complex category of the visual both in Proust's novel itself in its philosophical and stylistic implications and beyond it in other visual practices cinema painting dance inspired by the novel Proust's Imaginary Museum Gabrielle Townsend, 2008 This study of Marcel Proust's creative imagination examines an aspect of the novel that has hitherto been largely overlooked the author's dependence on secondary visual sources Gabrielle Townsend argues that reproductions play a key role in the work's complex multi-layered structure La Venise intérieure Edward Bizub, 1991 Discourses of Mourning in Dante, Petrarch, and Proust Jennifer Rushworth, 2016 This book brings together in a novel and exciting combination three authors who have written movingly about mourning two medieval Italian poets Dante Alighieri and Francesco Petrarca and one early twentieth century French novelist Marcel Proust Each of these authors through their respective narratives of bereavement grapples with the challenge of how to write adequately about the deeply personal and painful experience of grief In Jennifer Rushworth's analysis discourses of mourning emerge as caught between the twin conflicting demands of a comforting readable shared generality and a silent solitary respect for the uniqueness of any and every experience of loss Rushworth explores a variety of major questions in the book including what type of language is appropriate to mourning What effect does mourning have on language Why and how has the Orpheus myth been so influential on discourses of mourning across different time periods and languages Might the form of mourning described in a text and the form of closure achieved by that same text be mutually formative and sustaining In this way discussion of the literary representation of mourning extends to embrace topics such as the medieval sin of acedia the proper name memory literary epiphanies the image of the book and the concept of writing as promise In addition to the three primary authors Rushworth draws extensively on the writings of Sigmund Freud Julia Kristeva Jacques Derrida and Roland Barthes These rich and diverse psychoanalytical and French theoretical traditions provide terminological nuance and frameworks for comparison particularly in relation to the complex term melancholia The Material Object in the Work of Marcel Proust Thomas Baldwin, 2005 Modern French Identities focuses on the French and Francophone writing of the twentieth and twenty-first centuries whose formal experiments and revisions of genre have combined to create an entirely new set of literary forms The series publishes studies of individual authors and artists comparative studies and interdisciplinary projects Mourning and Creativity in Proust Anna Magdalena Elsner, 2017-03-09 This study explores Proust's answers to some of the fundamental challenges of the inevitable human experience of mourning Thinking mourning and creativity together allows for a fresh approach to the modernist novel at large but also calls for a reassessment of the particular historical and social challenges faced by mourners at the beginning of the twentieth century The book enables the reader to acknowledge loss and forgetting as an essential part of memory and it proposes that this literary topos has seminal implications for an understanding of the ethics aesthetics and erotic in Proust

s A la recherche du temps perdu Drawing on the works of Sigmund Freud and Jacques Derrida Anna Magdalena Elsner develops an original theory of how mourning and creativity are linked by emphasizing that ethical dilemmas are central to an understanding of the novel s final aesthetic apotheosis This sheds new light on the enigmatic and versatile nature of mourning but also pays tribute to those fertile tensions and paradoxes that have made Proust s novel captivating for readers since its publication Marcel Proust Aujourd'hui 9 Sjef Houppermans, 2012 Table des mati res Introduction Luc Fraisse Un t moignage rapproch sur Marcel Proust la correspondance in dite de Reynaldo Hahn avec les dames Lemaire Wouter van Diepen Une mise en sc ne troublante l homosexualit dans le cycle d Albertine Sander Becker L oeil l ger d Albertine source de d sir et de souffrance St phane Chaudier Tacts et contacts dans la Recherche Edward Bizub Ruskin Ribot Sollier Proust croyance r surrection et l gitimation Nathalie Aubert Pour une autre obscurit Breton lecteur de Proust Ton Hoenselaars and Ieme van der Poel The Best Grapes in Paris annotating Proust for Dutch and Flemish readers St phane Heuet La Recherche en BD Jan Baetens Marcel Proust en 48 cc Sjef Houppermans Pompes et uniformes Proust film manga et 1q84 Nell de Hullu van Doeselaar Manet van Montfrans et Annelies Schulte Nordholt Comptes rendus Proust as Interpreter of Ruskin Cynthia J. Gamble, 2002 A Reader's Guide to Proust's 'In Search of Lost Time' David Ellison, 2010-02-18 A detailed analysis of Proust s masterpiece aimed at students coming to the work for the first time Proust's Cup of Tea Emily Eells, 2017-03-02 Proust s Cup of Tea analyzes Proust s reading of various Victorian authors and shows how they contributed to A la recherche du temps perdu This book proves that British literature and art played a fundamental role in Proust s writing process by citing from the manuscript versions of his novel as well as from his correspondence essays and the lengthy critical apparatus accompanying his translations of Ruskin Eells reflects here on why Proust was attracted to Victorian culture and how he incorporated it into his novel The works of the British novelists he was most interested in Thomas Hardy and George Eliot address questions of gender which Proust develops in his own work He builds Sodome et Gomorrhe I the section of his novel focusing on homosexuality on a series of explicit citations and guarded allusions to Shakespeare Darwin Walter Scott Oscar Wilde and Robert Louis Stevenson Eells explores how Proust followed in the pioneering footsteps of those British writers who had ventured beyond the boundaries of conventional sexuality though he took pains to erase their traces in the definitive version of his work This study also highlights how Proust made his fictitious painter Elstir into a master of ambiguity by modeling his art on Turner the Pre Raphaelites and Whistler Eells shows that Proust drew on Victorian culture in his depiction of sexual ambiguity arguing that he confounded eroticism and aestheticism in the way he inextricably linked the man woman figure with British art and literature As Proust aestheticized male and female homosexuality using references to British art and letters Eells coins the term Anglosexuality to refer to his characters of the third sex She defines Anglosexuality as an intersexuality represented through intertextuality as an artistic sensitivity an aesthetic stance and a new way of seeing Proust s Cup of Tea thus demonstrates that Victorian culture and homoeroticism form one of the cornerstones of Proust's monumental work      Romancing the Cathedral Elizabeth Emery, 2001-09-20 Romancing the Cathedral explores the late nineteenth century French passion for Gothic architecture particularly the cathedral Though maligned in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries and vandalized during the French Revolution by World War I the cathedral was considered the genius of the French nation a privileged and patriotic work of art that surpassed such other national artworks as Wagner's operas and the Parthenon However the moment at which the Gothic style finally reached near universal acclaim in France also coincided with one of the most anti clerical periods of French history the years surrounding the separation of church and state Taking this contradiction as a starting point Elizabeth Emery explores how the cathedral's popularity stemmed from its semantic richness as well as its glorification in the works of such writers and artists as Emile Zola J K Huysmans Marcel Proust Paul Claudel Claude Monet Auguste Rodin and others Using their works as a springboard Emery examines the ways in which they responded and contributed to prevailing discourses about the cathedral Interdisciplinary in nature Romancing the Cathedral will appeal to those interested in Gothic art and architecture European cultural studies medievalism and French literature      Proust épistolier Martin Robitaille, 2003      Beckett in the Cultural Field / Beckett dans le champ culturel Jürgen Siess, Matthij Engelberts, Angela Moorjani, 2013-12-06 The thematic part of this volume of Samuel Beckett Today Aujourd'hui is devoted mainly to Beckett's texts of the forties and later and particularly to those he composed after his adoption of the French language The essays presented in this part of the current issue attempt to see Beckett as a writer among other authors with whom he connects or competes to examine his relations with artists whether Beckett stimulates them or is stimulated by them and to define his posture and his position in the cultural field How does the budding francophone writer position himself in the cultural field during his difficult beginnings and after his first successes How can he be situated in relation to the three cultures he is dealing with What are the parallels between Beckett's own texts and those of other writers literary and philosophical but also between his work and the work of artists of the period The ten essays in the free space section of this volume also mainly concern his texts that were first written in French and situate Beckett in relation to different topics from Dante to the War on Terror      Proust et le moi divisé Edward Bizub, 2006      Sensual Reading Michael Syrotinski, Ian Maclachlan, 2001 Sensual Reading is a collection of essays that attempts to rearticulate the relationship between reading and the different senses as a way of moving beyond increasingly homogenized discourses of the body and the subject Contributions engage with the individual senses with the themes of sensory richness and sensory deprivation and with the notion of telesensuality      Architecture and Modern Literature David Anton Spurr, 2017-05-09 Exploring the related cultural forms of architecture and literature in the modern era      Time and Sense Julia Kristeva, 1996 Not only a meditation on Proust this is a commentary on how the experience of literature is manifested in time and sensation Kristeva uses Proust as a starting point to reflect upon broader notions of character time sensation metaphor and history      The Syllables of Time Teresa Whittington, 2017-07-05 This study reveals reading to be one of the main activities to occupy the inhabitants of the world of Marcel Proust's novel A la recherche du temps perdu. Characters do not just read books but have access to the journals and newspapers of a rapidly expanding print industry. They receive letters and postcards from family and friends. The posters of a nascent advertising industry tempt them to spend an evening at the theatre or a holiday by the sea and new forms of communication such as telegraphy enter their lives and require new strategies of deciphering. All human activity is glossed by means of a series of metaphors of reading extending the reader's domain beyond the written text. Through a series of illuminating analyses, Teresa Whittington shows how this web of references builds into a specifically Proustian account of both the outer social context of reading and the inner psychological world of the reader. Proust offers a contribution to the history of reading in the France of his own lifetime and suggests that reading is the very condition of the writing of his fiction.

Deux célèbres inconnues. Sarah Al-Matary, 2024-10-18T00:00:00+02:00. Deux femmes homonymes. Jeanne Weil 1849-1905 et Jeanne Weill 1859-1925. L'histoire les a d'autant plus effacées qu'aucune n'a vécu sous son nom de naissance. Jeanne Weil est connue comme Mme Proust, la mère de Marcel, le grandcrivain de la recherche du temps perdu. Jeanne Weill est devenue sous le pseudonyme de Dick May, une intellectuelle pionnière des sciences sociales et une militante progressiste. Ces deux contemporaines se sont croisées dans le Paris républicain de la Belle époque au rythme des rendez-vous mondains et des avancées scientifiques. Mais que reste-t-il de leurs œuvres et de leurs combats ? Ce livre est une réflexion sur les modes de légitimation qui s'offrent aux femmes et sur l'invisibilité qui les frappe. L'enquête biographique prend la forme d'une quinzaine de questions sur plusieurs inconnues : le parcours des deux Jeanne Weil, l' rencontre celui de Proust, Durkheim et Bergson. Elle fait ressortir en même temps que les processus de laboration du canon littéraire, les stratégies des femmes pour briser le plafond de verre. D'ici aujourd'hui, Sarah Al-Matary est maîtresse de conférences HDR en littérature à l'université Lyon 2, membre de l'Institut universitaire de France. Elle a publié La Haine des clercs (L'anti-intellectualisme en France, Seuil, 2019).
