Esbensen, 2010-06-25 This highly acclaimed criminology text presents an up to date review of rational choice theories including deterrence shaming and routine activities It also incorporates current examples of deterrence research regarding domestic violence drunk driving and capital punishment and features thought provoking discussion of the relativity of crime The authors explore the crime problem its context and causes of crime The organization of the text reflects the fact that the etiology of crime must be at the heart of criminology It examines contemporary efforts to redefine crime by focusing on family violence hate crimes white collar misconduct with violent consequences and other forms of human behavior often neglected by criminologists Extensive discussion of evolving laws are included and while the prevalence of the scientific method in the field of criminology is highlighted the impact of ideology on explanations of crime is the cornerstone of the book Comprehensive introductory text emphasizing the ideology of crime Boxes throughout each chapter highlight the text with figures features and highlights Each chapter concludes with key terms and concepts key criminologists key cases

Victims as Offenders Susan Miller, 2005-09-22 Arrests of women for assault increased more than 40 percent over the past decade while male arrests for this offense have fallen by about one percent Some studies report that for the first time ever the rate of reported intimate partner abuse among men and women is nearly equal Susan L Miller s timely book explores the important questions raised by these startling statistics Are women finally closing the gender gap on violence Or does this phenomenon reflect a backlash shaped by men who batter How do abusive men use the criminal justice system to increase control over their wives Do police courts and treatment providers support aggressive arrest policies for women Are these women victims or offenders In answering these questions Miller draws on extensive data from a study of police behavior in the field interviews with criminal justice professionals and social service providers and participant observation of female offender programs She offers a critical analysis of the theoretical assumptions framing the study of violence and provides insight into the often contradictory implications of the mandatory and pro arrest policies enacted in the 1980s and 1990s Miller argues that these enforcement strategies designed to protect women have often victimized women in different ways Without sensationalizing Miller unveils a reality that looks very different from what current statistics on domestic violence imply     The New Other Woman Laurel Richardson,1987 A disturbing and thoughtful analysis of today s single woman s search for love The Washington Post     Sociology David M. Newman,2009-12-08 The Eighth edition of David Newman s Sociology Exploring the Architecture of Everyday Life once again invites students into the world of sociological thought Sociology encourages students to think less about the next test and more about how the subject applies to their everyday lives In addition to updated coverage and fresh examples this edition features revamped Micro Macro Connections that have been even further honed to help students understand the link between individual lives and the structure of society

Reframing Women's Health Alice Dan,1994 Offering a unique combination of pragmatic and philosophical perspectives Reframing Women s Health presents an insightful exploration of the theoretical and practical advances in women s health care The assembled works of this distinguished group of contributors addresses issues as diverse as the concept of biological primacy the role of reproduction and the possible repercussions of accepting the male experience as normative Other subjects discussed include the physical emotional and legal elements of abuse advances and methodology in clinical and behavioral research as well as a variety of practice concerns This comprehensive survey of critical women s health topics will be indispensable to researchers educators clinicians and students in this and such related fields as gender studies health sciences psychology and social work In Reframing Women s Health the editor has assembled some of the finest authors in the field to create a broad based multidisciplinary source of the latest thinking on women s health For a discipline this young the book represents an extremely comprehensive collection of works The authors go beyond the stereotyped view of obstetric and gynecologic care and force the reader to consider women in relation to self and in relation to the world in which they live The tread that weaves through the book is one of challenging the old paradigm of women s health care as care of reproductive issues alone It is a must read for clinicians or teachers who wish to broaden their own thinking in a way that will promote optimal health care for women Family Medicine Especially recommended for college level students of women s health and health science Diane C Donovan The Midwest Book Review     Southern Women Caroline M. Women's Crimes, Criminology, and Corrections Joycelyn M. Pollock,2014-04-14 Historically women have been an afterthought in criminal justice policymaking and the criminological enterprise The study of criminology has largely been the study of criminal men because women commit less crime than men More recently criminologists have paid increased attention to the population of female offenders partly because of their growing numbers and partly because of the tens of thousands of children affected by having their mothers in prison or on supervised release The recent attention however has not necessarily been a good thing for women who are much more likely to be formally prosecuted and incarcerated today than in decades past This policy shift has come about partly because of misinformed policies implemented to help women and partly because of shifts in theorists beliefs and public perceptions that women and men are similar in their criminal motivations and should therefore be treated similarly The controversy surrounding this perception is the focus of this book To better comprehend the challenges facing women in the criminal justice system the author a winner of the Bruce Smith Sr Award from the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences employs research findings and statistics to describe the prevalence and patterns of women s crimes review criminological theories specifically examining how well they explain female criminality understand female juvenile offenders reviewing crime rates theories relating to female delinquency and detention related issues look inside the women s prison to better understand female prisoners and their world examine classification and programming issues particularly the impact of gender specific programming and explore the problems experienced by women upon release and the related issue of women s recidivism

Gender and Educational Philanthropy A. Ginsberg,M. Gasman,2007-03-19 This book explores the complex questions facing funding agencies and foundations as they grapple to understand and define gender equity in education It covers different approaches funders use to define gender equity target limited resources and create collaborative relationships that will ultimately make schools equitable and engaging for all

Food, Consumption and the Body in Contemporary Women's Fiction Sarah Sceats,2000-04-20 This study explores the subtle and complex significance of food and eating in contemporary women s fiction Sarah Sceats reveals how preoccupations with food its consumption and the body are central to the work of writers such as Doris Lessing Angela Carter Margaret Atwood Mich le Roberts and Alice Thomas Ellis Through close analysis of their fiction Sceats examines the multiple metaphors associated with these themes making powerful connections between food and love motherhood sexual desire self identity and social behaviour The activities surrounding food and its consumption or non consumption embrace both the most intimate and the most thoroughly public aspects of our lives The book draws on psychoanalytical feminist and sociological theory to engage with a diverse range of issues including chapters on cannibalism and eating disorders This lively study demonstrates that feeding and eating are not simply fundamental to life but are inseparable from questions of gender power and control

Politics of Sexuality Terrell Carver, Veronique Mottier, 2013-03-07 This book recognises sexuality as a mainstream concept in political analysis and explores issues in the politics of sexuality that are highly salient and controversial today These include conceptions of citizenship and nationality linked to gender and sexuality the legislation about the age of consent prostitution and trafficking in women the international politics of population control abortion sexual harrassment and sexuality in the military The international team of contributors provide a wide range of perspectives in a variety of contexts On a national level they offer illustrative case studies from the UK Ireland the Netherlands Spain and Israel among others and on an international plane they cover the European Union the UN Conference on Population and Development and the role of the Vatican as international arbiter Moreover the volume addresses the interaction between political discourse and the work of major theorists such as Weber Freud Foucault Irigaray and Butler

Violence Against Women Carolyn M. Sampselle, 1992 A collection of papers on violence against women which looks at the kind of contribution nursing can make to help decrease abuse Set in a feminist framework the book focuses beyond the target and the perpetrator to encompass context violence physical sexual domestic pregnancy and childhood
