There has been a discernable calibration of Chinese foreign policy since the ascension of Xi Jinping to the top leadership positions in China. The operative term here is adjustment rather than renovation because there has not been a fundamental transformation of Chinese foreign policy or setting up of a new kitchen in foreign affairs. Several continuities in Chinese diplomacy are still evident. The People's Republic of China (PRC) has not wavered from its overarching strategy of rising through peaceful development. The PRC is still an active participant and leader in or shaper of global and regional regimes even as it continues to push for reforms of the extant order towards an arrangement which it thinks will be less unjust and more equitable. It seeks to better link up with the international track perhaps even more so under Xi's stewardship. Yet amidst these continuities it is clear that there have been some profound shifts in China's foreign policy. From the enunciation of strategic slogans such as the Asian security concept and major country diplomacy with Chinese characteristics to the creation of the China-led and initiated Asian Infrastructure Investment Bank, the pursuit of Xi's signature foreign policy initiative, the One Belt One Road, to a purportedly more assertive and resolute defense of China's maritime territorial interests in East Asia, examples of these foreign policy calibrations both patent and subtle abound. In short, this has not been a complete metamorphosis but there are real changes with important repercussions for China and the international system. The burning questions then are: What? Where? How? and Why? What are these key foreign policy adjustments? Where and how have these occurred in Chinese diplomacy? And what are the reasons or drivers that inform these changes? This book seeks to capture these changes. Featuring contributions from academics, think tank intellectuals, and policy practitioners all engaged in the compelling business of China, watching the book aims to shed more light on the calibrations that have animated China's diplomacy under Xi, a leader who by most accounts is considered the most powerful Chinese numero uno since Deng Xiaoping.

Unnatural States Peter Ian Lomas, 2017-09-08. Unnatural States is a radical critique of international theory in particular of the assumption of state agency that states act in the world in their own right. Peter Lomas argues that since the universal states system is inequitable and rigid and not all states are democracies anyway, this assumption is unreal and to adopt it means reinforcing an unjust status quo. Looking at the concepts of state, nation, and agency, Lomas sees populations struggling to find an agreed model of the state owing to inherited material differences and unsurprisingly among theorists of the nation only controversy and a great confusion of terms. Meanwhile the functional incarnations of the state agent are caricatures, the mandarin state the lawyer state the landlord state the heir to history state and the patriot state Yet recent developments in international theory constructivism scientific realism postmodernism sacrifice state agency only at the price of an unhelpful abstraction The states system is dysfunctional and obsolete Lomas contends and international theory must be recast with morality as central to inspire and to guide historic change He focuses in his conclusion on prescriptions for change led by four moral concerns human rights weapons of mass destruction relations between rich and poor societies and the environment I begin this book writes Lomas with the commonest commonplace of international theory to expose it as a meaningless cliché In the masterly hands of Hobbes it was elaborated into a shock formula for organized society a reading of history as civilization's failure Kant sought to rescue morality from Hobbes and create the structures of modernity but Kant's influence is coming to an end In the Cold War politicians disagreeing over another philosopher almost brought the world to an end Hence the challenges of our time These are primary and profound Philosophers have done much to define the modern world The point of international theory is to change it Ideological Differences and World Order. Studies in the Philosophy and Science of the World's Cultures. Ed. by F[ilmer] S[tuart] C[uckow]. Northrop, 1963 An Introduction to Contemporary International Law Lung-chu Chen, 2015 Applies the New Haven School approach explaining discrete aspects of the global decision process and their effects on the content of international legal rules Provides an in depth treatment of the key features of the New Haven School of international law References both classic historical examples and contemporary events to illustrate international legal processes and principles Focuses on important trends in international law including the movement from a state centered system to a people centered one Contributes to the growth of a world community of human dignity through international law Publishers website Annihilation and Utopia Errol E. Harris, 2013-04-15 Originally published in 1966 The main purpose of this book is not philosophical speculation but to draw the obvious conclusions from political and historical facts about the prospects and methods of human political survival The central theme is developed in the context of problems which cause most anxiety today the mounting arms race the unstable balance of power the rapid growth of population racial conflicts and ideological incompatibilities People's China and International Law, Volume 1 Jerome Alan Cohen, Hungdah Chiu, 2017-03-14 In the first of two volumes Jerome Alan Cohen and Hungdah Chiu have presented in a comprehensive form the views of the People's Republic of China on all the major questions of public international law The material chosen includes official acts and statements from every level of the Chinese government editorials and major articles from the People's Daily dispatches of the New China News Agency and other government media the writings of Chinese scholars and the speeches of China's leaders In an extensive introduction Professors Cohen and Chiu discuss the experience of previous Chinese governments with international law and the relationship of China's domestic public order and its foreign policy to its views of international law Originally published in 1974 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Kissinger and Brzezinski Gerry Argyris Andrianopoulos,2016-07-27 Going beyond superficial comparisons of Kissinger and Brzezinski this study by comparing their views on world politics and on strategy and tactics for achieving national goals and examining the consistency of their beliefs and actions while in and out of office finds that despite Brzezinski s attacks on Kissinger he shared many of his views and copied many of his actions while in office and that their policy making behaviour was indeed strongly influenced by their shared beliefs The State, Identity, and the National Question in China and Japan Germaine A. Hoston,2021-02-09 The first decades of the twentieth century witnessed an explosion of nationalist sentiment in East Asia as in Europe This comprehensive work explores how radical Chinese and Japanese thinkers committed to social change in this turbulent era addressed issues concerning national identity social revolution and the role of the national state in achieving socio economic development Focusing on the adaptation of anarchism and then Marxism Leninism to non European contexts Germaine Hoston shows how Chinese and Japanese theorists attempted to reconcile a relatively new appreciation for the nation state with their allegiance to a vision of internationalist socialist revolution culminating in stateless socialism Given the influence of Western experience on Marxism Chinese and Japanese theorists found the Marxian national question to be not merely one of whether the working man has no country but rather the much more fundamental issue of the relative value of Eastern and Western cultures Marxism argues Hoston thus placed native Marxists in tension with their own heritage and national identity The author traces efforts to resolve this tension throughout the first half of the twentieth century and concludes by examining how the tension persists as Chinese and Japanese dissidents seek identity affirming modernity in accordance with the Western democratic model the HSJ is Struggle between the Proletariat and the Bourgeoisie Did Cold War really end in 1991 We have always heard the words such as Proletariat and Bourgeoisie when we are reading the history of Russia more specifically the Soviet Union however what exactly do they mean Not many people know the meaning of such words that has strong communistic origins In fact Proletariat and Bourgeoisie mean People with no assets and People with assets respectively The struggle between them was often regarded as events that happened in the past especially during the period between 1945 and 1991 after the collapse of the Japanese Empire and before the demise of the Soviet Union but is that really true The collapse of the Soviet Union is widely viewed as the end of the Cold War Frankly speaking though the argument that Cold War is a continuous event even till this day is not something made up by some random nobodies in the basement of their parent s house but something that is being brought up from time to time by different critics across the world It is often referred to as The Second Cold War or the New Neo Cold War often involving in the United States China and Russia the primary successor state of the former Soviet Union As a resident of Hong Kong a city which is very close with the states mentioned above be it economical or geographical it would be necessary for us to acknowledge the influence and consequences of the actions in this new Silent War in order for us to cope with the events and develop alternative ways to survive in this dangerous and hazardous world Submission of original scholarly research articles is open to undergraduates from students at HKU For further information feel free to communicate with the History Society at hiso connect hku hk
