"Left Wing" Communism Vladimir Il'ich Lenin, 1921 Left-Wing Communism Lenin, 2012-11-04 Left communism is the range of communist viewpoints held by the communist left which criticizes the political ideas of the Bolsheviks at certain periods from a position that is asserted to be more authentically Marxist and proletarian than the views of Leninism held by the Communist International after its first and during its second congress Left communism first came into being as a clear movement in or around 1918 Its essential features were a stress on the need to build a communist party entirely separate from the reformist and centrist elements who were seen as having betrayed socialism in 1914 opposition to all but the most restricted participation in elections and an emphasis on the need for revolutionaries to move on the offensive Apart from that there was little in common between the various wings Only the Italians accepted the need for electoral work at all for a very short period of time which they later vehemently opposed attracting the wrath of Lenin attacking Bordiga in Left Wing Communism An Infantile Disorder Left Wing Communism Vladimir Ilyich Lenin, 2016-09-16 With this now classic work Lenin aimed to encapsulate the lessons the Bolshevik Party had learned from its involvement in three revolutions in 12 years in a manner that European Communists could relate to for it was to them he was speaking He also further develops the theory of what the dictatorship of the proletariat means and stresses that the primary danger for the working class movement in general is opportunism on the one hand and anti Marxist ultra leftism on the other Left Wing Communism an Infantile Disorder was written in April and the appendix was written on May 12 1920 It came out on June 8 10 in Russian and in July was published in German English and French Lenin gave personal attention to the book s type setting and printing schedule so that it would be published before the opening of the Second Congress of the Communist International each delegate receiving a copy Between July and November 1920 the book was re published in Leipzig Paris and London in the German French and English languages respectively Left Wing Communism an Infantile Disorder is published according to the first edition print the proofs of which were read by Lenin himself Left-Wing Communism, an Infantile Disorder Vladimir I. Lenin, 2008-03-01 This translation of V I Lenin s essay is taken from the text of the Collected Works of V I Lenin Vol 31 "Left Wing" Communism Vladimir Il'ich Lenin, 1920 "Left Wing" Communism V. I. Lenin, 2018-04-03 Left Wing Communism An Infantile Disorder is a work by Vladimir Lenin attacking assorted critics of the Bolsheviks who claimed positions to their left Most of these critics were proponents of ideologies later described as left communism The book was written in 1920 and published in Russian German English and French later in the year A copy was then distributed to each delegate at the 2nd World Congress of the Comintern several of whom were mentioned by Lenin in the work The present volume is a New Translation that was first published in the U S in 1940 and the UK in 1942 As with the earlier editions the book is divided into ten chapters and contains an appendix including a letter from David Wijnkoop on behalf of the Communist Party of Holland Left-wing Communism, an Infantile Disorder I. Lenin, VI, 2016-08-11 Lenin s famous

work explaining some of the international significance of the Russian Revolution He explains why communists should work in bourgeois parliaments and reactionary trade unions and in general exposes the left errors that arose in some of the new communist parties

Lenin,2024-04-26

The Bolsheviks led the workers to power in the October Revolution of 1917 To ensure its survival they grappled with the task of spreading the revolution beyond Russia Left Wing Communism An Infantile Disorder was written in 1920 to educate the newly formed communist parties of the Third International and to correct the ultra left sectarian trends that infected many of them Inspired by the Revolution and repelled by the betrayals of social democracy these communists had not absorbed the real lessons of Bolshevism The majority of workers still looked to reformist parties and needed to be won away from the influence of reformist leaders in these The task was to win them over to the banner of revolutionary communism In this text Lenin explains the methods and skilful tactics of the Bolshevik Party which enabled them to win over a majority of the workers to their programme Without this strategic brilliance there would have been no October Revolution Any serious revolutionary communist today must study absorb and apply Lenin s methods on these vital questions of revolutionary strategy and tactics
