The Dominican Racial Imaginary Milagros Ricourt, 2016-11-18 This book begins with a simple question why do so many Dominicans deny the African components of their DNA culture and history Seeking answers Milagros Ricourt uncovers a complex and often contradictory Dominican racial imaginary Observing how Dominicans have traditionally identified in opposition to their neighbors on the island of Hispaniola Haitians of African descent she finds that the Dominican Republic's social elite has long propagated a national creation myth that conceives of the Dominican as a perfect hybrid of native islanders and Spanish settlers Yet as she pores through rare historical documents interviews contemporary Dominicans and recalls her own childhood memories of life on the island Ricourt encounters persistent challenges to this myth Through fieldwork at the Dominican Haitian border she gives a firsthand look at how Dominicans are resisting the official account of their national identity and instead embracing the African influence that has always been part of their cultural heritage Building on the work of theorists ranging from Edward Said to douard Glissant this book expands our understanding of how national and racial imaginaries develop why they persist and how they might be subverted As it confronts Hispaniola's dark legacies of slavery and colonial oppression The Dominican Racial Imaginary also delivers an inspiring message on how multicultural communities might cooperate to disrupt the enduring power of white supremacy

West African Warfare in Bahia and Cuba Manuel Barcia, 2014-09-25 West African Warfare in Bahia and Cuba seeks to explain how a series of historical events that occurred in West Africa from the mid 1790s including Afonja's rebellion the Owu wars the Fulani led jihad and the migrations to Egbaland had an impact upon life in cities and plantations in western Cuba and Bahia Manuel Barcia examines the extent to which a series of African led plots and armed movements that took place in western Cuba and Bahia between 1807 and 1844 were the result or a continuation of events that had occurred in and around the Yoruba and Hausa kingdoms in the same period Why did these two geographical areas serve as the theatre for the uprising of the Nag's the Lucum's and other West African men and women The answer Barcia argues relates to the fact that plantation economies supported by unusually large numbers of African born slaves from the same or close geographical and ethnic heritage transformed the rural and urban landscape in western Cuba and Bahia To understand why these two areas followed such similar social patterns it is essential to look across the Atlantic it is not enough to repeat the significance of the African background of Bahian and Cuban slaves By establishing connections between people and events with a special emphasis on their warfare experiences Barcia presents a coherent narrative which spans more than three decades and opens a wealth of archival research for future study

The Historical Practice of Diversity Dirk Hoerder, Christiane Harzig, Adrian Shubert, 2003-09-01 While multicultural composition of nations has become a catchword in public debates few educators not to speak of the general public realize that cultural interaction was the rule throughout history Starting with the Islam Christian Jewish Mediterranean world of the early modern period this volume moves to the empires of the 18th and 19th centuries and the African Diaspora of the Black Atlantic It ends with questioning assumptions about citizenship and underlying homogeneous received cultures through the analysis of the changes in various literatures

This volume clearly shows that the life worlds of settled as well as migrant populations in the past were characterized by cultural change and exchange whether conflictual or peaceful Societies reflected on such change in their literatures as well as in their concepts of citizenship

Ombatse: An Invention of Tradition and Understanding Communal Conflicts in Nasarawa State, Nigeria J. M. Ayuba, 2014-07-14 This book is about the emergence of ombatse an Eggon ethnic militia in central Nigeria Ombatse has become an invention by some Eggon people in response to their bleak suffering or marginalised situation in an attempt to effect their liberation It was initially formed as a political movement but after the outbreak of communal conflict in 2012 it was transformed into an ethnic militia Ombatse has now become a non state collective actor that organises violence and the group have been able to overcome the many challenges they have faced especially raising funds recruiting members and ensuring that members remain committed

West African Warfare in Bahia and Cuba Manuel Barcia Paz, 2014 West African Warfare in Bahia and Cuba seeks to explain how a series of historical events that occurred in West Africa from the mid 1790s including Afonja s rebellion the Owu wars the Fulani led jihad and the migrations to Egbaland had an impact upon life in cities and plantations in western Cuba and Bahia Manuel Barcia examines the extent to which a series of African led plots and armed movements that took place in western Cuba and Bahia between 1807 and 1844 were the result or a continuation of events that had occurred in and around the Yoruba and Hausa kingdoms in the same period Why did these two geographical areas serve as the theatre for the uprising of the Nagos the Lucumis and other West African men and women The answer Barcia argues relates to the fact that plantation economies supported by unusually large numbers of African born slaves from the same or close geographical and ethnic heritage which transformed the rural and urban landscape in western Cuba and Bahia To understand why these two areas followed such similar social patterns it is essential to look across the Atlantic it is not enough to repeat the significance of the African background of Bahian and Cuban slaves By establishing connections between people and events with a special emphasis on their warfare experiences Barcia presents a coherent narrative which spans more than three decades and opens a wealth of archival research for future study

Food and Identity in Nineteenth and Twentieth Century Ghana Brandi Simpson Miller, 2022-01-11 This book investigates how cooking eating and identity are connected to the local micro climates in each of Ghana s major eco culinary zones The work is based on several years of researching Ghanaian culinary history and cuisine including field work archival research and interdisciplinary investigation The political economy of Ghana is used as an analytical framework with which to investigate the following questions How are traditional food production structures in Ghana coping with global capitalist production distribution and consumption How do land climate and weather structure or provide the foundation for food consumption and how does that affect the separate traditional and capitalist production sectors Despite the post WWII food fight that launched Ghana s bid for independence from the British empire Ghana s story demonstrates the centrality of local foods and cooking to its national character The cultural weight of regional traditional foods their power to satisfy and the overall collective social emphasis on the proper meal have persisted in Ghana irrespective of centuries of trade with Europeans This book will be of interest to scholars in food studies comparative studies and African studies and is sure to capture the interest of students in new ways

Food and Identity in the Caribbean Hanna Garth, 2013-08-15 This compelling volume brings together original essays that explore the relationship between food and identity in everyday life in the Caribbean The Caribbean history of colonialism and migration has fostered a dynamic and diverse form of modernity which continues to transform with the impact of globalization and migration out of the Caribbean One of the founders of the anthropology of food Richard Wilk provides a preface to this exciting and interdisciplinary collection of essays offering insight into the real issues of food politics which contribute to the culinary cultures of the Caribbean Based on rich contemporary ethnographies the volume reveals the ways in which food carries symbolic meanings which are incorporated into the many different facets of identity experienced by people in the Caribbean Many of the chapters focus on the ways in which consumers align themselves with particular foods as a way of making claims about their identities Development and political and economic changes in the Caribbean bring new foods to the contemporary dinner table a phenomenon that may subsequently destabilize the foundations of culinary identities Food and Identity in the Caribbean reveals the ways in which some of the connections between food and identity persist against the odds whilst in other contexts new relationships between food and identity are forged

Transformations in History Toyin Falola, 2024-11-04 The book uses the main body of Lovejoy s work to speak to core African and economic history issues It thoroughly examines Lovejoy s contributions to the study of Africa particularly in exploring issues around production and exchanges at local regional and international levels The book offers readers a fresh perspective on the discourse of slavery and colonialism while simultaneously introducing them to the quality of work already accomplished by a stellar scholar As the book argues Lovejoy presents verifiable historical data that nudges us to reconsider our perception of Africa s growth trajectory especially before its encounter with the Americas A chapter examines the various ways by which the people experienced slavery before it became proliferated during the time Europeans entered into the business Another chapter addresses questions about the progressive efforts of slave traders to access the interior to drive more victims who would be shipped to the Atlantic for the business of servitude to advance the European economy Alongside this exploration a provides the background as to the contributions of Africans to ensure the continuity of this business Lovejoy notes for instance that Muslims were found in every region in the Americas during slavery which indicates that they were being taken there through transatlantic slavery While Muslims were found in these areas it was not true that they were there in large numbers This is underscored by their resistance to all forms of forced extraction of the people from their homeland In essence they challenged the system in ways that redefined their participation in the exercise The book analyzes how Muslims ensured that economic and political power were withdrawn from the hands of the victims and how they systematically created institutions that promoted that very inequity Lovejoy s
