Conference on Children and Death held in October November 1989 in Athens It was attended by over 500 participants from all over the world Performing the Body/Performing the Text Amelia Jones,Andrew Stephenson Nfa,Andrew

Stephenson,2005-08-12 This book explores the new performativity in art theory and practice examining ways of rethinking interpretive processes in visual culture Since the 1960s visual art practices from body art to minimalism have taken contemporary art outside the museum and gallery by embracing theatricality and performance and exploding the boundaries set by traditional art criticism The contributors argue that interpretation needs to be recognised as much more dynamic and contingent Offering its own performance script and embracing both canonical fine artists such as Manet De Kooning and Jasper Johns and performance artists such as Vito Acconci and Gunter Brus this book offers radical re readings of art works and points confidently towards new models for understanding art Writing with Deleuze in the Academy Stewart

Riddle,David Bright,Eileen Honan,2018-09-25 In this book authors working with Deleuzean theories in educational research in Australia and the United Kingdom grapple with how the academic writing machine might become less contained and bounded and instead be used to free impulses to generate different creations and connections The authors experiment with forms of writing that challenge the boundaries of academic language moving beyond the strictures of the scientific method that governs and controls what works and what counts to make language vibrate with a new intensity The authors construct monstrous creations full of vitality and fervor hybrid texts part academic part creative assemblages almost but perhaps not quite recognisable as research Stories that blur the lines between true and untrue re presentation and invention The contributors to this book hope that something might happen in its reading that some new connections might be made but also acknowledge the contingency of the encounter between text and reader and the impossibility of presuming to know what may be Desistance, Resistance, and Normalcy Tea Fredriksson,Robin Gålnander,2025-03-26 This book provides a nuanced critical analysis of desistance from crime particularly through the lens of women s experiences It develops desistance theory by interrogating the concept of normalcy highlighting how normative societal expectations cause harms on desistance journeys Through this lens the book uncovers tensions between desistance as a journey towards societal re integration and the resistance desisters experience when encountering state institutions and social norms. Being no longer part of the old life and not yet part of the new, desisters face both familiar and unfamiliar harms. A key conceptual contribution is the book's critique of normalcy as both an aspirational and oppressive goal. The work illustrates how the pursuit of mainstream inclusion can expose desisters to both new and continuous harms. These include surveillance and stigma, social and literal death, gendered violence, and economic precarity. By engaging with feminist and temporal criminological theories, the book sheds light on how desisters' experiences reveal the dark side of normalcy, calling into question whether its pursuit is wholly desirable. With its focus on the intersections of gender, stigma, and social control, this work advances academic debates on desistance, proposing a rethinking of how criminal justice systems and support frameworks engage with those transitioning out of criminalized lifestyles. It will appeal to students and scholars of criminology, desistance, gender studies, recovery from addiction, and to practitioners and policy makers in these fields.
