Labor Markets and Social Policy in Central and Eastern Europe N. A. Barr, 1994 The Essence of Reform Labor Markets and Social Policy in Central and Eastern Europe N. A. Barr, 2005-01-01 Labor Markets and Social Policy in Central and Eastern Europe summarises social policy reform during the transition and EU accession and analyses the social policy challenges which continue to face both old and new member states Specifically the book amplifies two sets of arguments First social policy under communism was in important respects well suited to the old order and precisely for that reason was systematically badly suited to a market economy Strategic reform directions thus followed from the nature of the transition process and from constraints imposed by EU accession Secondly successful accession is not the end of the story economic and social trends over the past 50 years are creating strains for social policy which all countries old and new members will have to face This book will be of interest to readers interested in social policy particularly those with an interest in the process of post communist transition in EU accession and in future social policy challenges for the wider Europe It should be of interest to academics in departments of economics social policy and political science and to policy makers including government advisers and civil servants Labor Markets and Social Policy in Central and Eastern Europe

N. A. Barr, 1994 This study by the author of The Economics of the Welfare State assesses the situation in Central and Eastern Europe and suggests policies for labour markets and the social sectors during the early years of economic restructuring

Labor Markets and Social Policy in Central and Eastern Europe Nicholas Barr, 1994-08-01 Social Policy in Central and Eastern Europe Alfio Cerami, 2006 By explaining the path of extrication from state socialism this book clarifies the patterns of the welfare state s transformation in Central and Eastern Europe It identifies the emergence of a peculiar Eastern European welfare regime through the fusion of pre communist communist and post communist features Europe enlarged Kogan, Irena, Gebel, Michael, 2008-07-16 The expansion of the European Union EU has put an end to the East West division of Europe At the same time it has increased the cultural heterogeneity social disparities and economic imbalances within the EU exemplified in the lower living standards and higher unemployment rates in some of the new member states This important new reference work describes the education systems labour markets and welfare production regimes in the 10 new Central and Eastern Europe CEE countries In three comparative chapters discussing each of these domains in turn the editors provide a set of theory driven comprehensive and informative indicators that allow comparisons and rankings within the new EU member states Ten country specific chapters follow each written by experts from those countries Bulgaria the Czech Republic Estonia Hungary Latvia Lithuania Poland Romania Slovakia and Slovenia These chapters provide detailed information on each country s education and training systems labour market structure and regulations and its provision of formal and informal welfare support An important component of each country chapter is the explanation of the historical background and the specific national conditions for the institutional choices in the transitional years The handbook provides policy makers with the tools to assess the institutional changes in CEE countries and scholars with ways to apply the proposed indicators to their analytic research It will be a vital resource that no major research library should be without

Labour and Social Transformation in Central and Eastern Europe Violaine Delteil,Vassil Nikolaev Kirov,2016-07-22 Over a quarter of a century after the fall of the Berlin Wall and 10 years after their accession to the European Union EU Central and Eastern Europe Countries CEECs still show marked differences with the rest of Europe in the fields of labour work and industrial relations This book presents a detailed and original analysis of labour and social transformations in the CEECs By examining a wide range of countries in Central Europe Labour and Social Transformation in Central and Eastern Europe offers a comprehensive and contrasting view of labour developments in Central and Eastern Europe Chapters explore three related issues The first deals with the understanding of the complex process of Europeanization applied in the sphere of labour employment and industrial relations The second issue refers to the attempt to link the Europeanization approach with an analysis mobilizing the theoretical concept of dependent capitalism s The third issue refers to the cumulative trends of labour weakening and labour awakening that has emerged in particular in the aftermath of the crisis beginning in 2007 2008 This book will be of interest to academics policy makers and stakeholders at European and national level in the EU member states

Restructuring in the New EU Member States Marie-Ange Moreau,María Esther Blas-López,2008 This book presents a series of extremely stimulating analyses of the process of corporate restructuring in the new Member States of the EU Particularly noteworthy is the book s focus on the Central and Eastern European Countries CEECs that have joined the EU since 2004 an area which has not been prominent in the research on corporate restructuring conducted in Western Europe in the last twenty years As with their Asian counterparts these States have generally been perceived as a threat to employment in Western Europe due to the former s benefiting from outsourcing away from the latter By moving east the book allows for a different perspective on the restructuring process by placing it in the context of both Europe and the numerous changes affecting the CEECs The book seeks to understand the impact of European and national level policies on the concept of restructuring the role of the acquis communautaire and the place of social and political actors in the process of change in the context of new Member States where multinational firms have developed mobility and establishment strategies within the context of broader European and global ones The density of this collection its wealth in terms of substantive teachings and its use of a comparative and multidisciplinary approach that links law political science sociology and economics make it an essential resource for those wishing to understand restructuring in the European space after the enlargements of 2004 and 2007 and the impact of European policies and the European Social Model

Taking

Stock of Shock Kristen Rogheh Ghodsee, Mitchell Alexander Orenstein, 2021 Kristen Ghodsee and Mitchell A Orenstein blend empirical data with lived experiences to produce a robust picture of who won and who lost in post communist transition contextualizing the rise of populism in Eastern Europe After the fall of the Berlin Wall in 1989 more than 400 million people suddenly found themselves in a new reality a dramatic transition from state socialist and centrally planned workers states to liberal democracy in most cases and free markets Thirty years later postsocialist citizens remain sharply divided on the legacies of transition Was it a success that produced great progress after a short recession or a socio economic catastrophe foisted on the East by Western capitalists Taking Stock of Shock aims to uncover the truth using a unique interdisciplinary investigation into the social consequences of transition including the rise of authoritarian populism and xenophobia Showing that economic demographic sociological political scientific and ethnographic research produce contradictory results based on different disciplinary methods and data Kristen Ghodsee and Mitchell Orenstein triangulate the results They find that both the J curve model which anticipates sustained growth after a sharp downturn and the disaster capitalism perspective which posits that neoliberalism led to devastating outcomes have significant basis in fact While substantial percentages of the populations across a variety of postsocialist countries enjoyed remarkable success prosperity and progress many others suffered an unprecedented socio economic catastrophe Ghodsee and Orenstein conclude that the promise of transition still remains elusive for many and offer policy ideas for overcoming negative social and political consequences Aging

Population, Pension Funds, and Financial Markets Robert Holzmann, 2009 Population aging is placing enormous pressures on the pension benefits governments are able to provide The former transition economies of the countries of Central Eastern and Southern Europe CESE face unique challenges The growth of their aging populations outpaces other European countries while the growth of their financial markets essential to fund pension provisions lags behind With support and direction from the ERSTE Foundation an Austrian group focused on Central European policy issues a World Bank team investigated the challenges faced by these countries against the background of international experience from the OECD countries and Latin America Aging Population Pension Funds and Financial Markets Regional Perspectives and Global Challenges for Central Eastern and Southern Europe examines how well the financial systems in the CESE economies were prepared for the challenges of multipillar pension reform how ready they are for the approaching payout of benefits to the first participants whether returns from pension funds can be sustained in an aging population and how determined policy actions might be implemented to complete financial market development Adequacy of Retirement Income After Pension

Reforms in Central, Eastern, and Southern Europe Robert Holzmann, Ufuk Guven, 2009 Pension reforms in former transition economies aimed to fiscal sustainability and market economy objectives Estimating the gross and net replacement rates in 9 countries for steady conditions until 2040 show that they are adequate for most categories of workers with the exception of those with intermittent or no formal sector employment Knowledge Production in European Universities Kwiek
